Yankees Win, 3 To 1, To Even Series

Lefty Ed Lopat Allows Giants Only Five Hits

Irvin Gets Three Of Losers' Blows

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Casey Stengel's New York Yankees, gunning for a third straight World Series championship, got on the right track today behind the dependable pitching of Lefty Ed Lopat and turned back the Giants 3 to 1. This evened the series at one game each.

A crowd of 66,018 took in the game under clear skies and a summer-like temperature of 79 degrees at Yankee Stadium. They saw the American League champions score single runs in the first and second innings to lead all the way over the National Leaguers.

Lopat, who won 21 games while losing nine during the regular season, cooled off the Giant batsmen, allowing only five hits — three of them by the brilliant Monte Irvin. The losing pitcher was Larry Jansen, the Giants righthander star, who stacked up 23 victories against 11 defeats during the year.

Perfect Indian summer weather is forecast for tonight and tomorrow, when the third game is scheduled in the Giants' Polo Grounds lair, a couple of long stone throws Across the Harlem River from the stadium.

Hearn To Face Raschi

The weatherman said it would be even warmer tomorrow, with the high in the 80's. The next three games are at the Polo Grounds. The sixth and seventh, if necessary, return to the stadium.

Jim Hearn, who beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-1, in the first playoff game for the National League flag, Monday, is Manager Leo Durocher's choice for the third game. Stengel will go with Vic Raschi in the battle of righthanders. During the year, Hearn won 17 and lost nine while Raschi's record was 21-10.

A single by Gil McDougald in the first inning, preceded by two bunt singles and an error, gave the Yankees their first run today. In the second inning, Joe Collins hoisted a 310-foot homer into the lower right field stands to put the Yankees in front, 2-0. From that point until he was lifted in the top of the seventh for a pinch hitter, Jansen set 13 Yanks down in order.

Reliefer George Spencer came on in the last of the seventh and retired three more Yankees in a row after the Giants got their only tally in the top half of the inning.

Irvin Hitting At .778 Pace

Lopat singled home the third Yankee run himself to give the Yankees insurance in the bottom of the eighth. His blow came after a single by Bobby Brown and an infield out.

The Yankee pitcher was in serious trouble only once — in the seventh when Irvin led off with a single. Whitey Lockman lined a hit to center, but Irvin was held at second. Willie Mays bunted down the third base line, and Brown tossed to Phil Rizzuto for the force on Lockman at second.

After Westrum walked to load the bases, Billy Rigney came on to pinch-hit off Hank Thompson, and flied out to deep right field, Irvin scoring after the catch. Ray Noble batted for Jansen, and fouled to Catcher Yogi Berra for the third out.

Irvin, who has seven hits in nine trips to the plate in two games, is slugging at a sensational .778.

Mine Rescue National Champs

House Votes Defense Fund Of $56 Billion

New Weapons Talk Labeled "Fantastic"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The largest peacetime military appropriation bill in history was approved by the House today, making $94,000,000,000 available for preparedness this year.

The bill authorizes a defense budget of $56,937, 808,030. In addition about $37,000,000,000 carried over from previous years is available to the military. The House approved the bill by voice vote.

If the bill for the total available were shared equally, it would amount to about $600 for every man, woman and child in the country, or about $2,400 for every family of four persons.

Measure Goes To Senate

The measure now goes to the Senate where prompt approval seems assured. Both the House and Senate have approved the measure previously in different form, the present bill being a compromise.

Arguing for the bill, Chairman Mahon (D-Tex) of an Appropriations Defense subcommittee, told the House that recent statements about fantastic new weapons "are enirely too fantastic." He added that there is no easy and inexpensive road to victory in war.

President Truman has been among those officials who recently have talked of spectacular developments in military weapons.

And only today Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said in a speech at Los Angeles that the U. S. now has atomic weapons that can overcome any superiority an enemy may have in numbers of soldiers on the battlefield.

$20 Billion For Air Force

The bill would provide the Army $19,888,032,030; the Navy $15,877,-891,000; the Air Force $20,642,785,-000 an dth office of secretary of defense $529,100,000. Most of the money is for planes, tanks, guns and other weapons.

Mahon said that while the bill would make around $94,000,000,000 available to the military, only around $40,000,000,000 will be spent in the fiscal year ending next June. The explanation is that the Defense Department will be making some contracts heavy goods that won't be paid for in full until delivered after next June.

Probe Of Internal Revenue Service Spreads To Boston, New York And Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—A House investigation of alleged corruption and irregularities in the Internal Revenue Service fanned out today from St. Louis to Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

In a series of swift developments, a probing Ways and Means subcommittee:

1. Turned over to the Department of Justice, for "possible perjury prosecution," conflicting testimony about the relations of James P. Finnegan, resigned St. Louis revenue collector, with a St. Louis insurance broker.

TELLS OF TIEUP — Turney Gratz (above) tells a Senate investigations subcommittee that he was on the personal payroll of Democratic Chairman William Boyle, Jr., while he was employed by the RFC on a job "in no way or shape" related to loan activities. (AP Wirephoto)

2. Heard testimony from Hugh Finnegan that both he and James P. Finnegan, his brother, received money from a New York insurance firm in connection with transactions involving Denis W. Delaney, former collector of internaal revenue at Boston and now under indictment.

Deputy Commissioner Resigns

3. Received further testimony form Hugh Finnegan that Collector Francis R. Smith of Philadelphia was approached by the same New York firm on insurance matters but that he refused to have any part of the proposal.

The committee also received from Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap announcement of the immediate resignation of Deputy Commissioner Carroll E. Mealey, head of the alcohol tax unit, for reasons of health.

Before adjourning the hearings until next Tuesday, King discussed the testimony to date and said: "We have seen enough to indicate that we are dealing with a scheme that was intended to embrace more than just a single collector's office, and that had begun to spread across the nation when it was frustrated."

Insurance Agency Head Quizzed

King also made clear that the injection of Smith's name into the hearings was not to be taken as any indication the Philadelphia collector "has conducted himself improperly."

Throughout most of the day-long hearing, the committee quizzed John Martin Brodsky, head of the Dudmar insurance agency in St. Louis, who witnesses said paid Collector Finnigan $6,193 through 1949 and 1950 as attorney fees.

It was when Brodsky was excused, after characterizing previous testimony as "lies," that King announced he was sending the transcript of the hearings to the Justice Department for possible perjury action.

United Nations Forces Chase Retreating Foe

Chinese Abandon Vital Hill Mass

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP)—U. S. Third Division infantrymen broke the main Communist line in West-Central Korea and advanced unopposed today against retreating Chinese Reds.

Maj. Gen. Robert Soule, division commander, said the four-day-old Allied offensive by 100,000 troops of nine nations had penetrated the main Red defenses northwest of Chorwon.

His troops credited with inflicting 1,205 Red casualties in the first two days, moved without opposition toward a vital hill mass from which the Chinese pulled out hastily last night, a pooled dispatch said.

The hill mass strengthens Allied control of the Seoul-Chrowon-Kumhwa rail line, a vital front line supply artery.

"Undoubtedly the division hit the main Communist line," Soule told correspondents.

Five Key Points Seized

Eighth Army headquarters said five "key terrain features" fell Friday to the U. S. First Cavalry and Third Divisions and the British Commonwealth Division in West and West-Central Korea.

Two were seized by the First Cavarly northwest of Yonchon, a highway town 35 miles north of Seoul.

Two others were captured by the Third Division northwest of Chorwon, "iron triangle" town 47 miles northwest of Seoul.

The fifth high point, presumably taken by the British, was not specified in today's Eighth Army communique.

Elements of the British Commonwealth Division, opearting on the Third Division's left flank, met stiff opposition west of Yonchon. Last night two Red companies counterattacked and forced the Commonwealth units to make a slight withdrawal.

Several Red counterattacks were repulsed in Western Korea Friday.

Off Eastern Korea, Allied warships gave the seaport city of Hungnam its heaviest shelling since United Nations forces pulled out of that port last December.

Air War Flares Anew

On the bloody east-central front, Allied armored patrols swept beyond the forbidding crags of "Heartbreak Ridge" to a point 22 miles north of parallel 38. Censorship hitherto had prevented mention of how far into Red Korea U. N. forces had battled in that sector.

On "Heartbreak Ridge" itself, U. S. and French troops early today captured 3,000-foot peak in an assault employing flame-throwers and demolition charges.

The air war in far Northwest Korea flared anew Friday with three jet dogfights involving 220 planes--the largest number of jet fighters reported engaged in a day.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported one Russia-type MIG-15 jet shot down and two damaged. The Fifth said no U. S. jets were lost in the first two battles, but didn't report the outcome of the third.

18 Feared Dead As Ship Breaks, Sinks In Atlantic

Seven Are Picked Up With One Dying Later

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Oct. 5 (AP)—A 3,325-ton freighter, carrying 24 crewmen, cracked in two and sank in the hurricane-churned Atlantic early today. By nightfall, seven survivors and five bodies had been picked up. One of the survivors died.

One Coast Guard officer said there was little possibility any more crew members would be found alive. The Coast Guard officer set the crew figure at 24. Earlier it had been established that at least 23 men were aboard.

Planes To Resume Search

Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force planes, aided by three merchant ships, combed a 60-mile circle for the missing crewmen. The planes were called in at dusk and will resume the search tomorrow. The merchant ships are staying in the area through the night.

One of the ships, the Florence Luckenbach, reported that it had picked up one body and part of another. The ship said several bodies were seen being eaten by sharks.

Late this afternoon a Coast Guard search plane reported it had sighted "four or five" bodies. A merchant ship, not identified, was instructed to take the bodies aboard.

So far, 12 of the 24 crewmen have been accounted for.

Men Believed Trapped

One merchant ship, the Charlotte Lykes, radioed that it was likely that many of the missing men had been trapped in their bunks when the ship went down at 5 a. m. (EST) about 200 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras. The 314-foot Southern Isles, a converted LST (landing ship, tank), was bound from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Chester, Pa., with a cargo of iron ore.

The Coast Guard said a heavy sea swell probably had snapped the Southern Isles amidships.

Stalin Says Soviet Atom Bomb Tested

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP) — Soviet Prime Minister Stalin said in an interview Russia recently exploded another atomic bomb and promised there will be more to come, the Moscow radio declared early today.

The radio broadcast the interview Stalin gave to Pravda, official newspaper of the Russian Communist Party. It quoted him as having said:

"Tests on atom bombs of various calibers will be made in the future under the plan of the defense of our country from attacks from the British-American aggressive bloc."

Stalin also was quoted as having said that although Russia want atomic bombs prohibited, the United States "will use the atom bomb" in "the event of a United States attack on our country." He added that is why Russia is building up its atomic defense.

Stalin's statement followed by only three days an announcement by President Truman in Washington that the United States had information the Soviet Union had recently exploded a second atomic bomb.

Army Enlisted Reservists Due Home By Dec. 20

500,000 Married Men Will Be Reclassified

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department disclosed today a plan for releasing most World War II enlisted reservists, now serving involuntarily, by next Christmas.

At the same time Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, announced draft boards will start reclassifying about 500,000 childless married men next week.

Hershey said possibly 200,000 of these men will be classified 1-A, eligible for service. President Truman issued new regulations last week making married men subject to draft if they are childless. Heretofore they have been in class 3-A, eligible for deferment.

Mrs. Rosenberg Reveals Plan

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, disclosed the Army plan to release involuntary reservists by next Dec. 20.

Only the enlisted reservists will be affected. Officers generally will serve the full 17 months allowed under present law.

She said in a letter to Congress that the Army previously had planned to release both inactive and volunteer reservists not later than next January 1. But unless the military situation changes she said it will be possible to get these enlisted men back home by Christmas.

The Air Force plans to release its enlisted, volunteer reservists after 12 months. Most officers will serve all, or almost all, of the 17 months permitted by law, Mrs. Rosenberg wrote.

The Navy is releasing enlisted men of the reserve after about 15 months duty, Mrs. Rosenberg said.

Marine Schedule Announced

The Marine Corps had announced a schedule for releasing its inactive and volunteer reserves, both enlisted men and officers. Mrs. Rosenberg said Marines assigned to active duty before last June 30 will be released by next June, in most cases. The average service will be about 14 months, she estimated.

A Marine Corps announcement said the release of its reservists from active duty will make the rebuilding of its organized reserve possible. This rebuilding will start immediately with revival of the Second Infantry Battalion in Boston. The second unit to be reactivated will be the First Engineer Field Maintenance Company in Baltimore, Md.

Gratz Worked For Boyle, RFC At Same Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Turney Gratz acknowledged to Senate investigators today that during four of the years he worked for the RFC he was also on the personal payroll of Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr.

Gratz, an old political friend of Boyle's, testified the party chief paid him a total of $11,000 from 1946 to 1949 for "looking after" Boyle's financial affairs in his spare time.

During all that period, Gratz said, he was employed full time in the rubber reserve division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Never at any time," Gratz declared, did he attempt to influence RFC loan decision or send any loan applicants to Boyle as clients.

Gabrielson Defended

The Senate's investigations subcommittee returned to Boyle's affairs after a two-day probe of the relations of Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson with the RFC.

This morning the investigators heard Harvey J. Gunderson swear that he did not allow Gabrielson to boom him for the presidency of the New York Stock Exchange until after he had given up his post as an RFC director.

Gabrielson was criticized before the committee yesterday for recommending Gunderson for the exchange post while the Gabrielson's gas refining company owed the RFC $18,500,000.

Final Scheduled Witness

Gratz was the final scheduled witness in the Boyle inquiry.

Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said he has no more witnesses on tap in either case and intends to call none unless there are new developments warranting it.

The subcommittee's next step would be an official report to the Senate, expressing its views on the relations of the two party chiefs with the big government loan agency.

Conferees Slash Tax On Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Congressional tax conferees agreed today to cut the tax on smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco and snuff from 18 to 10 cents a pound, and to end a previously agreed upon penny-a-pack increase in the cigaret tax Jan. 1, 1954.

Although the Senate-House conference committee adjusting differences in the multi-billion dollar revenue bill got together on 52 disputed provisions in the course of an all-day session, most of these were simply technical and little hope was held out for final agreement before the middle of next week.

Members were summoned to a Saturday session to speed the work.

These were among today's principal decisions:

To forgive the income taxes of members of the armed forces who are killed in combat zones or die of injuries received there. A similar provision was in effect during World War II.

To require state colleges and universities to pay regular corporation taxes on business enterprises unrelated to the regular work of the otherwise tax-exempt institutions.

U. S. Stands Pat On China Issues

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson today barred any dickering with Red China on three major diplomatic issues in connection with the Korean truce talks.

Setting forth a summary of American policy, Acheson said the United States is standing pat against—

1. Recognition of Red China.
2. Admission of the Peiping regime into the United Nations.
3. Turning over Formosa to Communist China.

Acheson said the United States is "firmly opposed to any linkage between an armistice in Korea" and those issues.

"We do not, for our part, consider that an armistice in Korea, if such should eventuate, would be cause for modification of these policies," he said.

Acheson presented his views in a letter to Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) in reply to Smith's request for the information.

Smith read the letter into the record as Ambassador - at - Large Philip C. Jessup concluded his two-day testimony before a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee.

The subcommittee is weighing President Truman's nomination of Jessup as a delegate to the United Nations.

Plans To Transfer Aluminum Plants East Are Dropped

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson today announced the abandonment, for the time being, of studies on the removal of aluminum production lines from the Pacific northwest.

Recent rainfall has so improved the power supply in the northwest as to make a shift of aluminum production "uneconomical at this time," Wilson said.

The decision was made public in a brief statement two weeks after the mobilization chief asked major aluminum producers to report on the cost and feasibility of moving part of the industry to the Ohio River area or elsewhere. Since then, heavy rains have broken a drought which began in April, and reduced water levels in the Columbia basin dangerously.

New Subs Authorized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—House approval sent to the White House today a bill authorizing the Navy to spend $49,000,000 on two experimental submarines now under construction.

Armed Forces Pay Hike Asked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department asked Congress today for a flat 10 per cent pay raise for all the armed forces, from privates on up.

Secretary of Defense Lovett said there has been a steady rise in the cost of living since the last pay raise two years ago, and another increase is urgent.

He added that the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates living costs have gone up about 9.4 per cent for families of moderate incomes in large cities. The raise would be in base pay and in living allowances.

As a further argument Secretary Lovett told Congress a 10 per cent pay raise would place military salaries more in line with those of civilian government employes, who have had recent cost of living raises.

Lovett told House Speaker Sam Rayburn in a letter that the raises should date back to last July 1.

"Children Preferred" Rent Ad Brings Out 160 Families

GEORGIAVILLE, R. I., Oct. 5 (AP)—All you have to do to start a stampede is advertise in a newspaper that you have a house for rent and add two words—"children preferred."

That's what Miss Agnes Ethier said today. "I could have sold hot dogs, I think."

In two days 160 families drove to this village to try to get the house for themselves and their children. At one time there were cars in the yard with number plates issued by New Hampshire, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

Said William Riley, who runs a gasoline station on the main road: "I was reciting directions all day long. At first I couldn't understand why. I was just nosey enough to ask a gentleman and he told me. That's Miss Ethier all right. Caused quite a sensation, I can tell you. She's a good lady, God bless her."

Miss Ethier loves children. She sees about 250 of them a day as teacher at Hope High School in Providence.

Her brother, teacher at Rhode Island College of Education, has four children.

"In the long run," he said, "it pays to have families with children. They tend to be more human, less selfish and, because of that, better tenants. That makes up for their being harder on the house."

Bradley Will Visit Greece And Turkey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley will leave for Greece and Turkey Sunday to explain the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to those two countries.

The trip by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff follows the recent recommendation by the NATO council that the two Eastern Mediterranean nations be admitted to membership.

Survey Results Awaited By Taft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Sen. Taft of Ohio said today he will decide whether to run for the Republican presidential nomination only after he has studied a national "sentiment" survey being made by two associates.

He has asked for a final report on this study next Wednesday. How soon his decision will come after that is not known. The betting on Capitol Hill is that he will make his third bid for a nomination which went to others on his two tries in 1940 and 1948.

On the Democratic side, three officers of the 450,000-member Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union (AFL) visited President Truman and asked that he run again.

Union President Hugo Ernst and his associates reported that Mr. Truman told them he had one or two things he had to take care of before he could make any announcement.

Taft said today he has not wished to be a candidate unless he is convinced that "a majority of the Republicans really want me to run."

Wholesale Prices Go Up As Food Leads Way

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Wholesale prices rose 0.3 per cent during the week ended October 2, largely because of advances in farm proudcts and foods.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the wholesale price index last Tuesday was 177.2 per cent of the 1926 average. That was 4.7 per cent above a year ago and 12.9 per cent above the pre-Korea index.

Farm products were up 0.3 per cent, with advances for most grains, cottons, eggs, apples, and milk.

Foods were up 0.5 per cent, lead by meat, butter, cocoa, beans and lard.

Barbara Payton Summoned To Gangland Slaying Probe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—Barbara Payton, the blonde with a penchant for the limelight, has received a summons to tell a federal grand jury what she might know about the 1950 gangland slaying of Narcotics Informer Abe Davidian.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Ray H. Kinnison said today the actress was served with a subpoena ordering her to appear before the grand jury Oct. 18. She was in New York today and left for Raleigh, N. C.

The summons for Barbara came as she barely started housekeeping for Franchot Tone. She and Tone were married in Minnesota last week after the latter had recuperated from his beating at the hands of Tom Neal in the widely publicized battle on Barbara's patio.

Kinnison said an inquiry is being reopened into the million dollar narcotics ring operating in California up until the fatal shooting of Davidian in Fresno Feb. 28, 1950. Without his testimony the government's case collapsed and charges were dismissed against Adams and 14 others.

Among those questioned was another of the defendants, Stanley W. Adams of Inverness, Calif. Adams told officers he was at Miss Payton's apartment, with Actor Don Cougar, the day Davidian was slain. He added that he went to a Sunset Boulevard barber shop. Three barbers denied this, but Miss Payton and Cougar testified they had seen him that day. The jury convicted Adams of perjury, and he is serving time. Cougar is also in jail, serving a year for possessing marijuana.

King also made clear that the injection of Smith's name into the hearings was not to be taken as any indication the Philadelphia collector "has conducted himself improperly."

Throughout most of the day-long hearing, the committee quizzed John Martin Brodsky, head of the Dudmar insurance agency in St. Louis, who witnesses said paid Collector Finnigan $6,193 through 1949 and 1950 as attorney fees.

It was when Brodsky was excused, after characterizing previous testimony as "lies," that King announced he was sending the transcript of the hearings to the Justice Department for possible perjury action.

United Nations Forces Chase Retreating Foe

Chinese Abandon Vital Hill Mass

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP)—U. S. Third Division infantrymen broke the main Communist line in West-Central Korea and advanced unopposed today against retreating Chinese Reds.

Maj. Gen. Robert Soule, division commander, said the four-day-old Allied offensive by 100,000 troops of nine nations had penetrated the main Red defenses northwest of Chorwon.

His troops credited with inflicting 1,205 Red casualties in the first two days, moved without opposition toward a vital hill mass from which the Chinese pulled out hastily last night, a pooled dispatch said.

The hill mass strengthens Allied control of the Seoul-Chrowon-Kumhwa rail line, a vital front line supply artery.

"Undoubtedly the division hit the main Communist line," Soule told correspondents.

Five Key Points Seized

Eighth Army headquarters said five "key terrain features" fell Friday to the U. S. First Cavalry and Third Divisions and the British Commonwealth Division in West and West-Central Korea.

Two were seized by the First Cavarly northwest of Yonchon, a highway town 35 miles north of Seoul.

Two others were captured by the Third Division northwest of Chorwon, "iron triangle" town 47 miles northwest of Seoul.

The fifth high point, presumably taken by the British, was not specified in today's Eighth Army communique.

Elements of the British Commonwealth Division, opearting on the Third Division's left flank, met stiff opposition west of Yonchon. Last night two Red companies counterattacked and forced the Commonwealth units to make a slight withdrawal.

Several Red counterattacks were repulsed in Western Korea Friday.

Off Eastern Korea, Allied warships gave the seaport city of Hungnam its heaviest shelling since United Nations forces pulled out of that port last December.

Air War Flares Anew

On the bloody east-central front, Allied armored patrols swept beyond the forbidding crags of "Heartbreak Ridge" to a point 22 miles north of parallel 38. Censorship hitherto had prevented mention of how far into Red Korea U. N. forces had battled in that sector.

On "Heartbreak Ridge" itself, U. S. and French troops early today captured 3,000-foot peak in an assault employing flame-throwers and demolition charges.

The air war in far Northwest Korea flared anew Friday with three jet dogfights involving 220 planes--the largest number of jet fighters reported engaged in a day.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported one Russia-type MIG-15 jet shot down and two damaged. The Fifth said no U. S. jets were lost in the first two battles, but didn't report the outcome of the third.

18 Feared Dead As Ship Breaks, Sinks In Atlantic

Seven Are Picked Up With One Dying Later

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Oct. 5 (AP)—A 3,325-ton freighter, carrying 24 crewmen, cracked in two and sank in the hurricane-churned Atlantic early today. By nightfall, seven survivors and five bodies had been picked up. One of the survivors died.

One Coast Guard officer said there was little possibility any more crew members would be found alive. The Coast Guard officer set the crew figure at 24. Earlier it had been established that at least 23 men were aboard.

Planes To Resume Search

Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force planes, aided by three merchant ships, combed a 60-mile circle for the missing crewmen. The planes were called in at dusk and will resume the search tomorrow. The merchant ships are staying in the area through the night.

One of the ships, the Florence Luckenbach, reported that it had picked up one body and part of another. The ship said several bodies were seen being eaten by sharks.

Late this afternoon a Coast Guard search plane reported it had sighted "four or five" bodies. A merchant ship, not identified, was instructed to take the bodies aboard.

So far, 12 of the 24 crewmen have been accounted for.

Men Believed Trapped

One merchant ship, the Charlotte Lykes, radioed that it was likely that many of the missing men had been trapped in their bunks when the ship went down at 5 a. m. (EST) about 200 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras. The 314-foot Southern Isles, a converted LST (landing ship, tank), was bound from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Chester, Pa., with a cargo of iron ore.

The Coast Guard said a heavy sea swell probably had snapped the Southern Isles amidships.

Stalin Says Soviet Atom Bomb Tested

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP) — Soviet Prime Minister Stalin said in an interview Russia recently exploded another atomic bomb and promised there will be more to come, the Moscow radio declared early today.

The radio broadcast the interview Stalin gave to Pravda, official newspaper of the Russian Communist Party. It quoted him as having said:

"Tests on atom bombs of various calibers will be made in the future under the plan of the defense of our country from attacks from the British-American aggressive bloc."

Stalin also was quoted as having said that although Russia want atomic bombs prohibited, the United States "will use the atom bomb" in "the event of a United States attack on our country." He added that is why Russia is building up its atomic defense.

Stalin's statement followed by only three days an announcement by President Truman in Washington that the United States had information the Soviet Union had recently exploded a second atomic bomb.

Armed Forces Pay Hike Asked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department asked Congress today for a flat 10 per cent pay raise for all the armed forces, from privates on up.

Secretary of Defense Lovett said there has been a steady rise in the cost of living since the last pay raise two years ago, and another increase is urgent.

He added that the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates living costs have gone up about 9.4 per cent for families of moderate incomes in large cities. The raise would be in base pay and in living allowances.

As a further argument Secretary Lovett told Congress a 10 per cent pay raise would place military salaries more in line with those of civilian government employes, who have had recent cost of living raises.

Lovett told House Speaker Sam Rayburn in a letter that the raises should date back to last July 1.

Army Enlisted Reservists Due Home By Dec. 20

500,000 Married Men Will Be Reclassified

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department disclosed today a plan for releasing most World War II enlisted reservists, now serving involuntarily, by next Christmas.

At the same time Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, announced draft boards will start reclassifying about 500,000 childless married men next week.

Hershey said possibly 200,000 of these men will be classified 1-A, eligible for service. President Truman issued new regulations last week making married men subject to draft if they are childless. Heretofore they have been in class 3-A, eligible for deferment.

Mrs. Rosenberg Reveals Plan

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, disclosed the Army plan to release involuntary reservists by next Dec. 20.

Only the enlisted reservists will be affected. Officers generally will serve the full 17 months allowed under present law.

She said in a letter to Congress that the Army previously had planned to release both inactive and volunteer reservists not later than next January 1. But unless the military situation changes she said it will be possible to get these enlisted men back home by Christmas.

The Air Force plans to release its enlisted, volunteer reservists after 12 months. Most officers will serve all, or almost all, of the 17 months permitted by law, Mrs. Rosenberg wrote.

The Navy is releasing enlisted men of the reserve after about 15 months duty, Mrs. Rosenberg said.

Marine Schedule Announced

The Marine Corps had announced a schedule for releasing its inactive and volunteer reserves, both enlisted men and officers. Mrs. Rosenberg said Marines assigned to active duty before last June 30 will be released by next June, in most cases. The average service will be about 14 months, she estimated.

A Marine Corps announcement said the release of its reservists from active duty will make the rebuilding of its organized reserve possible. This rebuilding will start immediately with revival of the Second Infantry Battalion in Boston. The second unit to be reactivated will be the First Engineer Field Maintenance Company in Baltimore, Md.

Survey Results Awaited By Taft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Sen. Taft of Ohio said today he will decide whether to run for the Republican presidential nomination only after he has studied a national "sentiment" survey being made by two associates.

He has asked for a final report on this study next Wednesday. How soon his decision will come after that is not known. The betting on Capitol Hill is that he will make his third bid for a nomination which went to others on his two tries in 1940 and 1948.

On the Democratic side, three officers of the 450,000-member Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union (AFL) visited President Truman and asked that he run again.

Union President Hugo Ernst and his associates reported that Mr. Truman told them he had one or two things he had to take care of before he could make any announcement.

Taft said today he has not wished to be a candidate unless he is convinced that "a majority of the Republicans really want me to run."

Gratz Worked For Boyle, RFC At Same Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Turney Gratz acknowledged to Senate investigators today that during four of the years he worked for the RFC he was also on the personal payroll of Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr.

Gratz, an old political friend of Boyle's, testified the party chief paid him a total of $11,000 from 1946 to 1949 for "looking after" Boyle's financial affairs in his spare time.

During all that period, Gratz said, he was employed full time in the rubber reserve division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Never at any time," Gratz declared, did he attempt to influence RFC loan decision or send any loan applicants to Boyle as clients.

Gabrielson Defended

The Senate's investigations subcommittee returned to Boyle's affairs after a two-day probe of the relations of Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson with the RFC.

This morning the investigators heard Harvey J. Gunderson swear that he did not allow Gabrielson to boom him for the presidency of the New York Stock Exchange until after he had given up his post as an RFC director.

Gabrielson was criticized before the committee yesterday for recommending Gunderson for the exchange post while the Gabrielson's gas refining company owed the RFC $18,500,000.

Final Scheduled Witness

Gratz was the final scheduled witness in the Boyle inquiry.

Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said he has no more witnesses on tap in either case and intends to call none unless there are new developments warranting it.

The subcommittee's next step would be an official report to the Senate, expressing its views on the relations of the two party chiefs with the big government loan agency.

Conferees Slash Tax On Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Congressional tax conferees agreed today to cut the tax on smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco and snuff from 18 to 10 cents a pound, and to end a previously agreed upon penny-a-pack increase in the cigaret tax Jan. 1, 1954.

Although the Senate-House conference committee adjusting differences in the multi-billion dollar revenue bill got together on 52 disputed provisions in the course of an all-day session, most of these were simply technical and little hope was held out for final agreement before the middle of next week.

Members were summoned to a Saturday session to speed the work.

These were among today's principal decisions:

To forgive the income taxes of members of the armed forces who are killed in combat zones or die of injuries received there. A similar provision was in effect during World War II.

To require state colleges and universities to pay regular corporation taxes on business enterprises unrelated to the regular work of the otherwise tax-exempt institutions.

U. S. Stands Pat On China Issues

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson today barred any dickering with Red China on three major diplomatic issues in connection with the Korean truce talks.

Setting forth a summary of American policy, Acheson said the United States is standing pat against—

1. Recognition of Red China.
2. Admission of the Peiping regime into the United Nations.
3. Turning over Formosa to Communist China.

Acheson said the United States is "firmly opposed to any linkage between an armistice in Korea" and those issues.

"We do not, for our part, consider that an armistice in Korea, if such should eventuate, would be cause for modification of these policies," he said.

Acheson presented his views in a letter to Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) in reply to Smith's request for the information.

Smith read the letter into the record as Ambassador - at - Large Philip C. Jessup concluded his two-day testimony before a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee.

The subcommittee is weighing President Truman's nomination of Jessup as a delegate to the United Nations.

Plans To Transfer Aluminum Plants East Are Dropped

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson today announced the abandonment, for the time being, of studies on the removal of aluminum production lines from the Pacific northwest.

Recent rainfall has so improved the power supply in the northwest as to make a shift of aluminum production "uneconomical at this time," Wilson said.

The decision was made public in a brief statement two weeks after the mobilization chief asked major aluminum producers to report on the cost and feasibility of moving part of the industry to the Ohio River area or elsewhere. Since then, heavy rains have broken a drought which began in April, and reduced water levels in the Columbia basin dangerously.

New Subs Authorized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—House approval sent to the White House today a bill authorizing the Navy to spend $49,000,000 on two experimental submarines now under construction.

"Children Preferred" Rent Ad Brings Out 160 Families

GEORGIAVILLE, R. I., Oct. 5 (AP)—All you have to do to start a stampede is advertise in a newspaper that you have a house for rent and add two words—"children preferred."

That's what Miss Agnes Ethier said today. "I could have sold hot dogs, I think."

In two days 160 families drove to this village to try to get the house for themselves and their children. At one time there were cars in the yard with number plates issued by New Hampshire, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

Said William Riley, who runs a gasoline station on the main road: "I was reciting directions all day long. At first I couldn't understand why. I was just nosey enough to ask a gentleman and he told me. That's Miss Ethier all right. Caused quite a sensation, I can tell you. She's a good lady, God bless her."

Miss Ethier loves children. She sees about 250 of them a day as teacher at Hope High School in Providence.

Her brother, teacher at Rhode Island College of Education, has four children.

"In the long run," he said, "it pays to have families with children. They tend to be more human, less selfish and, because of that, better tenants. That makes up for their being harder on the house."

Bradley Will Visit Greece And Turkey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley will leave for Greece and Turkey Sunday to explain the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to those two countries.

The trip by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff follows the recent recommendation by the NATO council that the two Eastern Mediterranean nations be admitted to membership.

Wholesale Prices Go Up As Food Leads Way

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Wholesale prices rose 0.3 per cent during the week ended October 2, largely because of advances in farm proudcts and foods.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the wholesale price index last Tuesday was 177.2 per cent of the 1926 average. That was 4.7 per cent above a year ago and 12.9 per cent above the pre-Korea index.

Farm products were up 0.3 per cent, with advances for most grains, cottons, eggs, apples, and milk.

Foods were up 0.5 per cent, lead by meat, butter, cocoa, beans and lard.

Barbara Payton Summoned To Gangland Slaying Probe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—Barbara Payton, the blonde with a penchant for the limelight, has received a summons to tell a federal grand jury what she might know about the 1950 gangland slaying of Narcotics Informer Abe Davidian.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Ray H. Kinnison said today the actress was served with a subpoena ordering her to appear before the grand jury Oct. 18. She was in New York today and left for Raleigh, N. C.

The summons for Barbara came as she barely started housekeeping for Franchot Tone. She and Tone were married in Minnesota last week after the latter had recuperated from his beating at the hands of Tom Neal in the widely publicized battle on Barbara's patio.

Kinnison said an inquiry is being reopened into the million dollar narcotics ring operating in California up until the fatal shooting of Davidian in Fresno Feb. 28, 1950. Without his testimony the government's case collapsed and charges were dismissed against Adams and 14 others.

Among those questioned was another of the defendants, Stanley W. Adams of Inverness, Calif. Adams told officers he was at Miss Payton's apartment, with Actor Don Cougar, the day Davidian was slain. He added that he went to a Sunset Boulevard barber shop. Three barbers denied this, but Miss Payton and Cougar testified they had seen him that day. The jury convicted Adams of perjury, and he is serving time. Cougar is also in jail, serving a year for possessing marijuana.

To sell yourself and hold others' interest, avoid trite and repetitive Words. Try these suggestions.

SECRETS OF CHARM

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

As Somerset Maugham pithily commented, "If nobody spoke unless he had something to say, the human race would very soon lose the use of speech." But even the dullest conversation would sound less vapid and repetitious if more people would take the trouble to vary the words in which they couch their vocalized expressions.

Your Unused Reserve

In the course of an ordinary schooling, the modern American is exposed to 25,000 words. Yet, an expert states that most people use no more than 1,000 of them in daily conversation. No wonder so many conversations sound like something you've heard over and over and over, again and again.

To sell your ideas and yourself, you must be able to hold the interest of others. People even doubt your own interest in what you are saying when your words and phrases are trite and recited like a refrain.

Almost everyone uses more words when writing than when talking. That's sufficient proof that the death of word sparkle in conversations is the result of laziness and carelessness. Anyone can reach into his personal pack of words and pick out dozens that have been lying there unuttered for years — good words, too.

Now, I'm not making any plea for "elegant variations" in words. That kind of self-consciousness saps the sincerity of what you say faster than anything else.

An Easy Start

Just start making an effort to state exactly what you mean or think. That will put more words to work for you than anything else you can do. It can't be done with generalities, and so you will feel the need of more and more words and constantly find yourself reaching for them. Vagueness will no longer satisfy you; any indefiniteness in your conversation will spur you on toward making new and more specific words part of your working vocabulary.

In your word-recruiting campaign and your eagerness to expand, be sure that you're never tempted to use any word unless you are sure of its precise meaning. Look it up before you claim it as one of your own. And never resort to strange, self-conscious or obsolete words that might confound others. Keep your words exact, colorful, and current and the power and persuasion of what you say will grow and grow!

First Offenders Won't Get Off, Harris Warns

Prior to passing sentence on two men yesterday in Circuit Court, notice was served by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris that in the future persons brought before him who are first offenders will not be dealt with lightly if the crimes they have committed are serious ones.

Judge Harris said it seems to be generally felt by many persons that first offenders will get off gently with either a parole or suspended sentence.

"This is not true," Judge Harris declared. "From now on any person who is convicted of a serious offense will be dealt with accordingly."

In the case of John B. Powell, this city, the court imposed a five-year suspended sentence in the House of Correction with more than a dozen strings attached.

Powell, who was convicted of stealing a diamond ring from his divorced first wife, and passing six bad checks, was told by Judge Harris that he must make restitution, pay the pawnbroker for money obtained on the ring; abstain from alcoholic beverages, be of good behavior, do not drive or own a car, assign his paycheck to pay off approximately $4,000 in debts, not purchase anything on credit, work regularly, report to the parole officer, not to remarry until the $4,000 is paid off, stay away from his first wife, and stay away from his present wife from whom he is estranged.

Judge Harris commented Powell had not committed any vicious or violent crime but has a bad record pertaining to paying his bills and also in passing bogus checks.

"The court believes he may be rehabilitated, and in view of this will take that chance," the court stated.

Any infraction will result in Powell being sent to the House of Correction, the court warned.

Fred M. Probst, of Bowman's Addition, was given a suspended sentence of three years in the House of Correction on his conviction for receiving stolen goods. He was involved in the case in which a number of men stole tires from the warehouse of a local transportation company.

Propst was warned to be of good behavior, attend church regularly and abstain from alcohol.

Garrett Board Suspends Eight Beer Permits

The eight holders of beer licenses in Garrett County who pleaded guilty to having liquor in their possession for the purpose of selling it were notified by mail yesterday of the suspencion of their permits, it was unofficially reported in Garrett County Circuit Court House circles at Oakland.

The Garrett County commissioners' office said letters informing eight tavern operators of the action of the board, which sat twice this week as a board of license commissioners, were placed in the mail Thursday night.

Those facing the board's action are C. G. and E. W. Railey, J. Phillips Thayer, C. M. Savage, Oswald and Gladys Vanucci, all of Deep Creek Lake; Lee and Hazel McRobie, of Vindex; Roy H. Zehner, Lloyd A. Wagner and William Wagner, all of Grantsville.

They all had pleaded guilty in Circuit Court last month and were fined by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

W. Va. Man Dies In Truck Crash

One man was killed and two others injured yesterday when a large truck loaded with empty chicken coops went out of control and crashed into a chicker house about four miles from Moorefield, W. Va., on Route 220.

Cpl. C. S. Hamrick of the State Police detachment at Moorefield, identified the dead man as John Ford, Negro, of Moorefield. Listed as very seriously injured is Solomon Gaither, of Petersburg, W. Va., driver of the truck, and Ellis "Dutch" Redman, of Moorefield, was also injured.

The two injured men were taken to a hospital in Harrisonburg, Va., by ambulance.

The truck is owned by David VanMeter, who operates the Cumberland Poultry Company. State Police believe the three men, all employes of Van Meter, were returning from delivering a cargo of chickens when the crash occurred.

Cpl. Hamrick said the truck went around a sharp curve, veered to the right of the road, sheared off a telephone pole and then crashed into a chicken house just off the highway. The chicken house is owned by Ward Lambert. The truck practically demolished the large chicken house. Ford was killed instantly.

The Newspaperboy

While today will be rather widely observed the significance of the day will be restricted to a great degree to a comparatively small group of people, those in the newspaper business.

Despite this, the recipient of today's honors is of the utmost importance to millions of Americans. He is your newspaperboy, the youngster who helps the newspapers of the United States light the way of freedom.

During this week, observed nationally as National Newspaper Week, the newspapers of America have adopted the theme, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

The newspaperboy makes sure that you get your daily copy of the light of freedom.

Perhaps the reader of a newspaper is not quite aware of the tremendous part the newspaperboy plays in the daily dissemination of information.

In a town the size of Cumberland, the newspaperboy, that youngster who lives just up the street, is responsible for delivering, in round numbers, 75 per cent of the daily copies of The Cumberland News.

His is a responsible job. He gets up early in the morning, winter or summer, despite weather conditions, to make sure that your newspaper is on your doorstep when you want it. He does his best to make sure your paper is not damaged by rain or snow by delivering it to a point protected from the elements.

One day a week, after school hours, when other youngsters are perhaps enjoying themselves playing baseball or football or taking in a movie, your newspaperboy has another job to do. That is his task of collecting from his customers.

To keep from disturbing you in the early hours of the day, your newspaperboy "knocks off" from childhood pleasures later on to collect his bill from you, the reader.

Your newspaperboy of today is truly the businessman of tomorrow. And he is getting excellent training for his future responsibilities.

He is, in fact, a young businessman. He, himself, buys his papers daily and pays for them with the profits he derives from selling them to his customers. He builds up his daily route and it is up to him to satisfy his customers so that they continue to buy from him and make his small venture possible.

That this business experience pays off is obvious from a quick glance at the successful businessmen in Cumberland today. Many of them started by carrying newspapers to your parents' homes.

This business of being a newspaperboy, however, should not be all one-sided.

While you are helping the newspaperboy, he likewise is helping you by seeing that you get the latest news of your town, state and country and the world as soon as the big presses print it on huge rolls of paper.

The newspaperboy, good businessman that he is, makes sacrifices of his own to see that you get your newspaper on time.

Newspaperboys are youngsters. Seldom do they get the credit due them because they are so regular and prompt in their service. That your newspaper is delivered on time every day is expected and not the exception.

On the other hand, there are some customers who apparently delight in "taking it out" on these youngsters, none of them out of their teens and who take special pride in climbing out of bed before dawn so that your paper is delivered on your doorstep on time.

It certainly should not be necessary for newspaperboys to take the abuse they are subjected to by some readers. We refer especially to a case of a few days ago when a teen age boy was cursed as a chiseler and a cheat when he rang a doorbell to collect the money due him.

In the past this youngster had "carried" the customer despite refusals to pay. In this particular case he had tried a number of times to collect his money but each time was rejected.

When he made his final effort, he was cursed and "bawled out" so severely "for ringing the doorbell" that tears of embarrassment streamed down his face.

Seldom is the newspaperboy rewarded for his conscientious, punctual service and he expects no reward other than the payment due him for the product he is selling.

But by the same token, neither should the newspaperboy be subjected to unjust criticism by people three and four times his age who should be happy to help a youngster with enough spirit to try to do something on his own.

The youngsters are to be commended for starting today to be the businessmen of tomorrow. The Cumberland News takes off its hat to every one of them.

Forrestal's Escalators

Aboard U. S. Navy aircraft carriers these days a prime subject of wardroom and mess-hall chatter is the super carrier on the ways of Newport News, Va. Its great length (one-fifth mile), great cost ($250,000,000, maybe) and great potential as a mobile airfield for jet planes—these and other aspects are good for endless discussion and argument.

But it's safe to say nothing has served oftener to open these sessions than the topic of the escalators.

Escalators in a fighting ship? What for? That's easy. For pilots of fighter planes, and for pilots and crews of the larger jet bombers which the Forrestal will be able to handle on both flight and hangar decks.

When the squack-boxes pass the command, "Pilots, man your planes!" they won't have to climb steep ladders with their heavy gear-like parachutes and belts of machinegun ammunition. They'll just hop on to a moving stairway and right on up to the flight deck. The minutes saved could be important in launching a fighter squadron.

Stairway? That word is unknown aboard a naval ship. It is hard to imagine naval lingo accepting the term escalator, either. Hasn't that word too much connotation of tired female shoppers on their way to the big sale of sheets and pillowcases? Free of charge we herewith offer the Navy a new word. It is escaladder.

How To Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The School Child With A Rheumatic Heart

Rheumatic fever attacks thousands of children each year. At least one-third suffer permanent scarring of the heart of such severity as to handicap the victim for life. In another third, the defect is so trivial there is no need to restrict activity. The remainder recover completely.

Children with rheumatic heart disease are not always easy to handle. Many have been overprotected at home or warned so often not to exert themselves that a feeling of anxiety and dependence is engendered. Furthermore, such youngsters listen intently when the parents discuss their condition with the family physician. The little ones know what is going on and frequently become further disturbed by what they hear about heart disease. The lesson to be learned is not to talk about the problem in front of the afflicted boy or girl.

These children also present a problem in school. School authorities realize that any one with moderate to severe cardiac disease is a responsibility and some are not willing to assume this additional obligation. They may be afraid that the youngster will have a heart attack in the classroom and that they will receive the blame. But this possibility is remote. There is a better chance that the principal will have a heart attack, especially if he is of the ateriosclerotic age.

If such an emergency arises, however, teachers should be prepared. With shortness of breath, the child has more difficulty breathing when lying flat. He should be permitted to sit up and tight clothing must be loosened. Plenty of air should be given and calmness is reassuring to the sufferer and to the other pupils. The same applies to fainting except that it is better to lie down with the head lower than the body. It should be remembered that fainting and heart disease seldom are related.

Most of these boys and girls can take part in the usual classroom activities. With minor cardiac defects, no restrictions are needed. The few times that overexertion occurs will do less harm than the anxiety created whenever they are reminded of their physical condition. Too much attention along this line encourages an unhealthy mental state so much so that the lad is afraid to life a finger lest he overtax the heart. On the other hand, the school program for those with more severe involvment requires adaptations. After all, these children need restricted activity during recess and must be granted permission to skip physical education. Rest periods will prove beneficial. In schools where stair climbing is essential, the youngster with rheumatic heart will benefit if given certain concessions.

BREAST "LUMP"

B. T. writes: Can a nonmalignant tumor of the breast become cancerous?

REPLY

This is conceivable but farfetched. However, any tumor that is irritated may become malignant. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on breast tumors.

FLUORESCENT LIGHT

Mrs. E. writes: The doctor put a special lamp on the scalps of my children and then told me they had ringworm. I can see no sign of this disorder except a few loose scales on the hair. What kind of lamp is this?

REPLY

This is the Wood light, which is capable of detecting ringworm of the scalp long before it can be seen with the naked eye. Take advantage of the situation by having the infection treated before it becomes extensive.

MOTIVATION NEEDED

Mrs. E. Writes: Can the sleeping drug habit be cured without hospitalization?

REPLY

Yes, but as with other habits of this type the desire to quit must be absolute and sincere if cure is to be successful.

ARMY LIFE

V. B. writes: I weighed 155 pounds when I entered the Army several years ago and came out 185 pounds. Since my discharge I've dropped back to 155 and cannot gain no matter how much I eat. How do you explain my Army experience?

REPLY

Good food, a quiet life, and practically no taxation.

DAYDREAMING

Mrs. B. writes: What does it mean when a teen-ager talks to himself?

REPLY

This may represent a form of daydreaming or a vivid imagination. It is not serious unless the youngster shuts himself in a shell and lives in a world of his own; or if he begins to converse with imaginary companions who in turn are talking back to him.

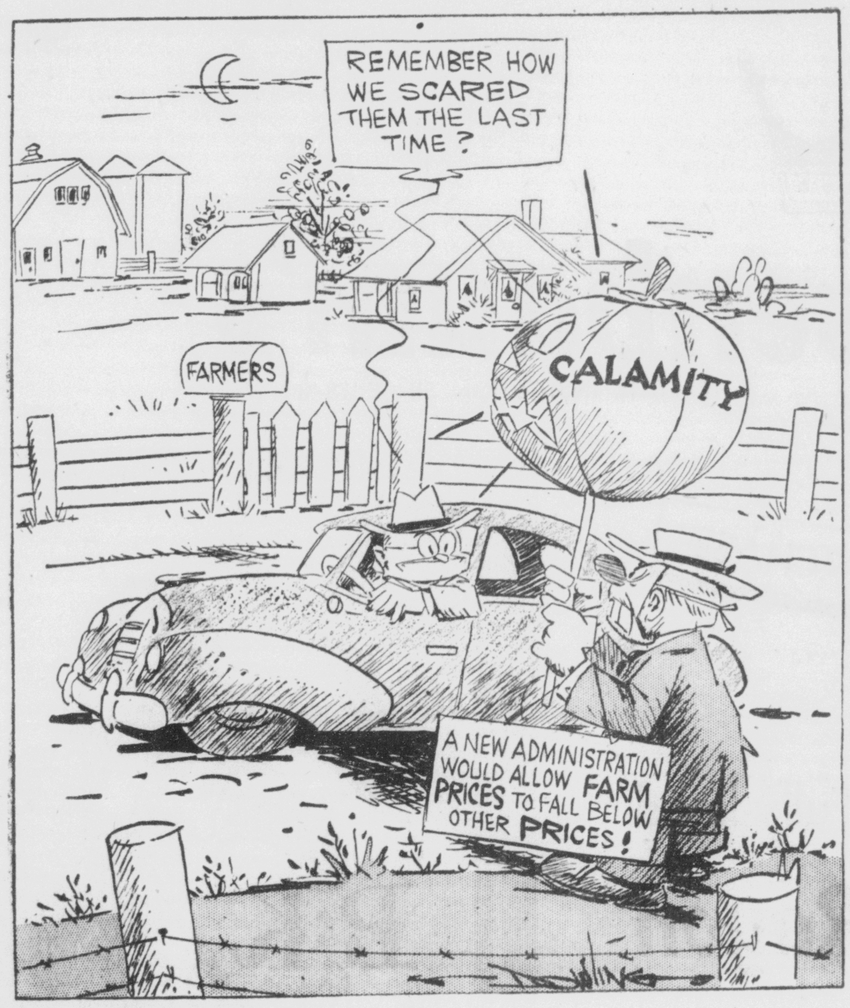
LENS REMOVAL

M. W. writes: Can a cataract regrow once it is removed?

REPLY

No, because when the lens is taken out a new one never forms.

Secretary Brannan Starts The Season



DREW PEARSON on

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Soybeans Take Strange Nosedive; General Bradley Explains MacArthur Reversal; Tennessee Senatorial Feud Erupts On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON — The soybean market took a strange nose dive last month, which looks suspiciously as if someone is tampering in soybeans again. Previously, a group of Chinese speculators rigged the market, so the price of soybeans shot up $1 a bushel. This time, however, the price dropped from $3.14 to $2.70 a bushel, so that speculators betting on the short side of the market were able to make a killing. American farmers took the loss.

The Agriculture Department is required by law to investigate any suspicious activity on the commodity market.

If Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will look into the mysterious manipulations in both soybeans and rye, this column can provide him with sworn witnesses who will testify that certain high Chinese have been interested in both commodities.

These same Chinese are able to make a profit on the commodity market without paying U. S. taxes, then use the money to finance the smear campaigns against such men as Secretary of State Acheson and ex-Secretary of Defense Marshall.

MacArthur Reversed

Conscientious Gen. Omar Bradley was cross-examined by friends of General MacArthur in a closed-door session of the Armed Services Committee the other day as to why the Air Force reecntly bombed Rashin near the Siberian border—the same city which MacArthur was ordered not to bomb.

Bradley also warned senators during the same meeting that the big public hullabaloo about secret weapons might be dangerous, since development of these weapons was "four, five or six years away."

The chief quizzing of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was conducted by Sen. Harry Cain, Republican of Washington.

"This is where I came in," observed Cain, when Bradley explained that General Ridgway's orders were still the same about bombing Manchuria as those given to MacArthur.

Cain countered by reminding General Bradley that MacArthur had been forbidden to bomb Rashin, a transportation center on the Korean-Siberian border. Cain asked why these orders had now been reversed.

Bradley replied that the MacArthur hearings naturally had been read in the Kremlin, and as a result, Red Army leaders were convinced Rashin was absolutely safe. Therefore, they had built up huge supplies with no protection whatsoever.

The reason MacArthur had been ordered not to bomb Rashin still held, Bradley explained—namely, it was only 20 miles from the Russian border and we didn't want to take the risk of overshooting into Siberia. Therefore, the Air Force was ordered to bomb Rashin in clear weather at a low altitude, and by visual recognition, not instruments. The result was heavy enemy destruction.

Russian Air Superiority

Bradley also told senators that the biggest threat to UN forces was still the Russian air force. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon asked whether we could hold our air superiority if Russia got into the war. Bradley replied with a flat no, stressed that Russia has air superiority.

On the ground, Bradley predicted a winter stalemate with neither side strong enough to wage a successful offensive. He said our plan was to stay on the "active defense," harass the enemy and wipe out as many Chinese as possible. He seemed pessimistic about the truce talks.

Senator Russell of Georgia pointed out that the public has been encouraged to pin its faith on new, mighty weapons with the power to achieve "fantastic results."

Bradley replied that the Defense Department is working on such weapons, but warned that they are "four, five or six years away." Decrying the talk about secret weapons, he warned that such talk is a disservice to the public. The armed services aren't able to "perform miracles," said infantryman Bradley, and urged Chairman Russell to issue a statement, playing down the importance of secret weapons.

McKellar Rages

The public record has been toned down, but a Tennessee feud erupted on the Senate floor the other day in all its mountain fury. It brought creaky Senator Kenneth McKellar to his feet in a wild rage, thumping his can angrily and shaking a gnarled fist at his Tennessee colleague, soft-spoken Sen. Estes Kefauver.

McKellar has been carrying on a one-sided feud against Kefauver for months, but this is the first time it has broken out on the Senate floor. What provoked the aged Tennessean was an attempt by Kefauver to create a roving judge for both Middle and Western Tennessee, instead of confining him to the Middle district alone.

Disregarding rules of Senate courtesy, McKellar bitterly accused his colleague of "playing politics" and "violating his word."

"I believe in trying to settle these matters on the facts, and I am not going to get excited about it," broke in Kefauver calmly.

"The junior senator wouldn't know a fact if he saw one in the middle of the road," rasped McKellar, shaking with anger. Then the old man thumped down in his seat, scattering a sheaf of papers on the floor.

"I have another opinion about that," shot back Kefauver.

"Yes, the senator has, but no one else has," shouted McKellar from his seat.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, sitting in temporarily for Vice President Barkley, rapped for order. Then North Dakota's cigar-chewing Sen. Bill Langer jumped up and soothingly inquired: "I should like to know which senator from Tennessee represents the Hatfields and which one represents the McCoys."

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Truman was certainly right about one thing in his controversial conference with the press on the subject of censorship — it always has been and always will be the duty of the newspapers and periodicals to refrain from publishing data that would be useful to the enemy.

This is what is called "voluntary censorship." It operated successfully during World War I and World War II. But, unfortunately, that is not the real issue that has arisen over Mr. Truman's "iron curtain" order. What the President has failed to do is to set forth, through consultation with the representatives of the newspapers, periodicals and radio, the specific categories of tabooed news of a military nature so as to guide the press. This is very readily accomplished, but for some strange reason Mr. Truman and his staff spurned all idea of cooperation on the accustomed basis that has prevailed in the past.

Caught In Trap

The origin of the order which Mr. Truman has been persuaded to sign undoubtedly was in military quarters. If the military bureaucrats' viewpoint were always accepted, the American press would have to suppress 95 per cent of the news that normally comes out of the government, and the morale of the nation would suffer accordingly. It's not a new problem. Mr. Truman has simply been caught in one of the oldest traps that bureaucracy ever fashioned. President Wilson resisted it and so did President Franklin Roosevelt.

When Mr. Truman told his press conference that the reason all other bureaus and departments—including, of course, the civil agencies which haven't anything to do with defense—had to be covered by the executive order was that they sometimes were given copies of important data concerning military matters, he was using an official excuse that has been offered hereabouts for 40 years. It is not a justification for the blanketing of all agencies from the RFC to the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Stung by the criticism that has arisen, the President veers away from the use of the order on nonmilitary matters and applies his customary political demagoguery and sarcasm to the discussion. One would think from listening to him that the press wanted to aid the enemy and had less regard for the safety of the United States than he has. That's not the way to bring about cooperation between the press and the government.

So far as maps of various cities are concerned which the enemy can use for bombing, these can be bought or obtained free at the gasoline stations of the United States or in the souvenir booklets in tourist agencies and bazaars throughout the country. Also, if the Russians have not bought all the maps our own government has been selling for years, they are more stupid than anybody thinks.

It is nothing short of tragic that a President of the United States should stand up before a group of intelligent newspapermen and try to tell them, in effect, that what he wants is security for America and what they want is to give aid and comfort to the enemy.

Unless the President is ready to take advice from persons experienced in the field of voluntary censorship—there are many among his friends who served in wartime and who could give him the right information—the net result is going to be an increasing suspicion that the real secrets Mr. Truman is anxious to suppress are those which now are coming out of congressional committees revealing graft and corruption in some of the bureaus of his administration handling public funds.

The "iron curtain" order is wrong because it is European and not American. It centralizes the whole business of suppression in politically appointed officials. It makes no provision for a check or review by disinterested individuals of the information now to be officially suppressed. And, what is even more disturbing, it puts into effect a rule of fear and intimidation throughout all civil agencies and departments, so that objective-minded officials will not dare to issue information to which the public is entitled without clearing it with the headquarters of the administration to determine whether it is politically embarrassing.

The situation could be easily cleared up—and certainly Congress is asleep at the switch if it permits Naiz and Communist methods of news suppression to take hold inside the government of the United States under the guise of a military emergency.

Matter Of Fact

Turning Point?

PARIS

On a recent visit to Paris, Mr. Winston Churchill had a number of conversions with French leaders. They described to him the plans now being worked out for a European army. Mr. Churchill's response, according to reliable reports, was one of intense surprise. "But that is not what I meant at all," he said repeatedly, "not what I meant at all."

This reaction on the part of the great English leader, who is himself the godfather of the European union idea, was natural enough. For it is a reasonable guess that what Mr. Churchill has had in mind all along is a sort of grand European coalition, with England at its head. And both the French leaders and the men in Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters here are now talking very seriously and with apparent conviction about something a great deal more far-reaching than this.

It is surprising, for example, to hear a man like Mr. Jean Monnet, the chief French planner, remark calmly, "Oh, yes, we shall have a United States of Europe by 1953." It is usually best to disregard such sweeping statement entirely. But Mr. Monnet is anything but a fool, and he has a way of seeing at least some of his plans—like the Schuman plan for pooling continental coal and steel, of which he was a principal author — come at least partially true.

Revolutionary Implications

In a way, it is even more surprising to hear American professional soldiers, including Gen. Eisenhower, talking with the earnestness of new converts about the need for a common European effort, in the military and other fields. Eisenhower and his most brilliant subordinates have become convinced that real European military strength simply cannot be built on the basis of individual national effort. The heart of the common European defense system, they believe, must be a French-German marriage, which the Schuman plan is to make possible, and the European army to make permanent.

The distinctly revolutionary implications of these ideas are accepted both in the French government and at SHAPE—rather blandly accepted, it sometimes seems to the newcomer. For what is involved is a profound change in the whole political and economic structure of Europe.

An end to national armies means an end to national foreign policies, since military strength is the essential instrument of national sovereignty. Moreover, the creation of a European army would mean that a third or more of the national budgets of each nation would be contributed to an army controlled by no nation. Thus a European foreign ministry and a European finance ministry are, as men like French Prime Minister Rene Pleven recognize, the logical next step to the European defense ministry already contemplated in the European army plan.

In fact, a European army simply will not work unless there exists a supra-national European authority empowered to make independent decisions. Thus, as both the French leaders and the planners in SHAPE readily agree, the European army plan can only function within the framework of a real European federation.

All this sounds suspiciously like wishful nonsense, like an attempt to substitute large, inexpensive ideas for large, expensive armies. And nonsense is precisely what it may turn out to be in the end. Although there is certainly growing strength behind the European union idea here in France, there are also powerful forces, including both the Communists and the de Gaullists, which will do everything possible to obstruct the reverse trend.

Practical Hurdles High

Moreover, it takes two to make a marriage. It remains to be seen just how politically practical the European army plan is in Germany, where this reporter goes next. And finally, all recent history clearly suggests that the practical hurdles are too high. Even such modest experiments as the Benelux union have ended in failure. It is very hard to believe that the European army proposal (which in fact started as a simple French tactic for delaying the creation of a German national army) can really lead on to a united Europe.

Yet Gen. Eisenhower and his chief planners believe that it can and that it must. Already, this conviction is having rather startling effects. Obstacles which seemed insurmountable before Eisenhower "bought" the European army idea have shown a tendency to melt away. The French, for example, are now ready to agree to operationally independent national units of 12,000 men in the European army, and thus a rational solution to a vexed question is in sight. Other vexed questions, like the identity of the commander in the transition period (it will probably be Eisenhower himself) and the national contributions in men and in money, are near to solution.

Certainly there is a great gulf between this sort of preliminary paper agreement and the giving up of huge chunks of national sovereignty. But it does begin to seem just barely possible that American leadership on the one hand, and the fear of Russia on the other, may supply the missing ingredient which will transform an ancient dream into reality. It may even be that Mr. Jean Monnet is right, at least in principle, and that Western Europe has reached, almost unnoticed, a great turning point in history.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Peron And Israel

I, like most Americans, know nothing about the Argentine, never having been there, and only gaining such information as is handed out. Maybe that makes me an expert like the great authorities on China who, having seen a city or two, write a book on the subject.

According to what I have read and been told, Peron is a Fascist and an anti-Semite. But then I meet his excellency, Dr. Pablo Manguel, Argentine envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Israel, who turns out to be a Jew, appointed by Peron to the new nation. And he tells me that the Argentine was second among nations to recognize Israel and the fifth to appoint a diplomatic representative.

I could not help being puzzled over whether what I have read about Peron and his government has any relationship to reality. Having for years been fighting off the fantastic story that Chinese Communists were "agrarian reformers," which is about as true as saying that a Kansas City Democrat is a political Puritan, I wondered how much of this sort of thing we are being handed by our so-called experts.

So Senor Pablo Manguel told me that there were about 500,000 Jews in the Argentine and that they are doing very nicely. In fact, Peron, according to his ambassador, has been very generous in permitting Jewish refugees to enter his country. At the time he ascended to the presidency, 32,000 of them were in the country illegally, having had no visas or other permits.

Peron legalized their status. Also, when a ship carrying Jewish refugees from Cyprus was not admitted to the United States or Cuba, the Argentine welcomed this shipload of homeless persons.

Then it turned out that the Argentine and Israel have a trade pact. Israel buys meat in the Argentine, paying not in dollars, which they do not have, but in Argentine currency. It also seems that 20 per cent of the money paid by Israel remains blocked in that country for industrial investment, the Israeli government having the right to decide in which industries this Argentine money is to be invested. In a word, Peron is not only building a trade with Israel but is making investments in the new country which gives his country an economic stake in the Middle East.

The reason for all this is, of course, that a rising country seeks markets where it can find them, which is what the United States ought to be doing. Instead, we seem to be quarrelling with buyers and potential buyers of American produce and commodities on the impossible postulate that we have a duty to preserve erstwhile British markets for Great Britain and erstwhile French markets for France.

We have antagonized the Argentine on general assumptions; we have frightened many Asiatic countries into the enveloping arms of Soviet Russia by our policy, now a proved failure, of coddling the Chinese Communists; we have put such pressure on Iran that that country has apparently come to look upon us as a sort of assistant enemy.

What does all this mean? I could not help wondering whether it is true that Peron and the Argentine are really anti-American or whether down there they wonder why we up here are anti-them. It is difficult to grasp precisely whether these enmities are fomented here or there.

Why do we have to be anti-anybody except a country that makes war on us or keeps us in a constant state of preparing for war?

The United States cannot decide whether Great Britain is to be governed by the Socialist Attlee or the Conservative Churchill, any more than the United States can decide whether Franco or La Pasionaria will govern Spain. Perhaps it would be better for mankind if such matters could be decided by our State Department, but such perfection will not come to pass. Our theory of government is that every people is entitled to a government of its choice, as the Declaration of Independence stipulates, but no country will permit us to send the Honest Ballot Association to their polls to determine whether the election is honestly conducted or whether the safe is blown up where the ballots are stored.

I should imagine that if the Argentinians want a substitute for Peron badly enough, they would find some way of achieving that end, and until they do it themselves, it is none of our business who runs their country. Perhaps if we looked to our knitting and stopped spreading tales, we should again find ourselves surprisingly popular.

The Newspaperboy

While today will be rather widely observed the significance of the day will be restricted to a great degree to a comparatively small group of people, those in the newspaper business.

Despite this, the recipient of today's honors is of the utmost importance to millions of Americans. He is your newspaperboy, the youngster who helps the newspapers of the United States light the way of freedom.

During this week, observed nationally as National Newspaper Week, the newspapers of America have adopted the theme, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

The newspaperboy makes sure that you get your daily copy of the light of freedom.

Perhaps the reader of a newspaper is not quite aware of the tremendous part the newspaperboy plays in the daily dissemination of information.

In a town the size of Cumberland, the newspaperboy, that youngster who lives just up the street, is responsible for delivering, in round numbers, 75 per cent of the daily copies of The Cumberland News.

His is a responsible job. He gets up early in the morning, winter or summer, despite weather conditions, to make sure that your newspaper is on your doorstep when you want it. He does his best to make sure your paper is not damaged by rain or snow by delivering it to a point protected from the elements.

One day a week, after school hours, when other youngsters are perhaps enjoying themselves playing baseball or football or taking in a movie, your newspaperboy has another job to do. That is his task of collecting from his customers.

To keep from disturbing you in the early hours of the day, your newspaperboy "knocks off" from childhood pleasures later on to collect his bill from you, the reader.

Your newspaperboy of today is truly the businessman of tomorrow. And he is getting excellent training for his future responsibilities.

He is, in fact, a young businessman. He, himself, buys his papers daily and pays for them with the profits he derives from selling them to his customers. He builds up his daily route and it is up to him to satisfy his customers so that they continue to buy from him and make his small venture possible.

That this business experience pays off is obvious from a quick glance at the successful businessmen in Cumberland today. Many of them started by carrying newspapers to your parents' homes.

This business of being a newspaperboy, however, should not be all one-sided.

While you are helping the newspaperboy, he likewise is helping you by seeing that you get the latest news of your town, state and country and the world as soon as the big presses print it on huge rolls of paper.

The newspaperboy, good businessman that he is, makes sacrifices of his own to see that you get your newspaper on time.

Newspaperboys are youngsters. Seldom do they get the credit due them because they are so regular and prompt in their service. That your newspaper is delivered on time every day is expected and not the exception.

On the other hand, there are some customers who apparently delight in "taking it out" on these youngsters, none of them out of their teens and who take special pride in climbing out of bed before dawn so that your paper is delivered on your doorstep on time.

It certainly should not be necessary for newspaperboys to take the abuse they are subjected to by some readers. We refer especially to a case of a few days ago when a teen age boy was cursed as a chiseler and a cheat when he rang a doorbell to collect the money due him.

In the past this youngster had "carried" the customer despite refusals to pay. In this particular case he had tried a number of times to collect his money but each time was rejected.

When he made his final effort, he was cursed and "bawled out" so severely "for ringing the doorbell" that tears of embarrassment streamed down his face.

Seldom is the newspaperboy rewarded for his conscientious, punctual service and he expects no reward other than the payment due him for the product he is selling.

But by the same token, neither should the newspaperboy be subjected to unjust criticism by people three and four times his age who should be happy to help a youngster with enough spirit to try to do something on his own.

The youngsters are to be commended for starting today to be the businessmen of tomorrow. The Cumberland News takes off its hat to every one of them.

Forrestal's Escalators

Aboard U. S. Navy aircraft carriers these days a prime subject of wardroom and mess-hall chatter is the super carrier on the ways of Newport News, Va. Its great length (one-fifth mile), great cost ($250,000,000, maybe) and great potential as a mobile airfield for jet planes—these and other aspects are good for endless discussion and argument.

But it's safe to say nothing has served oftener to open these sessions than the topic of the escalators.

Escalators in a fighting ship? What for? That's easy. For pilots of fighter planes, and for pilots and crews of the larger jet bombers which the Forrestal will be able to handle on both flight and hangar decks.

When the squack-boxes pass the command, "Pilots, man your planes!" they won't have to climb steep ladders with their heavy gear-like parachutes and belts of machinegun ammunition. They'll just hop on to a moving stairway and right on up to the flight deck. The minutes saved could be important in launching a fighter squadron.

Stairway? That word is unknown aboard a naval ship. It is hard to imagine naval lingo accepting the term escalator, either. Hasn't that word too much connotation of tired female shoppers on their way to the big sale of sheets and pillowcases? Free of charge we herewith offer the Navy a new word. It is escaladder.

How To Keep Well

The School Child With A Rheumatic Heart

Rheumatic fever attacks thousands of children each year. At least one-third suffer permanent scarring of the heart of such severity as to handicap the victim for life. In another third, the defect is so trivial there is no need to restrict activity. The remainder recover completely.

Children with rheumatic heart disease are not always easy to handle. Many have been overprotected at home or warned so often not to exert themselves that a feeling of anxiety and dependence is engendered. Furthermore, such youngsters listen intently when the parents discuss their condition with the family physician. The little ones know what is going on and frequently become further disturbed by what they hear about heart disease. The lesson to be learned is not to talk about the problem in front of the afflicted boy or girl.

These children also present a problem in school. School authorities realize that any one with moderate to severe cardiac disease is a responsibility and some are not willing to assume this additional obligation. They may be afraid that the youngster will have a heart attack in the classroom and that they will receive the blame. But this possibility is remote. There is a better chance that the principal will have a heart attack, especially if he is of the ateriosclerotic age.

If such an emergency arises, however, teachers should be prepared. With shortness of breath, the child has more difficulty breathing when lying flat. He should be permitted to sit up and tight clothing must be loosened. Plenty of air should be given and calmness is reassuring to the sufferer and to the other pupils. The same applies to fainting except that it is better to lie down with the head lower than the body. It should be remembered that fainting and heart disease seldom are related.

Most of these boys and girls can take part in the usual classroom activities. With minor cardiac defects, no restrictions are needed. The few times that overexertion occurs will do less harm than the anxiety created whenever they are reminded of their physical condition. Too much attention along this line encourages an unhealthy mental state so much so that the lad is afraid to life a finger lest he overtax the heart. On the other hand, the school program for those with more severe involvment requires adaptations. After all, these children need restricted activity during recess and must be granted permission to skip physical education. Rest periods will prove beneficial. In schools where stair climbing is essential, the youngster with rheumatic heart will benefit if given certain concessions.

This is conceivable but farfetched. However, any tumor that is irritated may become malignant. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on breast tumors.

FLUORESCENT LIGHT

Mrs. E. writes: The doctor put a special lamp on the scalps of my children and then told me they had ringworm. I can see no sign of this disorder except a few loose scales on the hair. What kind of lamp is this?

REPLY

This is the Wood light, which is capable of detecting ringworm of the scalp long before it can be seen with the naked eye. Take advantage of the situation by having the infection treated before it becomes extensive.

MOTIVATION NEEDED

Mrs. E. Writes: Can the sleeping drug habit be cured without hospitalization?

REPLY

Yes, but as with other habits of this type the desire to quit must be absolute and sincere if cure is to be successful.

REPLY

Good food, a quiet life, and practically no taxation.

DAYDREAMING

Mrs. B. writes: What does it mean when a teen-ager talks to himself?

REPLY

This may represent a form of daydreaming or a vivid imagination. It is not serious unless the youngster shuts himself in a shell and lives in a world of his own; or if he begins to converse with imaginary companions who in turn are talking back to him.

Soybeans Take Strange Nosedive; General Bradley Explains MacArthur Reversal; Tennessee Senatorial Feud Erupts On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON — The soybean market took a strange nose dive last month, which looks suspiciously as if someone is tampering in soybeans again. Previously, a group of Chinese speculators rigged the market, so the price of soybeans shot up $1 a bushel. This time, however, the price dropped from $3.14 to $2.70 a bushel, so that speculators betting on the short side of the market were able to make a killing. American farmers took the loss.

The Agriculture Department is required by law to investigate any suspicious activity on the commodity market.

If Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will look into the mysterious manipulations in both soybeans and rye, this column can provide him with sworn witnesses who will testify that certain high Chinese have been interested in both commodities.

These same Chinese are able to make a profit on the commodity market without paying U. S. taxes, then use the money to finance the smear campaigns against such men as Secretary of State Acheson and ex-Secretary of Defense Marshall.

MacArthur Reversed

Conscientious Gen. Omar Bradley was cross-examined by friends of General MacArthur in a closed-door session of the Armed Services Committee the other day as to why the Air Force reecntly bombed Rashin near the Siberian border—the same city which MacArthur was ordered not to bomb.

Bradley also warned senators during the same meeting that the big public hullabaloo about secret weapons might be dangerous, since development of these weapons was "four, five or six years away."

The chief quizzing of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was conducted by Sen. Harry Cain, Republican of Washington.

"This is where I came in," observed Cain, when Bradley explained that General Ridgway's orders were still the same about bombing Manchuria as those given to MacArthur.

Cain countered by reminding General Bradley that MacArthur had been forbidden to bomb Rashin, a transportation center on the Korean-Siberian border. Cain asked why these orders had now been reversed.

Bradley replied that the MacArthur hearings naturally had been read in the Kremlin, and as a result, Red Army leaders were convinced Rashin was absolutely safe. Therefore, they had built up huge supplies with no protection whatsoever.

The reason MacArthur had been ordered not to bomb Rashin still held, Bradley explained—namely, it was only 20 miles from the Russian border and we didn't want to take the risk of overshooting into Siberia. Therefore, the Air Force was ordered to bomb Rashin in clear weather at a low altitude, and by visual recognition, not instruments. The result was heavy enemy destruction.

Russian Air Superiority

Bradley also told senators that the biggest threat to UN forces was still the Russian air force. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon asked whether we could hold our air superiority if Russia got into the war. Bradley replied with a flat no, stressed that Russia has air superiority.

On the ground, Bradley predicted a winter stalemate with neither side strong enough to wage a successful offensive. He said our plan was to stay on the "active defense," harass the enemy and wipe out as many Chinese as possible. He seemed pessimistic about the truce talks.

Senator Russell of Georgia pointed out that the public has been encouraged to pin its faith on new, mighty weapons with the power to achieve "fantastic results."

Bradley replied that the Defense Department is working on such weapons, but warned that they are "four, five or six years away." Decrying the talk about secret weapons, he warned that such talk is a disservice to the public. The armed services aren't able to "perform miracles," said infantryman Bradley, and urged Chairman Russell to issue a statement, playing down the importance of secret weapons.

McKellar Rages

The public record has been toned down, but a Tennessee feud erupted on the Senate floor the other day in all its mountain fury. It brought creaky Senator Kenneth McKellar to his feet in a wild rage, thumping his can angrily and shaking a gnarled fist at his Tennessee colleague, soft-spoken Sen. Estes Kefauver.

McKellar has been carrying on a one-sided feud against Kefauver for months, but this is the first time it has broken out on the Senate floor. What provoked the aged Tennessean was an attempt by Kefauver to create a roving judge for both Middle and Western Tennessee, instead of confining him to the Middle district alone.

Disregarding rules of Senate courtesy, McKellar bitterly accused his colleague of "playing politics" and "violating his word."

"I believe in trying to settle these matters on the facts, and I am not going to get excited about it," broke in Kefauver calmly.

"The junior senator wouldn't know a fact if he saw one in the middle of the road," rasped McKellar, shaking with anger. Then the old man thumped down in his seat, scattering a sheaf of papers on the floor.

"I have another opinion about that," shot back Kefauver.

"Yes, the senator has, but no one else has," shouted McKellar from his seat.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, sitting in temporarily for Vice President Barkley, rapped for order. Then North Dakota's cigar-chewing Sen. Bill Langer jumped up and soothingly inquired: "I should like to know which senator from Tennessee represents the Hatfields and which one represents the McCoys."

On a recent visit to Paris, Mr. Winston Churchill had a number of conversions with French leaders. They described to him the plans now being worked out for a European army. This reaction on the part of the great English leader, who is himself the godfather of the European union idea, was natural enough. For it is a reasonable guess that what Mr. Churchill has had in mind all along is a sort of grand European coalition, with England at its head. And both the French leaders and the men in Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters here are now talking very seriously and with apparent conviction about something a great deal more far-reaching than this.

It is surprising, for example, to hear a man like Mr. Jean Monnet, the chief French planner, remark calmly, "Oh, yes, we shall have a United States of Europe by 1953." It is usually best to disregard such sweeping statement entirely. But Mr. Monnet is anything but a fool, and he has a way of seeing at least some of his plans—like the Schuman plan for pooling continental coal and steel, of which he was a principal author — come at least partially true.

Revolutionary Implications

In a way, it is even more surprising to hear American professional soldiers, including Gen. Eisenhower, talking with the earnestness of new converts about the need for a common European effort, in the military and other fields. Eisenhower and his most brilliant subordinates have become convinced that real European military strength simply cannot be built on the basis of individual national effort. The heart of the common European defense system, they believe, must be a French-German marriage, which the Schuman plan is to make possible, and the European army to make permanent.

The distinctly revolutionary implications of these ideas are accepted both in the French government and at SHAPE—rather blandly accepted, it sometimes seems to the newcomer. For what is involved is a profound change in the whole political and economic structure of Europe.

An end to national armies means an end to national foreign policies, since military strength is the essential instrument of national sovereignty. Moreover, the creation of a European army would mean that a third or more of the national budgets of each nation would be contributed to an army controlled by no nation. Thus a European foreign ministry and a European finance ministry are, as men like French Prime Minister Rene Pleven recognize, the logical next step to the European defense ministry already contemplated in the European army plan.

In fact, a European army simply will not work unless there exists a supra-national European authority empowered to make independent decisions. Thus, as both the French leaders and the planners in SHAPE readily agree, the European army plan can only function within the framework of a real European federation.

All this sounds suspiciously like wishful nonsense, like an attempt to substitute large, inexpensive ideas for large, expensive armies. And nonsense is precisely what it may turn out to be in the end. Although there is certainly growing strength behind the European union idea here in France, there are also powerful forces, including both the Communists and the de Gaullists, which will do everything possible to obstruct the reverse trend.

Practical Hurdles High

Moreover, it takes two to make a marriage. It remains to be seen just how politically practical the European army plan is in Germany, where this reporter goes next. And finally, all recent history clearly suggests that the practical hurdles are too high. Even such modest experiments as the Benelux union have ended in failure. It is very hard to believe that the European army proposal (which in fact started as a simple French tactic for delaying the creation of a German national army) can really lead on to a united Europe.

Yet Gen. Eisenhower and his chief planners believe that it can and that it must. Already, this conviction is having rather startling effects. Obstacles which seemed insurmountable before Eisenhower "bought" the European army idea have shown a tendency to melt away. The French, for example, are now ready to agree to operationally independent national units of 12,000 men in the European army, and thus a rational solution to a vexed question is in sight. Other vexed questions, like the identity of the commander in the transition period (it will probably be Eisenhower himself) and the national contributions in men and in money, are near to solution.

Certainly there is a great gulf between this sort of preliminary paper agreement and the giving up of huge chunks of national sovereignty. But it does begin to seem just barely possible that American leadership on the one hand, and the fear of Russia on the other, may supply the missing ingredient which will transform an ancient dream into reality. It may even be that Mr. Jean Monnet is right, at least in principle, and that Western Europe has reached, almost unnoticed, a great turning point in history.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Peron And Israel

I, like most Americans, know nothing about the Argentine, never having been there, and only gaining such information as is handed out. Maybe that makes me an expert like the great authorities on China who, having seen a city or two, write a book on the subject.

According to what I have read and been told, Peron is a Fascist and an anti-Semite. But then I meet his excellency, Dr. Pablo Manguel, Argentine envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Israel, who turns out to be a Jew, appointed by Peron to the new nation. And he tells me that the Argentine was second among nations to recognize Israel and the fifth to appoint a diplomatic representative.

I could not help being puzzled over whether what I have read about Peron and his government has any relationship to reality. Having for years been fighting off the fantastic story that Chinese Communists were "agrarian reformers," which is about as true as saying that a Kansas City Democrat is a political Puritan, I wondered how much of this sort of thing we are being handed by our so-called experts.

So Senor Pablo Manguel told me that there were about 500,000 Jews in the Argentine and that they are doing very nicely. In fact, Peron, according to his ambassador, has been very generous in permitting Jewish refugees to enter his country. At the time he ascended to the presidency, 32,000 of them were in the country illegally, having had no visas or other permits.

Peron legalized their status. Also, when a ship carrying Jewish refugees from Cyprus was not admitted to the United States or Cuba, the Argentine welcomed this shipload of homeless persons.

Then it turned out that the Argentine and Israel have a trade pact. Israel buys meat in the Argentine, paying not in dollars, which they do not have, but in Argentine currency. It also seems that 20 per cent of the money paid by Israel remains blocked in that country for industrial investment, the Israeli government having the right to decide in which industries this Argentine money is to be invested. In a word, Peron is not only building a trade with Israel but is making investments in the new country which gives his country an economic stake in the Middle East.

The reason for all this is, of course, that a rising country seeks markets where it can find them, which is what the United States ought to be doing. Instead, we seem to be quarrelling with buyers and potential buyers of American produce and commodities on the impossible postulate that we have a duty to preserve erstwhile British markets for Great Britain and erstwhile French markets for France.

We have antagonized the Argentine on general assumptions; we have frightened many Asiatic countries into the enveloping arms of Soviet Russia by our policy, now a proved failure, of coddling the Chinese Communists; we have put such pressure on Iran that that country has apparently come to look upon us as a sort of assistant enemy.

What does all this mean? I could not help wondering whether it is true that Peron and the Argentine are really anti-American or whether down there they wonder why we up here are anti-them. It is difficult to grasp precisely whether these enmities are fomented here or there.

Why do we have to be anti-anybody except a country that makes war on us or keeps us in a constant state of preparing for war?

The United States cannot decide whether Great Britain is to be governed by the Socialist Attlee or the Conservative Churchill, any more than the United States can decide whether Franco or La Pasionaria will govern Spain. Perhaps it would be better for mankind if such matters could be decided by our State Department, but such perfection will not come to pass. Our theory of government is that every people is entitled to a government of its choice, as the Declaration of Independence stipulates, but no country will permit us to send the Honest Ballot Association to their polls to determine whether the election is honestly conducted or whether the safe is blown up where the ballots are stored.

I should imagine that if the Argentinians want a substitute for Peron badly enough, they would find some way of achieving that end, and until they do it themselves, it is none of our business who runs their country. Perhaps if we looked to our knitting and stopped spreading tales, we should again find ourselves surprisingly popular.

Wallace Helped China Reds In '44, Budenz Testifies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—One-time Communist Louis Budenz testified today that Henry A. Wallace followed the Communist Party line in 1944 "whether he knew it or not" in cabled reports to the White House criticising Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Budenz said the Red line was to find fault with Chiang's Nationalist regime and thus pave the way for Communist conquest of China.

Testifying before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee, Budenz said Wallace's recommendations during his 1944 mission to China "helped the Communists."

The witness, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker, now a professor at Fordham University, also declared that American Communists were "encouraged" by the Communist International in Moscow to boost Wallace for reelection as vice president in 1944.

Wallace lost out on the nomination at the Democratic convention in Chicago in July, 1944, when President Roosevelt gave the nod to a senator from Missouri named Harry S. Truman.

Wallace is scheduled to testify in the next day or so at the Senate inquiry which is looking into possible subversive influences on American policy in the Far East.

Crete's Modern Romeo Wins His Freedom

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 5 (AP) — Crete's modern Romeo, Costa Kephaloyannis, won his freedom today. His Juliet, dark-eyed Tassoula Petracogeorgi, said this is the happiest day of my life.

Costa carried off Tassoula a year ago to the rugged Cretan mountains and married her. Their families have been feuding for years. Costa was sentenced to two years in prison for illegal possession of weapons last February.

In August, King Paul reduced the sentence permitting Costa to be freed Nov. 3. The court today permitted Costa to pay a fine instead of serving out the remaining days of his term.

Rep. Sutton Floors Would-Be Bandit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Rep. Pat Sutton (D-Tenn) ran into a gun-wielding bandit's "stick 'em up" early today, and countered with a hard right to the jaw.

The man went down. Sutton went for the police. Two hours later they picked up a suspect and held him for Sutton's identification.

A 21-year-old negro, Espey Thompson, Jr., Washington, was held for grand jury tonight on an armed assault charge in connection with the case. U. S. Commissioner Cyril S. Lawrence fixed bond at $15,000.

187 Employes Will Divide $100,000 Left Them By Boss

McGRAW, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP) — One hundred and 87 employes of three McGraw factories tomorrow will split $100,000 left them by their boss.

F. A. Purchas, who died Aug. 4, bequeathed the money to employes of the Central Paper Box Co., Inc., the McGraw Box Co., Inc., and the Higgins Supply Co., Inc. He held controlling interest in the three concerns.

The factories announced today that workers with a year and a half to five years of service would receive $250, those with five to 10 years, $500, and those with more than 10 years, $1,000.

S. C. Claims Demo Meeting Victory

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP) — The racial issue erupted behind closed doors at the national Young Democratic convention today and South Carolina, after a debate of two hours, claimed a major triumph.

The dispute arose at a meeting of the resolutions committee on a proposal submitted by California and strongly supported by Minnesota.

As originally offered by Minnesota, it praised President Truman for his stand on civil rights and urged that he be reelected. The last part was cut out on the ground that the organization was not authorized to endorse candidates on any level.

Still in the proposal was reference to fair employment legislation with strict enforcement, the anti-poll tax and anti-lynching. Heated debate started at this point with South Carolina spearheading the attack, and other southern states joining.

California finally agreed to withdraw the resolution and reword it so that it would be acceptable to the convention.

Burglar Returns War Heroes' Medals

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—A burglar, who signed himself "A Bad Egg," today returned by mail the medals he had stolen from a wartime secret agent and her husband.

The medals belong to French-born Odette and her British husband, Capt. Peter Churchill. The Churchills won them for bravery in occupied France. The awards include the George Cross, Britain's second highest award for valor; the French Legion D'Honneur; and other medals.

They were stolen along with some silver from the Churchills' London home Monday night.

Storm Beats Out To Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The hurricane named "How" appeared to be beating out to sea tonight.

At 4:30 p. m. (EST) it was centered about 150 miles south of Nantuckets, Mass., moving north northeastward.

State Appeals Use Tax Ruling

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 5 (AP) — Maryland asked today for permission to apply its use tax to building materials bought out of state.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes forced a $182 tax argument to the Court of Appeals. If he can't collect it, attorneys for the state contended, contractors will get a break denied everyone else under the two per cent retail sales tax act.

The use tax is a companion to the sales levy. It extends the same percentage charge to consumer goods bought elsewhere for use in Maryland. Without it, the tax would discriminate against persons who buy or sell exclusively within the state.

The Crofton company, Baltimore contractors, protested a sales and use tax bill of $17,194, but won exemption only for $182 spent on slate.

Judge John T. Tucker ruled in Baltimore City Court that the slate fell under a section of the tax law exempting "tangible personal property not readily obtainable in Maryland" and used in making another commodity.

The state appealed that decision.

Helicopter To Aid In Traffic Plans

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct.—(AP)—A traffic plan, replete with an air spotter, will be used to avoid jams at tomorrow's Maryland-George Washington football game.

A helicopter will scout the area to spot congestion. The word will be radioed to police cars for ironing out.

Traffic from all directions will be guided by 25 troopers along all routes.

Cars using Route 1 from Washington will be parked on the east side of the boulevard. They will not be allowed to turn left into the campus.

Western Maryland motorists approaching the campus on University Lane will be parked on lots west of Byrd Stadium. Drivers from Baltimore will enter the campus at the north gate and park on lots east of the stadium.

Eastern Shore fans are advised to take Route 50 to Lanham Speedway and turn right there. The road to the stadium will be marked from there to bypass Hyattsville and Bladensburg.

Harper Has Low Score Washed Out

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5 (AP) — Chandler Harper, golf's champion hard-luck pro of 1951, got his toughest break in the $15,000 Kansas City Open tournament today.

Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., who won the PGA title last year but has earned only $250 in tournament play since, had his leading score of 135 for 36 holes nullified by rain after more than two-thirds of the field was in.

Two deaths in his family and illness to himself had caused Harper to pick up in six of the 12 tournaments he has played in this year.

38% Of Slaughterers Violated Meat Controls

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The government's stabilization enforcement chief estimated today that 38 per cent of the nation's slaughterers are violating meat controls, and the OPS offered evidence that meat men are hacking away at the price program itself.

Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement director, told a news conference that the drive against illegal slaughtering practices has uncovered 532 violators among 1,445 plants visited by his agents.

Without giving details, he spoke of "affirmative efforts" by the meat industry "to sabotage the entire stabilization program."

Morgan was bitter over what he called the "most uncooperative" attitude of the American Meat Institute, Inc., a major trade association with headquarters in Chicago.

The husband of the late Bert (Barger) Evans, he was born on Orr's Mountain and is survived by a son, Daniel L. Evans, of Petersburg; a brother, Aubrey C. Evans; a sister, Mrs. Carrie Brison Samms, of Peoria, Ill., and four grandchildren.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home by the Schaffer Ambulance Service with the Rev. Lawrence Sherwood officiating.

Burial will be at Lahmansville, W. Va. Cemetery. The body will be at the home after 4 p. m. today.

McKeldin Says He'll Veto Tax-Hike Bills

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, in an address here today, promised to "veto every bill for new taxes that comes to my desk."

He told 200 Rotarians and their guests that "I am determined no new taxes will be imposed by my administration."

The governor said if there is to be any tax increases they will be raised over his veto "only by the General Assembly x x x."

McKeldin spoke at the Rotary Club's traditional fair week governors day luncheon.

Missing Child Found Trying To Sell Beer

GREENFIELD, Mass., Oct. 5 (AP)—Frantic mother reported three-year-old Andrea Roy missing from home today.

Police found the child trying to peddle six bottles of beer to a main street store for 20 cents.

A clerk offered 12 cents.

Andrea, too shrewd a trader for that, put the bottles back in her doll carriage and headed home.

October Tour Suggestions

Join the thousands who have this summer seen and enjoyed the scenic Smoke Hole Cavern—located directly along Routes 4 and 28, eight miles West of Petersburg, West Virginia. Step right from the hard surfaced highway in to West Virginia's most beautiful attraction.

In traveling to and from Smoke Hole Cavern, you will be thrilled with the colorful October foliage.

Smoke Hole Cavern offers you:

1. The world's longest living Ribbon Stalactite.
2. The highest room of any known cavern in the east.
3. Thousands of other formations, including the Coral Pool of sky blue water, alive with brook trout.

The above tour will take you into the heart of "Little Switzerland of America."

Burglar Returns War Heroes' Medals

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—A burglar, who signed himself "A Bad Egg," today returned by mail the medals he had stolen from a wartime secret agent and her husband.

The medals belong to French-born Odette and her British husband, Capt. Peter Churchill. The Churchills won them for bravery in occupied France. The awards include the George Cross, Britain's second highest award for valor; the French Legion D'Honneur; and other medals.

They were stolen along with some silver from the Churchills' London home Monday night.

Storm Beats Out To Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The hurricane named "How" appeared to be beating out to sea tonight.

At 4:30 p. m. (EST) it was centered about 150 miles south of Nantuckets, Mass., moving north northeastward.

State Appeals Use Tax Ruling

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 5 (AP) — Maryland asked today for permission to apply its use tax to building materials bought out of state.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes forced a $182 tax argument to the Court of Appeals. If he can't collect it, attorneys for the state contended, contractors will get a break denied everyone else under the two per cent retail sales tax act.

The use tax is a companion to the sales levy. It extends the same percentage charge to consumer goods bought elsewhere for use in Maryland. Without it, the tax would discriminate against persons who buy or sell exclusively within the state.

The Crofton company, Baltimore contractors, protested a sales and use tax bill of $17,194, but won exemption only for $182 spent on slate.

Judge John T. Tucker ruled in Baltimore City Court that the slate fell under a section of the tax law exempting "tangible personal property not readily obtainable in Maryland" and used in making another commodity.

The state appealed that decision.

Helicopter To Aid In Traffic Plans

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct.—(AP) —A traffic plan, replete with an air spotter, will be used to avoid jams at tomorrow's Maryland-George Washington football game.

A helicopter will scout the area to spot congestion. The word will be radioed to police cars for ironing out.

Traffic from all directions will be guided by 25 troopers along all routes.

Cars using Route 1 from Washington will be parked on the east side of the boulevard. They will not be allowed to turn left into the campus.

Western Maryland motorists approaching the campus on University Lane will be parked on lots west of Byrd Stadium. Drivers from Baltimore will enter the campus at the north gate and park on lots east of the stadium.

Eastern Shore fans are advised to take Route 50 to Lanham Speedway and turn right there. The road to the stadium will be marked from there to bypass Hyattsville and Bladensburg.

Harper Has Low Score Washed Out

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5 (AP) — Chandler Harper, golf's champion hard-luck pro of 1951, got his toughest break in the $15,000 Kansas City Open tournament today.

Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., who won the PGA title last year but has earned only $250 in tournament play since, had his leading score of 135 for 36 holes nullified by rain after more than two-thirds of the field was in.

Two deaths in his family and illness to himself had caused Harper to pick up in six of the 12 tournaments he has played in this year.

38% Of Slaughterers Violated Meat Controls

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The government's stabilization enforcement chief estimated today that 38 per cent of the nation's slaughterers are violating meat controls, and the OPS offered evidence that meat men are hacking away at the price program itself.

Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement director, told a news conference that the drive against illegal slaughtering practices has uncovered 532 violators among 1,445 plants visited by his agents.

Without giving details, he spoke of "affirmative efforts" by the meat industry "to sabotage the entire stabilization program."

Morgan was bitter over what he called the "most uncooperative" attitude of the American Meat Institute, Inc., a major trade association with headquarters in Chicago.

Series Quips By Bugs Baer

The Yanks won their ninety-ninth game of the season today with the industrious monotony of a woolen mill running off a mile of blue serge.

The superior mechanics of the American League moved like oiled gears. And demonstrated that this series is only going to be exciting when the Giants win.

Bob Considine wrote that I said the winner of the Brooklyn-Giants series would crawl into this contest on all-fours. And I still think the Giants are as played out as fishing-line with a tarpon on the far end.

Those three extra-curricular games with the Bums took more out of the Giants than Macy packs into his basement. Only Monte Irvin carried his punch all the way like a conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio.

Monte is now seven for nine in two games and going like a boy for a quart of ice cream. But unfortunately Willie Mays has tightened up like a hoss's teeth in a water trough.

Second-guessing baseball will win you second prize in the quiz contest. First prize is a coat-hanger. The Giants blew their only chance in the seventh when their clutchers went after rent-money and came back with an eviction notice.

Before that and after that Lopat held them down like a thumb on a buzzer.

Jansen pitched well until streeted for a pinch batter in the seventh. And that third run off Spencer didn't mean anymore than wheels on a lunch-wagon. Nobody was going anywhere. Especially the Giants.

McKeldin Says He'll Veto Tax-Hike Bills

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, in an address here today, promised to "veto every bill for new taxes that comes to my desk."

He told 200 Rotarians and their guests that "I am determined no new taxes will be imposed by my administration."

The governor said if there is to be any tax increases they will be raised over his veto "only by the General Assembly x x x."

McKeldin spoke at the Rotary Club's traditional fair week governors day luncheon.

Missing Child Found Trying To Sell Beer

GREENFIELD, Mass., Oct. 5 (AP) —Frantic mother reported three-year-old Andrea Roy missing from home today.

Police found the child trying to peddle six bottles of beer to a main street store for 20 cents.

A clerk offered 12 cents.

Andrea, too shrewd a trader for that, put the bottles back in her doll carriage and headed home.

Norma Jean Wheeler To Be Bride Of Hugh A. Miller

Ceremony To Be Performed Today

Miss Norma Jean Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Wheeler, 510 Oldtown Road, is to become the bride of Hugh Arnold Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Miller, 420 Columbia Street, today.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at a nuptial mass at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church, with Rev. Robert Hopkins officiating. Assorted white flowers and candelabra of lighted tapers decorate the altar.

Miss Doris Wheeler is to be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. Arthur Uhl will serve as Mr. Miller's best man and the ushers are Edward Stapleton, Washington, and Richard Wheeler, brother of the bride.

A program of nuptial music will be played by Sister Carlos, as well as the traditional wedding marches. The Girls Choir is singing the "Ave Maria," „Panis Angelicus, "O Lord I Am not Worthy," and "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling."

The bride, who is being given in marriage by her father, is wearing a gown of white lace and satin fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace buttoned down the front, made with a high neckline, Peter Pan collar and long sleeves tapering to a point on the hand. The full satin skirt is floor length and has a lace panel front and back. Her fingertip length veil of illusion is held by a lace Juliette cap. Completing her costume she is carrying a prayer book with orchid marker and an old fashioned bouquet of white flowers, which after the ceremony she will place at the foot of the Blessed Virgin statue.

Her maid of honor's gown is of pink with a lace bodice, with Peter Par collar and short sleeves, the skirt is of net over taffeta. With it she is wearing lace mitts and hat and will carry an old fashioned bouquet.

Mrs. Wheeler has chosen a gray crepe dress with rhinestone trim, fro her daughter's wedding. With it she has black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs Miller is wearing a royal blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School, class of 1950, and is employed at Lathrum Market. Her finance is a graduate of LaSalle High School, class of 1949, and is employed by the First National Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are entertaining with a wedding reception for their daughter and her bridal party, at the Ali Ghan City Club following the ceremony. White flowers are being used in the decorations and a miniature bride and bridegroom adorns the tiered wedding cake.

For their wedding trip through Virginia, the bride has chosen a maroon colored suit with brown accessories and her orchid corsage Upon their return they will reside at 933 Grand Avenue.

THE PILLAR OF CLOUD and THE PILLAR OF FIRE

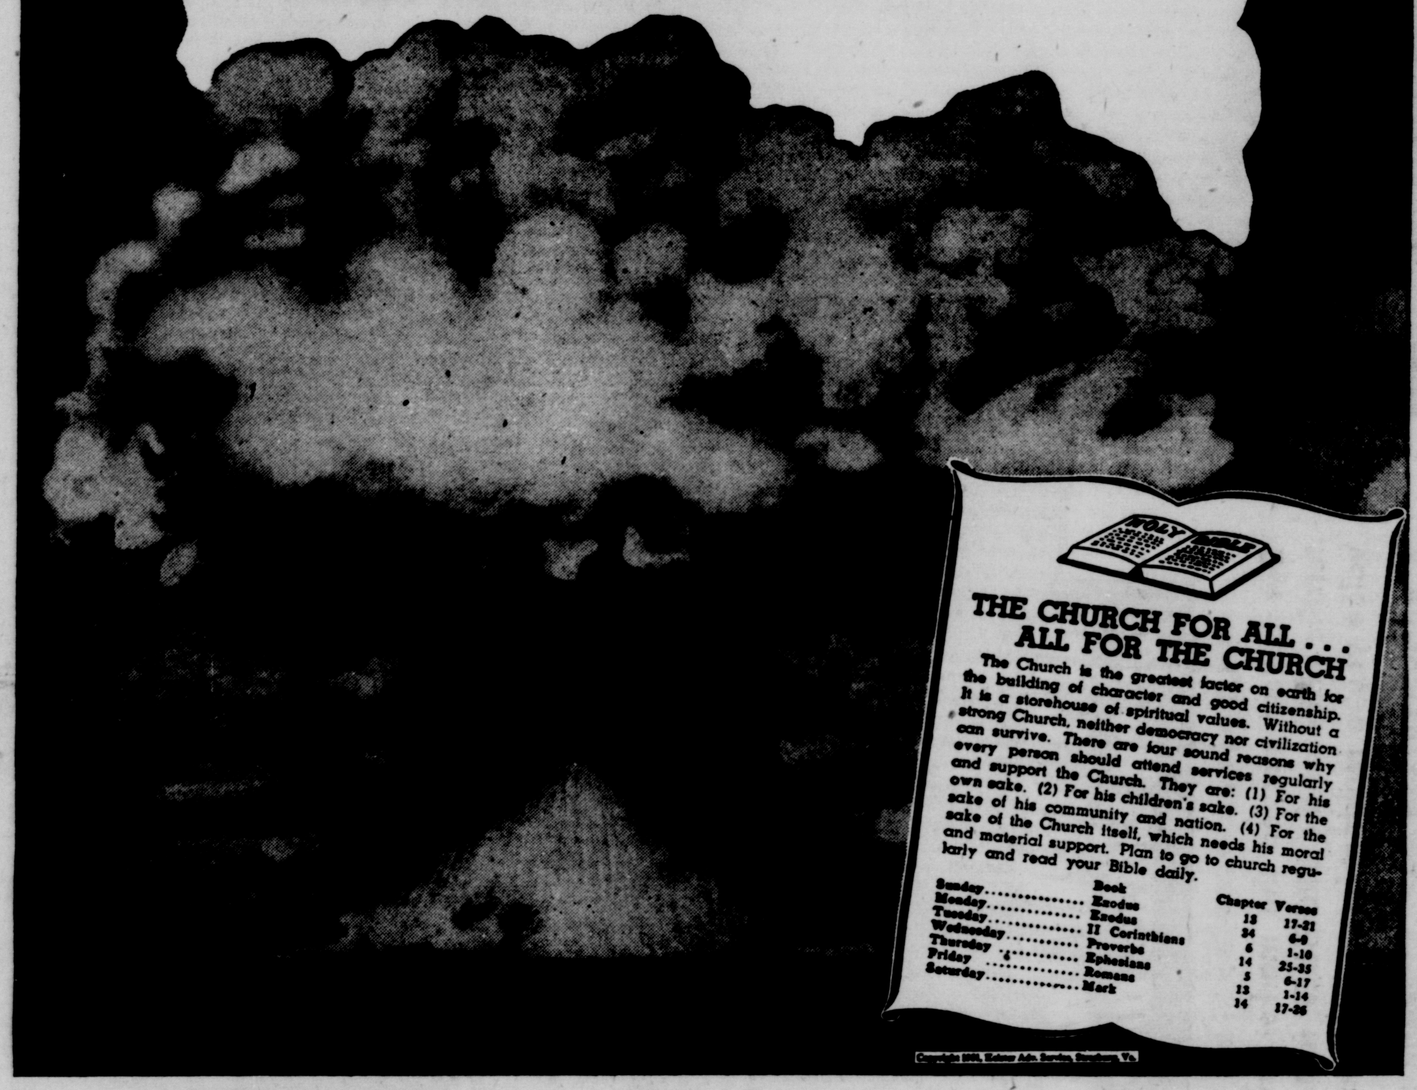
It happened three thousand years ago. A pillar of cloud and a pillar of fire were the symbols of Divine Guidance. By them, God led His chosen people through the wilderness.

Hardly the same thing as an atomic explosion . . . and yet, is it possible that this modern pillar of cloud and fire is leading men through a modern wilderness!

The fearful knowledge of the extent to which man has perfected the "art of destruction" is awakening the world to a new appreciation of the importance of spiritual guidance.

Next Sunday—World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

God again appears in a pillar of cloud and fire!



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lopat Fools Giants To Win Second Game

Monte Irvin Gets 3 Hits In 3-1 Game

Jim Hearn And Vic Raschi To Oppose Each Other Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Yankees bounced back behind Easy Ed Lopat's superlative southpaw pitching today to cool the blazing Giants, 3 to 1, and square the World Series at a victory apiece.

Jim Hearn — Vic Raschi

The chunky lefthander, winner of 21 games during the season, dazzled the National League champions with them to five singles and keeping them far from home plate except in the seventh.

Casey Stengel's crew wrapped up the triumph with a pair of runs off Larry Jansen, Giants' righthander, in the first two chapters. The winning tally crossed on a solo blast into the right field stands by Joe Collins, Yanks first baseman, in the second. From there on the Giants were in a hopeless chase of Lopat's dipsy doodles.

Irvin Is Sizzling

Only Monte Irvin, the Giants' sizzling left fielder, found the bomber southpaw no puzzle. Monte rapped three clean singles into the outfield grass to go with the triple and three singles he blasted in yesterday's opener.

After the first two frames, Jansen fully matched Lopat's brilliance until he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh. From the time Collins connected for his 10th of the year with two out in the second, Jansen retired 13 straight batters. George Spencer, his relief, also sat the Bombers down in order in the seventh to run the string to 16 in a row before the American Leaguers added their final run in the eighth.

The game, for all the tight pitching, lacked some of the excitement of yesterday's tense battle and the crowd of 66,018 sat on its hands most of the warm, sunny afternoon.

Except for Irvin's long single to open the second inning, a two-out walk to Eddie Stanky in the third and a single into left field by Alvin Dark in the sixth, the southpaw had been impregnable going into the seventh.

Irvin led off with a smash past Lopat's glove into center field and Whitey Lockman followed with a shot into center off a 3 and 2 pitch.

May's Bunt Fails

Willie Mays, the young Negro centerfielder who has been in a sad batting slump, tried to advance the runners with a bunt, but Bobby Brown, Yank third sacker, pounced on Willie's effort and nailed Lockman at second. Irvin, however, reached third safely and the rally continued to flourish as Wes Westrum drew Lopat's second walk of the game.

Bill Rigney went up to hit for Hank Thompson. The bespectacled utility infielder came through with a long fly to right on which Irvin easily scored, but Ray Noble, husky Negro catcher batting for Jansen, fouled out to Larry Berra to close out the inning.

It looked as if the Yanks intended to bunt Jansen right out of the park when Mickey Mantle dragged his beauty down the first base line and Phil Rizzuto followed with another which he easily beat out.

Lockman tossed wildly to Eddie Stanky, who covered first on the play, and Mantle raced on to third.

Gil McDougald then blooped a single into short right to score Mantle.

Tomorrow the scene shifts to the nearby home of the Giants.

Leo Durocher will go with big Jim Hearn, the righthander who pitched such a great game against the Dodgers in the playoff opener at Ebbets Field on Monday. For the Yanks it will be Vic Raschi. Hearn has a season's record of 17-9, Raschi of 21-10.

Jansen Better Than Koslo, Yankees Say

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS)—Here is what the Yanks had to say after their 3-1 triumph over the Giants in the second game today.

Casey Stengel: "Well, that makes it a great series. We saw a great pitcher out there today. That feller Larry Jansen has everything — but Mickey Mantle and Phil Rizzuto caught him flatfooted at the start with those two drag bunts they beat out. They tried them on their own, too. I had nothing to do with it."

Phil Rizzuto: "Jansen is a thousand times better pitcher than that Koslo who beat us yesterday. Jansen was really rough. He had everything a great pitcher needs. I'd hate to see him very often but I'd like nothing better than to hit against Koslo every day of the year."

Ed Lopat, the winning pitcher: "I felt pretty sharp today. My control was real good so I fed them plenty of screw balls, high hard ones and change-ups."

According to the American Turf Register of 1830 there were 45 race courses in the United States at that time.

Steady Eddie

Durocher Backs Team's Players

Takes Blame Because Giant Rally Failed

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Leo Durocher shouldered the responsibility today for stopping Monte Irvin at second base on Whitey Lockman's hit in the Giants one threat in the second World Series game—while in another room Irvin said he stopped on his own initiative.

This is the new Durocher—a manager who said all along the Giants were "my kind of a team" and now at a critical point refused to blame any of his players.

"Let's say I held him up," said Durocher in response to questions after the game.

He didn't know that at almost the same moment Irvin was saying:

"I stopped because I was afraid Joe DiMaggio would throw me out."

Here was the setting. With the Giants trailing 2-0 in the top of the seventh, Irvin, first man up, singled through the center of the diamond. Lockman, the next batter, rapped a singel to left center. Irvin was away fast but after circling second, came back to the bag. He had already shown his speed in the series by stealing two bases in two games (including home), but he played it safe.

Had he gone on to third and been safe the stage would have been set for a Giant rally. Instead he advanced on Willie Mays' bunt and scored on Bill Rigney's fly, the only Giant run of the game.

Durocher came in for a thorough review of this inning in his private office but he took it all with a smile.

"How come Mays bunted?" he was asked.

"I ordered him to bunt. Yes, I was still playing for the big inning. I was guarding against the double play. No one was out. After all, I had a 20-year-old boy at the plate. He isn't a seasoned hitter."

Series Notes

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct5 (AP) — What happened to all the talk about the jackrabbit ball?

This could turn out to be a real pitchers' series at the rate it's going. Yesterday in the opener, Dave Koslo of the Giants gave up only seven hits. Today, Eddie Lopat yielded only five and the two Giants' hurlers, Larry Jansen and George Spencer were tapped for but six.

• — • — •

Possibly the fact that the screen usually in center field in the stadium was down and the batters had to face a background of white shirts had something to do with it.

• — • — •

Don't try to tell that to Monte Irvin of the Giants, though. The big Negro outfielder collected another three hits today to go with his four yesterday for a total of seven. The record is 12, set by several players.

• — • — •

At first, the Yanks thought Mickey Mantle might have fractured a bone in his right leg. But later, it was decided to treat the injured knee with ice packs instead of x-rays. He's probably out for good in this series, though. When he fell going after a fly ball, which Joe DiMaggio eventually caught, he didn't move a muscle on the ground. The alarmed DiMaggio immediately waved for the stretcher.

• — • — •

Bobby Thomson had a 16-game hitting streak going. But he couldn't do anything against Lopat's change-ups.

Beall, Barton Capture WMI League Openers

Braves Down Central 2-1; Flintstone Loses

Barton's Braves downed Central High's defending champions 2-1 and Beall blanked Flintstone 2-0 in the opening games of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League yesterday at Barton and Frostburg.

Central scored first in the Barton tilt when Thompson booted home a field goal in the initial quarter but Sonny Kyle's penalty boot knotted the count in the second stanza.

A pass from Harry Bly to Bob Kirk set up the winning counter in the final period and Kirk scored with about 8 minutes gone in the stanza.

Burner and Poland tallied Beall's singletons as the Frostburg team opened its WMI season with a victory after dropping a non-league tilt to Grantsville earlier in the week.

Outstanding players in the two tilts were McIntyre, Thompson and Kelly for Central, George Robertson, Sonny Kyle and Bob Kirk for Barton, Don Bell, Buddy Poland and G. Rafferty for Beall and Fletcher, T. Puffingerger and G. Mallow for Flintstone. The lineups:

RIDGELEY, W. Va., Oct. 5—Sparked by Sophomore Ernie Courrier who scored three touchdowns the Keyser High Golden Tornado scored its first victory in four starts this season by downing Ridgeley's Blackhawks 25-0 here today, in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

A fumble set up Keyser's first score in the initial quarter and Courrier took it over from the three. A 20-yard pass from Bill Raines to Joe Swisher highlighted a 31-yard march.

A pass from Raines to Jim Householder accounted for the winners' final score in the fourth period.

Neil Leary, substitute Keyser back was injured when clipped during the game and was admitted to Memorial Hospital, suffering from a back injury. The lineups:

Cage Loop Formed

A Mineral County (W. Va.) Basketball League was established at the last meeting of the coaches of the county, according to John Shelton, Keyser High School athletic director. All teams in the county will play each other and a trophy will be presented to the winning team at the end of the season.

LaSalle Seeks 2nd Victory In Altoona Game Tomorrow

Explorers To Play Second Sunday Tilt

Coach Phil Carolan's LaSalle High Explorers will be seeking their second victory of the current campaign when they travel to Altoona, Pa., tomorrow to do battle with powerful Altoona Catholic in an afternoon fray.

It will mark the secnd straight week the Explorers have been out of town and also the second Sunday contest for the Green Wave.

LaSalle dropped a 14-7 decision to St. Justin's of Pittsbburgh, Pa., last Sunday in a game in which the winning touchdown was made after the final whistle blew.

The Explorers also lost to an other Pittsburgh eleven, St. Mary's of the Mount 13-6 here while their only victory is over St. Wendelin High, also of Pittsburgh.

Coach Carolan reports two of his gridders were injured in the St. Justin's game and will be out of this week's game. Earl McKenkie, quarterback, suffered a broken hand while tackle Charles Kienhofer pulled a ligament in his knee.

Mantle Suffered Sprained Knee

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS) — Mickey Mantle, fleet New York Yankee right fielder, suffered a badly sprained right knee today in the fifth inning of the second World Series game against the Giants.

Mantle, who was chasing a fly by Willie Mays, collapsed as Joe DiMaggio caught the ball. He was carried from the field.

By coincidence, Don Mueller, the Giants' right fielder also is out of the lineup with a sprained ankle, suffered a moment before the Giants won the National League pennant Wednesday.

ACCIDENT, Oct. 5—Coach Charley Strauss' Accident High booters captured their fourth straight Garrett County Soccer League game today by defeating Oakland 3-0 here.

Ray Ferguson, Dan Edgar and Harold Brant scored for the winners who piled up a 3-0 lead in the first half and then kept Oakland at bay the remainder of the game. Brant's tally came on a penalty kick.

Edgar and John Georg were outstanding for the winners, who have not lost a game in the circut, while Tasker was Oakland's best bet.

The loop leaders will play second place Grantsville in the top game Tuesday at Accident.

The Kitzmiller booters defeated Friendsville in another league game yesterday although the score was not reported. It was Friendsville's third straight loss. The lineups:

Irish Outclass Detroit, 40-6

DETROIT, Oct. 5 (AP) — Halfback John Petitbon streaked to three first period touchdowns on 85, 73 and 38-yard runs to lead the brash young men of Notre Dame to a 40 to 6 victory over outclassed Detroit tonight.

The 52,371 fans had their eyes on Notre Dame's promising freshmen and sophomores when Petitbon, a senior veteran, stole the show with an opening kickoff, 85-yard touchdown run.

Notre Dame Quarterback John Mazur pitched a 29-yard touchdown pass to End Jim Mutscheller in the second period. In the fourth, John Lattner intercepted a Detroit pass and skipped 32 yards for a score and Ralph Guglielmi bulled over from the one yard line for another.

Notre Dame tried its novel "T" formation a few times but otherwise kept its tricks under cover in the first night game in Irish history.

Lopat's Single Important Hit

Cinched Game, Yanks Lefthander Relates

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—"That was the big one," said Lefty Ed Lopat.

You mean the game, won today by the Yankees, 3-1, to tie the world series at one-one?

You mean the sparkling five-hit pitching performance that put a damper — temporarily, at least — on Leo Durocher's brash athletes from across the Harlem River?

"Naw, I mean that single of mine in the eighth inning that gave us our third run," said the sandy-haired southpaw from New York.

"I felt better about that hit than I did about my pitching. It was an insurance run. It kept the Giants from bunting on us in the ninth. It was a big one."

Lopat's slashing single scored pinch-runner Billy Martin from second base, and that plus a nice assortment of fast balls and curves gave Lopat his second world series victory.

The 21-game winner was the center of attention in the Yankee dressing room, where the baseball champions of the world took their victory in stride.

But out of the sweat and steam of the big room under the stadium arose a new and definite respect for the dashing, slashing New York Giants, champions of the National League.

"They're going to be rough," said Manager Casey Stengel, relaxing on a broad sofa in his office, half dressed, and puffing away on a cigarette.

"Those fellows play hard, good ball and we're going to have a whale of a series before we're through. They threw some mighty good pitching at us today. That fellow Jansen was hard to get along with."

Potomac State Is 12-0 Winner

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 5 (AP) —Despite a brilliant display of passing by Quarterback Boo Lincoln of the Newport News Apprentice School, Potomac State of Keyser, W. Va., rolled to a 12-0 victory here tonight, maintain its undefeated and unscored on record.

Both Potomac touchdowns came in the second quarter and the West Virginians spent most of the last half protecting the goal line from numerous Apprentice threats.

The visitors scored first on a 31-yard pass from Quarterback Dick Anderson to End Vern Wilson and scored again when Dick Roe intercepted a heave by Lincoln and ran it 34 yards. Score:

POTOMAC STATE	0	12	0	0	—12

Pep's License Revoked, Saddler Suspended By N. Y. Commissioner

Action Is Result Of Title Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Bob Christenberry, who was named boxing czar of New York ten days ago with orders to "clean up" the sport, showed he meant business today by revoking Willie Pep's license and indefinitely suspending Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler.

The new chairman of the state athletic commission handed out the drastic penalties for the roughhouse brawl the two staged in their fourth title meeting at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26. Both violated almost every rule in the book.

At the same time Christenberry suspended Charley Johnston, Saddler's manager, for 30 days and fined him $100 for yelling at Dr. Vincent Nardiello during the fight. Nardiello was the ringside physician. The commission took no action against Pep's manager, Lou Viscusi.

The 29-year old Pep, one of boxings' great little men and twice holder of the featherweight crown, appeared stunned when the penalty was announced by Christenberry.

"For how long? I expect to box again," he said.

"You can always come back to the commission," replied the chairman. "The door is not closed."

The action against both fighters is effective only in New York. The commission here is not affiliated with the National Boxing Association.

Oklahoma Meets Texas A & M In Top Grid Battle

Ohio State-Michigan State Also Headliner

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Oklahoma, the mythical national college football champion last year, has not been exactly overlooked this season but there are few experts who think the Sooners will repeat.

They could, though, and they make another stop in their quest for top honors before a crowd of about 40,000 at College Station, Tex. tomorrow night against Texas A and M.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners will be favored by 6½ points, but they will remember last year's game which they barely won in the closing seconds, 34-28. The Sooners currently are rated No. 4 in the country.

Tennessee Faces Duke

This is one of the several top games across the nation. In the Midwest, the big one is Ohio State-Michigan State; in the South, it's Tennessee-Duke; in the East, it's Navy-Princeton, and on the West Coast it's Washington - Southern California.

The Ohio State-Michigan State fracas could determine the national titlist for 1951. Both teams are loaded with talent, and both have had a close squeak. Ohio State just nosed out Southern Methodist last week 7-0. Michigan State started slowly, nipping Oregon State, 6-0 two weeks ago.

Tennessee, which according to the experts who voted in the Associated Press' pre-season poll, should be at the top of the heap at the close of the season, faces a toughie in Duke. The Blue Devils are shooting for the Southern Conference title which has been handed to Maryland.

If you were to go on the basis of what team has lost the most players, you'd have to pick Navy over Princeton. But the word is that Charlie Caldwell has another bunch of mighty men to throw at the opposition again this year, after being undefeated in '50.

Navy tied Yale, 7-all, last week, so if Princeton wins this one—at least on the basis of comparative scores—the Tigers ought to be capable of giving Cornell trouble for the Ivy League title. Cornell, the favorite, plays Syracuse in a non - league game.

Minnesota At California

Pappy Waldorf's mighty Bears of California will be watching the Washington - Southern California game with more than passing interest. The Huskies were rated the only team which might bean out the Bears for the Pacific Coast championship. The Southern California game will tell the story.

California will be playing host to Minnesota of the Big Ten. Northwestern, another Big Ten school, entertains Army, which in ordinary years probably would go back to the Plains with the Wildcats ears. Not this time, though.

The Big Ten race begins operations with Illinois playing Wisconsin and Purdue going against Iowa. In the Big Seven, Kansas State tangles with Nebraska and Kansas plays Colorado. Columbia meets Harvard and Yale tokes on Brown in the Ivy League.

Kentucky, beaten in its first two starts, tackles Georgia Tech and Southwest Conference champion Texas has a date with North Carolina.

Belmont Futurity Scheduled Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The famed Belmont Futurity, world's richest race for two-year-olds, is on tap tomorrow at Belmont Park with the winner almost certain to be acclaimed the 1951 juvenile champion.

Fourteen speedy colts were entered for the $50,000-added classic, with the flashy quartet of Calumet Farm's Hill Gail, Greentree Stable's Tom Fool, Marlboro Stud's Jet Master, and Alfred Vanderbilt's Cousin heading the list.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 5—Moorefield's Yellowjackets scored game's only touchdown in the second period and then staved off several Romney threats to defeat the Pioneers 7-0 here today in a Potomac Valley Conefrence tilt.

Bob Myers plunged over from the one-yard line to cap a 55-yard drive in seven plays for the winners. Merle Barr returned a Romney punt to the Moorefield 45 to start the game-winning surge midway in the second stanza.

With Barr, Bob Wilson and Myers lugging the leather the Jackets rolled up four first downs. Myers made a 10-yard run to highlight the drive before going over from the one.

Romney threatened twice, once in the first quarter and again in the final canto but lost the ball both times deep in Yellowjacket territory.

In the first drive Hartman intercepted a Barr pass on the 50 and returned to Moorefield's 43. A pass from Payne to Hare for 19 yards sparked the resultant drive with the Pioneers making a first on the moorefield 2. The Jackets held and took over on downs on the seven.

The second march late in the fourth period again reached the Moorefield two but again the Jackets held. The two teams shared the PVC crown last year.

The victory was Moorefield's fourth of the year, against one loss. The loss was Romney's first. The lineups:

Westvaco Is Host To Moorefield Nine

Westvaco tossers will be host to Moorefield tomorrow at Memorial Baseball Park in Westernport in the second game of their playoff series. The Westernport nine won the opener from Moorefield last week and will seek a sweep of the series in tomorrow's tilt.

Game time will be 3:30 p. m. and Nichols or Raines is expected to hurl for the Pepermakers.

Shades of Ruth and Gehrig! Imagine the Yanks of old trying to score in the first inning with bunts. The '51 edition did, though, and until Casey Stengel's men scored their third run, it looked mighty big.

Fort Hill High's Sentinels registered another impressive victory last night at Fort Hill stadium with a 28-7 verdict over the Martinsburg High Bulldogs.

The first quarter was scoreless although the Sentinels threatened after the kickoff when Dick Beard broke loose for a 28-yard romp to the Martinsburg 27. But the Bulldogs held for downs and threatened themselves later, going to the Fort Hill 17, where a fourth down pass in the end zone was incomplete.

Fort Hill scored twice in the second period, driving 83 yards for the first six-pointer which Beard tallied on a 37-yard skirt of his right end.

Morris Recovers Fumble

The Sentinels then took a Martinsburg punt later in the stanza and drove 53 yards in seven plays for the second counter, Leonard White scoring from the 11.

Charles Morris recovered a Martinsburg fumble on the Fort Hill 27 to set up the third touchdown. Later Halfback Leonard White went over right tackle and dashed 55 yards to account for the six-pointer. Beard's kick gave the Sentinels a comfortable 21-0 lead.

In the waning minutes of the third quarter Fort Hill concluded its scoring. Quarterback Jim Farris, aided by a breakaway block by John Poling, ran the last 21 yards for the touchdown.

Martinsburg sandwiched a touchdown between the last two Sentinal scores. Don Netoskie ran 80 yards with the kickoff to score standing up and brought the 5,000 fans to their feet. Netoskie also added the point from placement.

At Frederick Beall High's Mountaineers went down to a thrilling 27-18 defeat at the hands of Coach Homer Brooks' Frederick High Cadets.

Frederick Scores First

Frederick scored first on a 19-yard pass but Beall went ahead 12-6 in the initial quarter. The Cadets added two more touchdowns in the second stanza to lead 20-12 at the close of three periods of play.

The Mounties tallied again on Miller's plunge from the two to make it 20-18 early in the final period but Frederick added the clinching touchdown moments later.

At Hagerstown Allegany High lost its second game of the season as a veteran Hub City eleven, which apparently has found itself after two bad games, downed the Campers 19-0. The lineups:

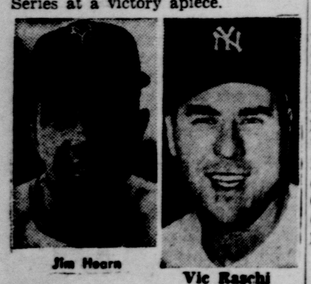
Lopat Fools Giants To Win Second Game

Monte Irvin Gets 3 Hits In 3-1 Game

Jim Hearn And Vic Raschi To Oppose Each Other Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Yankees bounced back behind Easy Ed Lopat's superlative southpaw pitching today to cool the blazing Giants, 3 to 1, and square the World Series at a victory apiece.



Jim Hearn — Vic Raschi

The chunky lefthander, winner of 21 games during the season, dazzled the National League champions with them to five singles and keeping them far from home plate except in the seventh.

Casey Stengel's crew wrapped up the triumph with a pair of runs off Larry Jansen, Giants' righthander, in the first two chapters. The winning tally crossed on a solo blast into the right field stands by Joe Collins, Yanks first baseman, in the second. From there on the Giants were in a hopeless chase of Lopat's dipsy doodles.

Irvin Is Sizzling

Only Monte Irvin, the Giants' sizzling left fielder, found the bomber southpaw no puzzle. Monte rapped three clean singles into the outfield grass to go with the triple and three singles he blasted in yesterday's opener.

After the first two frames, Jansen fully matched Lopat's brilliance until he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh. From the time Collins connected for his 10th of the year with two out in the second, Jansen retired 13 straight batters. George Spencer, his relief, also sat the Bombers down in order in the seventh to run the string to 16 in a row before the American Leaguers added their final run in the eighth.

The game, for all the tight pitching, lacked some of the excitement of yesterday's tense battle and the crowd of 66,018 sat on its hands most of the warm, sunny afternoon.

Except for Irvin's long single to open the second inning, a two-out walk to Eddie Stanky in the third and a single into left field by Alvin Dark in the sixth, the southpaw had been impregnable going into the seventh.

Irvin led off with a smash past Lopat's glove into center field and Whitey Lockman followed with a shot into center off a 3 and 2 pitch.

May's Bunt Fails

Willie Mays, the young Negro centerfielder who has been in a sad batting slump, tried to advance the runners with a bunt, but Bobby Brown, Yank third sacker, pounced on Willie's effort and nailed Lockman at second. Irvin, however, reached third safely and the rally continued to flourish as Wes Westrum drew Lopat's second walk of the game.

Bill Rigney went up to hit for Hank Thompson. The bespectacled utility infielder came through with a long fly to right on which Irvin easily scored, but Ray Noble, husky Negro catcher batting for Jansen, fouled out to Larry Berra to close out the inning.

It looked as if the Yanks intended to bunt Jansen right out of the park when Mickey Mantle dragged his beauty down the first base line and Phil Rizzuto followed with another which he easily beat out.

Lockman tossed wildly to Eddie Stanky, who covered first on the play, and Mantle raced on to third.

Gil McDougald then blooped a single into short right to score Mantle.

Tomorrow the scene shifts to the nearby home of the Giants.

Leo Durocher will go with big Jim Hearn, the righthander who pitched such a great game against the Dodgers in the playoff opener at Ebbets Field on Monday. For the Yanks it will be Vic Raschi. Hearn has a season's record of 17-9, Raschi of 21-10.

Jansen Better Than Koslo, Yankees Say

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS)—Here is what the Yanks had to say after their 3-1 triumph over the Giants in the second game today.

Casey Stengel: "Well, that makes it a great series. We saw a great pitcher out there today. That feller Larry Jansen has everything — but Mickey Mantle and Phil Rizzuto caught him flatfooted at the start with those two drag bunts they beat out. They tried them on their own, too. I had nothing to do with it."

Phil Rizzuto: "Jansen is a thousand times better pitcher than that Koslo who beat us yesterday. Jansen was really rough. He had everything a great pitcher needs. I'd hate to see him very often but I'd like nothing better than to hit against Koslo every day of the year."

Ed Lopat, the winning pitcher: "I felt pretty sharp today. My control was real good so I fed them plenty of screw balls, high hard ones and change-ups."

According to the American Turf Register of 1830 there were 45 race courses in the United States at that time.

Durocher Backs Team's Players

Takes Blame Because Giant Rally Failed

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Leo Durocher shouldered the responsibility today for stopping Monte Irvin at second base on Whitey Lockman's hit in the Giants one threat in the second World Series game—while in another room Irvin said he stopped on his own initiative.

This is the new Durocher—a manager who said all along the Giants were "my kind of a team" and now at a critical point refused to blame any of his players.

"Let's say I held him up," said Durocher in response to questions after the game.

He didn't know that at almost the same moment Irvin was saying:

"I stopped because I was afraid Joe DiMaggio would throw me out."

Here was the setting. With the Giants trailing 2-0 in the top of the seventh, Irvin, first man up, singled through the center of the diamond. Lockman, the next batter, rapped a singel to left center. Irvin was away fast but after circling second, came back to the bag. He had already shown his speed in the series by stealing two bases in two games (including home), but he played it safe.

Had he gone on to third and been safe the stage would have been set for a Giant rally. Instead he advanced on Willie Mays' bunt and scored on Bill Rigney's fly, the only Giant run of the game.

Durocher came in for a thorough review of this inning in his private office but he took it all with a smile.

"How come Mays bunted?" he was asked.

"I ordered him to bunt. Yes, I was still playing for the big inning. I was guarding against the double play. No one was out. After all, I had a 20-year-old boy at the plate. He isn't a seasoned hitter."

Series Notes

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct5 (AP) — What happened to all the talk about the jackrabbit ball?

This could turn out to be a real pitchers' series at the rate it's going. Yesterday in the opener, Dave Koslo of the Giants gave up only seven hits. Today, Eddie Lopat yielded only five and the two Giants' hurlers, Larry Jansen and George Spencer were tapped for but six.

● — ● — ●

Possibly the fact that the screen usually in center field in the stadium was down and the batters had to face a background of white shirts had something to do with it.

● — ● — ●

Don't try to tell that to Monte Irvin of the Giants, though. The big Negro outfielder collected another three hits today to go with his four yesterday for a total of seven. The record is 12, set by several players.

● — ● — ●

At first, the Yanks thought Mickey Mantle might have fractured a bone in his right leg. But later, it was decided to treat the injured knee with ice packs instead of x-rays. He's probably out for good in this series, though. When he fell going after a fly ball, which Joe DiMaggio eventually caught, he didn't move a muscle on the ground. The alarmed DiMaggio immediately waved for the stretcher.

● — ● — ●

Bobby Thomson had a 16-game hitting streak going. But he couldn't do anything against Lopat's change-ups.

Beall, Barton Capture WMI League Openers

Braves Down Central 2-1; Flintstone Loses

Barton's Braves downed Central High's defending champions 2-1 and Beall blanked Flintstone 2-0 in the opening games of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League yesterday at Barton and Frostburg.

Central scored first in the Barton tilt when Thompson booted home a field goal in the initial quarter but Sonny Kyle's penalty boot knotted the count in the second stanza.

A pass from Harry Bly to Bob Kirk set up the winning counter in the final period and Kirk scored with about 8 minutes gone in the stanza.

Burner and Poland tallied Beall's singletons as the Frostburg team opened its WMI season with a victory after dropping a non-league tilt to Grantsville earlier in the week.

Outstanding players in the two tilts were McIntyre, Thompson and Kelly for Central, George Robertson, Sonny Kyle and Bob Kirk for Barton, Don Bell, Buddy Poland and G. Rafferty for Beall and Fletcher, T. Puffingerger and G. Mallow for Flintstone. The lineups:

RIDGELEY, W. Va., Oct. 5—Sparked by Sophomore Ernie Courrier who scored three touchdowns the Keyser High Golden Tornado scored its first victory in four starts this season by downing Ridgeley's Blackhawks 25-0 here today, in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

A fumble set up Keyser's first score in the initial quarter and Courrier took it over from the three. A 20-yard pass from Bill Raines to Joe Swisher highlighted a 31-yard march.

A pass from Raines to Jim Householder accounted for the winners' final score in the fourth period.

Neil Leary, substitute Keyser back was injured when clipped during the game and was admitted to Memorial Hospital, suffering from a back injury. The lineups:

LaSalle Seeks 2nd Victory In Altoona Game Tomorrow

Explorers To Play Second Sunday Tilt

Coach Phil Carolan's LaSalle High Explorers will be seeking their second victory of the current campaign when they travel to Altoona, Pa., tomorrow to do battle with powerful Altoona Catholic in an afternoon fray.

It will mark the secnd straight week the Explorers have been out of town and also the second Sunday contest for the Green Wave.

LaSalle dropped a 14-7 decision to St. Justin's of Pittsbburgh, Pa., last Sunday in a game in which the winning touchdown was made after the final whistle blew.

The Explorers also lost to another Pittsburgh eleven, St. Mary's of the Mount 13-6 here while their only victory is over St. Wendelin High, also of Pittsburgh.

Coach Carolan reports two of his gridders were injured in the St. Justin's game and will be out of this week's game. Earl McKenkie, quarterback, suffered a broken hand while tackle Charles Kienhofer pulled a ligament in his knee.

Mantle Suffered Sprained Knee

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS) — Mickey Mantle, fleet New York Yankee right fielder, suffered a badly sprained right knee today in the fifth inning of the second World Series game against the Giants.

Mantle, who was chasing a fly by Willie Mays, collapsed as Joe DiMaggio caught the ball. He was carried from the field.

By coincidence, Don Mueller, the Giants' right fielder also is out of the lineup with a sprained ankle, suffered a moment before the Giants won the National League pennant Wednesday.

ACCIDENT, Oct. 5—Coach Charley Strauss' Accident High booters captured their fourth straight Garrett County Soccer League game today by defeating Oakland 3-0 here.

Ray Ferguson, Dan Edgar and Harold Brant scored for the winners who piled up a 3-0 lead in the first half and then kept Oakland at bay the remainder of the game. Brant's tally came on a penalty kick.

Edgar and John Georg were outstanding for the winners, who have not lost a game in the circut, while Tasker was Oakland's best bet.

The loop leaders will play second place Grantsville in the top game Tuesday at Accident.

The Kitzmiller booters defeated Friendsville in another league game yesterday although the score was not reported. It was Friendsville's third straight loss. The lineups:

Irish Outclass Detroit, 40-6

DETROIT, Oct. 5 (AP) — Halfback John Petitbon streaked to three first period touchdowns on 85, 73 and 38-yard runs to lead the brash young men of Notre Dame to a 40 to 6 victory over outclassed Detroit tonight.

The 52,371 fans had their eyes on Notre Dame's promising freshmen and sophomores when Petitbon, a senior veteran, stole the show with an opening kickoff, 85-yard touchdown run.

Notre Dame Quarterback John Mazur pitched a 29-yard touchdown pass to End Jim Mutscheller in the second period. In the fourth, John Lattner intercepted a Detroit pass and skipped 32 yards for a score and Ralph Guglielmi bulled over from the one yard line for another.

Notre Dame tried its novel "T" formation a few times but otherwise kept its tricks under cover in the first night game in Irish history.

Lopat's Single Important Hit

Cinched Game, Yanks Lefthander Relates

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—"That was the big one," said Lefty Ed Lopat.

You mean the game, won today by the Yankees, 3-1, to tie the world series at one-one?

You mean the sparkling five-hit pitching performance that put a damper — temporarily, at least — on Leo Durocher's brash athletes from across the Harlem River?

"Naw, I mean that single of mine in the eighth inning that gave us our third run," said the sandy-haired southpaw from New York.

"I felt better about that hit than I did about my pitching. It was an insurance run. It kept the Giants from bunting on us in the ninth. It was a big one."

Lopat's slashing single scored pinch-runner Billy Martin from second base, and that plus a nice assortment of fast balls and curves gave Lopat his second world series victory.

The 21-game winner was the center of attention in the Yankee dressing room, where the baseball champions of the world took their victory in stride.

But out of the sweat and steam of the big room under the stadium arose a new and definite respect for the dashing, slashing New York Giants, champions of the National League.

"They're going to be rough," said Manager Casey Stengel, relaxing on a broad sofa in his office, half dressed, and puffing away on a cigarette.

"Those fellows play hard, good ball and we're going to have a whale of a series before we're through. They threw some mighty good pitching at us today. That fellow Jansen was hard to get along with."

Potomac State Is 12-0 Winner

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 5 (AP) —Despite a brilliant display of passing by Quarterback Boo Lincoln of the Newport News Apprentice School, Potomac State of Keyser, W. Va., rolled to a 12-0 victory here tonight, maintain its undefeated and unscored on record.

Both Potomac touchdowns came in the second quarter and the West Virginians spent most of the last half protecting the goal line from numerous Apprentice threats.

The visitors scored first on a 31-yard pass from Quarterback Dick Anderson to End Vern Wilson and scored again when Dick Roe intercepted a heave by Lincoln and ran it 34 yards. Score:

POTOMAC STATE ... 0 12 0 0—12

Potomac Scoring: Touchdowns—Wilson, Poe.

Action Is Result Of Title Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Bob Christenberry, who was named boxing czar of New York ten days ago with orders to "clean up" the sport, showed he meant business today by revoking Willie Pep's license and indefinitely suspending Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler.

The new chairman of the state athletic commission handed out the drastic penalties for the roughhouse brawl the two staged in their fourth title meeting at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26. Both violated almost every rule in the book.

At the same time Christenberry suspended Charley Johnston, Saddler's manager, for 30 days and fined him $100 for yelling at Dr. Vincent Nardiello during the fight. Nardiello was the ringside physician. The commission took no action against Pep's manager, Lou Viscusi.

The 29-year old Pep, one of boxings' great little men and twice holder of the featherweight crown, appeared stunned when the penalty was announced by Christenberry.

"For how long? I expect to box again," he said.

"You can always come back to the commission," replied the chairman. "The door is not closed."

The action against both fighters is effective only in New York. The commission here is not affiliated with the National Boxing Association.

Oklahoma Meets Texas A & M In Top Grid Battle

Ohio State-Michigan State Also Headliner

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Oklahoma, the mythical national college football champion last year, has not been exactly overlooked this season but there are few experts who think the Sooners will repeat.

They could, though, and they make another stop in their quest for top honors before a crowd of about 40,000 at College Station, Tex. tomorrow night against Texas A and M.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners will be favored by 6½ points, but they will remember last year's game which they barely won in the closing seconds, 34-28. The Sooners currently are rated No. 4 in the country.

Tennessee Faces Duke

This is one of the several top games across the nation. In the Midwest, the big one is Ohio State-Michigan State; in the South, it's Tennessee-Duke; in the East, it's Navy-Princeton, and on the West Coast it's Washington - Southern California.

The Ohio State-Michigan State fracas could determine the national titlist for 1951. Both teams are loaded with talent, and both have had a close squeak. Ohio State just nosed out Southern Methodist last week 7-0. Michigan State started slowly, nipping Oregon State, 6-0 two weeks ago.

Tennessee, which according to the experts who voted in the Associated Press' pre-season poll, should be at the top of the heap at the close of the season, faces a toughie in Duke. The Blue Devils are shooting for the Southern Conference title which has been handed to Maryland.

If you were to go on the basis of what team has lost the most players, you'd have to pick Navy over Princeton. But the word is that Charlie Caldwell has another bunch of mighty men to throw at the opposition again this year, after being undefeated in '50.

Navy tied Yale, 7-all, last week, so if Princeton wins this one—at least on the basis of comparative scores—the Tigers ought to be capable of giving Cornell trouble for the Ivy League title. Cornell, the favorite, plays Syracuse in a non - league game.

Minnesota At California

Pappy Waldorf's mighty Bears of California will be watching the Washington - Southern California game with more than passing interest. The Huskies were rated the only team which might bean out the Bears for the Pacific Coast championship. The Southern California game will tell the story.

California will be playing host to Minnesota of the Big Ten. Northwestern, another Big Ten school, entertains Army, which in ordinary years probably would go back to the Plains with the Wildcats ears. Not this time, though.

The Big Ten race begins operations with Illinois playing Wisconsin and Purdue going against Iowa. In the Big Seven, Kansas State tangles with Nebraska and Kansas plays Colorado. Columbia meets Harvard and Yale tokes on Brown in the Ivy League.

Kentucky, beaten in its first two starts, tackles Georgia Tech and Southwest Conference champion Texas has a date with North Carolina.

Belmont Futurity Scheduled Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The famed Belmont Futurity, world's richest race for two-year-olds, is on tap tomorrow at Belmont Park with the winner almost certain to be acclaimed the 1951 juvenile champion.

Fourteen speedy colts were entered for the $50,000-added classic, with the flashy quartet of Calumet Farm's Hill Gail, Greentree Stable's Tom Fool, Marlboro Stud's Jet Master, and Alfred Vanderbilt's Cousin heading the list.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 5—Moorefield's Yellowjackets scored game's only touchdown in the second period and then staved off several Romney threats to defeat the Pioneers 7-0 here today in a Potomac Valley Conefrence tilt.

Bob Myers plunged over from the one-yard line to cap a 55-yard drive in seven plays for the winners. Merle Barr returned a Romney punt to the Moorefield 45 to start the game-winning surge midway in the second stanza.

With Barr, Bob Wilson and Myers lugging the leather the Jackets rolled up four first downs. Myers made a 10-yard run to highlight the drive before going over from the one.

Romney threatened twice, once in the first quarter and again in the final canto but lost the ball both times deep in Yellowjacket territory.

In the first drive Hartman intercepted a Barr pass on the 50 and returned to Moorefield's 43. A pass from Payne to Hare for 19 yards sparked the resultant drive with the Pioneers making a first on the moorefield 2. The Jackets held and took over on downs on the seven.

The second march late in the fourth period again reached the Moorefield two but again the Jackets held. The two teams shared the PVC crown last year.

The victory was Moorefield's fourth of the year, against one loss. The loss was Romney's first. The lineups:

Westvaco Is Host To Moorefield Nine

Westvaco tossers will be host to Moorefield tomorrow at Memorial Baseball Park in Westernport in the second game of their playoff series. The Westernport nine won the opener from Moorefield last week and will seek a sweep of the series in tomorrow's tilt.

Game time will be 3:30 p. m. and Nichols or Raines is expected to hurl for the Pepermakers.

Shades of Ruth and Gehrig! Imagine the Yanks of old trying to score in the first inning with bunts. The '51 edition did, though, and until Casey Stengel's men scored their third run, it looked mighty big.

Fort Hill High's Sentinels registered another impressive victory last night at Fort Hill stadium with a 28-7 verdict over the Martinsburg High Bulldogs.

The first quarter was scoreless although the Sentinels threatened after the kickoff when Dick Beard broke loose for a 28-yard romp to the Martinsburg 27. But the Bulldogs held for downs and threatened themselves later, going to the Fort Hill 17, where a fourth down pass in the end zone was incomplete.

Fort Hill scored twice in the second period, driving 83 yards for the first six-pointer which Beard tallied on a 37-yard skirt of his right end.

Morris Recovers Fumble

The Sentinels then took a Martinsburg punt later in the stanza and drove 53 yards in seven plays for the second ccunter, Leonard White scoring from the 11.

Charles Morris recovered a Martinsburg fumble on the Fort Hill 27 to set up the third touchdown. Later Halfback Leonard White went over right tackle and dashed 35 yards to account for the six-pointer. Beard's kick gave the Sentinels a comfortable 21-0 lead.

In the waning minutes of the third quarter Fort Hill concluded its scoring. Quarterback Jim Farris, aided by a breakaway block by John Poling, ran the last 21 yards for the touchdown.

Martinsburg sandwiched a touchdown between the last two Sentinal scores. Don Netoskie ran 80 yards with the kickoff to score standing up and brought the 5,000 fans to their feet. Netoskie also added the point from placement.

At Frederick Beall High's Mountaineers went down to a thrilling 27-18 defeat at the hands of Coach Homer Brooks' Frederick High Cadets.

Frederick Scores First

Frederick scored first on a 19-yard pass but Beall went ahead 12-6 in the initial quarter. The Cadets added two more touchdowns in the second stanza to lead 20-12 at the close of three periods of play.

The Mounties tallied again on Miller's plunge from the two to make it 20-18 early in the final period but Frederick added the clinching touchdown moments later.

At Hagerstown Allegany High lost its second game of the season as a veteran Hub City eleven, which apparently has found itself after two bad games, downed the Campers 19-0. The lineups:

Bowling League To Open Sunday

Eight Teams Entered In City Dux Loop

An eight-team City Bowling League will open its 1951-52 season Sunday night.

Last season, the league had two six-team divisions but has been consolidated into a single unit for the coming campaign.

The first night schedule has Diamond at Eagles, Club vs. Pepsi-Cola at Gurley's, B&O at Savoy, and Savoy Juniors vs. Harbaugh's at Savoy.

After a 28-Sunday season, the Shaughnessy roll off and semi-finals will be contested April 20. The championship match has been set for April 27 and the season-concluding banquet will be held May 4.

Second Game Play-By-Play

FIRST INNING GIANTS—Stanky sent a slow roller to McDougald who threw him out. Rizzuto made a nice stop and throw to retire Dark. Woodling took Thomson's long fly. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIRST INNING YANKEES—Mantle bunted Jansen's first pitch past the mound and was credited with a single. Rizzuto beat out a bunt down the first base line and Mantle, who had stipped at second, continued to third when Lockman threw wildly past Stanky. McDougald singled scoring Mantle and sending Rizzuto to second. DiMaggio rapped sharply to Dark who started a double play, the shortstop to Stanky to Lockman with Rizzuto advancing to third. Berra struck out.

One run, three hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING GIANTS—Irvin drove a long single to left-center. Irvin stole second. It was his second stolen base of the series. Lockman hit back to Lopat who bluffed Irvin back to second, then threw to Collins to retire the batter. Brown stopped Mays hard shot and threw him out as Irvin was forced to hold second. Brown also scooped up Westrum's roller and threw to Collins for the putout.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING YANKEES—Woodling flied to Irvin. Brown bounced out. Collins lofted a towering home run into the lower right field stands to increase the Yankees' lead to 2-0. Lockman fielded Lopat's hopper and beat the pitcher to the bag.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING GIANTS—Thompson bounced out. Jansen raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. Stanky drew the game's first walk. Dark flied to Woodling.

THIRD INNING YANKEES—Mantle went down swinging. Rizzuto hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald sent a hot liner to Thomson who plucked the ball off his shoetops.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING GIANTS—Thomson raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. McDougald gathered in Irvin's pop fly. Lockman grounded and was retired.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING YANKEES—DiMaggio went down swinging. Berra tapped over the pitcher's mound, but Dark came in fast to retire the runner with a quick underhand throw to Lockman. Mays got under Woodling's long fly in center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING GIANTS—Mays flied to DiMaggio in right-center. Mantle, who also made a try for the ball, tripped and fell. The young rookie outfielder was borne back on a stretcher to the Yankee dugout. Hank Bauer replaced Mantle in right field for the Yankees. Westrum flied to Woodling. Lopat used only three pitches to make Thompson his first strikeout victim.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING YANKEES—Stanky moved in for Brown's hopper and tossed him out at first. Thomson leaned over into the field boxes behind third to make a nice catch of Collins' foul fly. Lopat looked at a wide sweeping curve for a third strike.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING GIANTS—Jansen popped to McDougald. Stanky tapped to Lopat who threw him out. Dark singled Thomson went out on a long drive to DiMaggio.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING YANKEES—Dark grabbed Bauer's hot shot past the mound and threw to Lockman for the out. Thomson made a fancy pickup of Rizzzuto's sharp grounder and threw him out. McDougald struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS—Irvin singled. Lockman lined a single over second and Irvin, who had headed for third, had to scamper back to second as DiMaggio came in fast to field the ball. Mays bunted down the third base line and Brown, with a fine throw to Rizzuto forced Lockman at second as Irvin moved to third. Westrum walked. Bill Rigney, a righthanded batter went in to hit for Thompson, a lefthanded swinger. Hank Schenz ran for Westrum. Rigney hit to Bauer in deep right-center, Irvin scoring after the catch, Mays raced to third and Schenz remained at first. Ray Noble was called in from the bullpen to bat for Jensen. Noble went out on a short pop foul to Berra.

One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING YANKEES—George Spencer, a righthander, went in to pitch; Clint Hartung went in to play right field, and Noble went behind the plate for the Giants. DiMaggio bounced to Thomson who threw him out. Berra grounded to Stanky who threw to Lockman for the putout. Dark fielded Woodling's high chopper and threw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS—Stanky popped to Collins. Dark raised a high fly to Woodling. Thomson tapped down to Brown whose throw to first was high but Collins made a gloved-hand catch to retire the batter.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING YANKEES—Brown singled. Billy Martin ran for Brown. Collins sent a high chopper to Thomson. When Stanky, who was expecting a bunt was late covering second, Thomson turned and threw to Lockman to retire Collins at first. Martin reached second. Lopat singled scoring Martin. Bauer flied to Irvin. Rizzuto lifted a high fly to Mays.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS—Gerry [illegible] went in to play second base as McDougald switched from second to third. Irvin singled, his third hit of the game and seventh in two days. Lockman bounced to McDougald who threw to Rizzuto for the force-out. McDougald made a nice pickup of Mays' hot bouncer and whipped to Coleman forcing Lockman. Hartung dribbled to Collins who threw to Lopat who covered first for the final putout.

Violators Fined

Guy V. Price, of near Swanton, was fined $101.75 by Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland after being found guilty of possessing deer meat in closed season. He was apprehended by Theodore Thoerig, district game warden.

Robert G. Price, 55, of Ridgeley, also was arrested the same day by Thoerig near Swanton for having a loaded high powered rifle in a pickup truck. He was fined $26.75 following a hearing before Magistrate C. S. Zeller, Grantsville.

Fines totaling $585 for violation of game laws in region No. 1, which comprises Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, have been paid during the past month, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

One hunter was committed to Oakland jail for 60 days for default of $100 fine when charged with having deer meat in his possession during closed season.

Minke said illegal deer killing is still the greatest problem of game wardens.

Mirror Of Your Mind

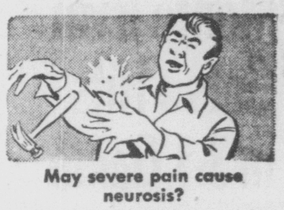
By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist

Do most men dread the idea of marriage?

Answer: Very much so, especially young men. Only after a man has grown old enough to begin to be lonely will he deliberately "look for a wife." If a younger man gets married, it is from some such motive as the fear of losing a particular girl whom he feels he cannot live without, and at best he is likely to go to the altar with a heart full of misgivings. Most of his fears are unconscious relics of his childhood and will die out once he has experienced the joys of having a home of his own. But a young man's jitters at the thought of marriage do not prove that his love is unreal or that he cannot be a satisfactory husband.

Is art the refuge of the maladjusted?

Answer: It can be, to judge from a study of occupational interests made by Don B. Feather of Michigan State College. A larger percentage of students regarded as maladjusted showed their major interests to be in the fields of social service, art, music and literature than chose any other group of subjects. The arts provided both an outlet for repressed emotions and an "escape from reality" which is not found in practical or scientific studies that continually keep you facing "cold facts." As for social service, having troubles of your own not only makes you more aware of other people's but tempts you to try to "work out your salvation" through them.



May severe pain cause neurosis?

Answer: It may serve as the "precipitating cause" of neurotic anxiety, especially with a person who already has a latent sense of insecurity. The more your security has depended on the childish feeling, "Nothing really bad can happen to me," the more something like an operation without anesthesia will upset you—above all if you feel it is someone's fault you had to suffer so much. That is because the main cause of primitive anxiety is fear of someone's personal malevolence, or desire to punish you. Pain is most nearly endurable when it is seen as the impersonal effect of natural causes which can be understood and corrected.

Second Game Play-By-Play

FIRST INNING GIANTS—Stanky sent a slow roller to McDougald who threw him out. Rizzuto made a nice stop and throw to retire Dark. Woodling took Thomson's long fly. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIRST INNING YANKEES—Mantle bunted Jansen's first pitch past the mound and was credited with a single. Rizzuto beat out a bunt down the first base line and Mantle, who had stipped at second, continued to third when Lockman threw wildly past Stanky. McDougald singled scoring Mantle and sending Rizzuto to second. DiMaggio rapped sharply to Dark who started a double play, the shortstop to Stanky to Lockman with Rizzuto advancing to third. Berra struck out.

One run, three hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING GIANTS — Irvin drove a long single to left-center. Irvin stole second. It was his second stolen base of the series. Lockman hit back to Lopat who bluffed Irvin back to second, then threw to Collins to retire the batter. Brown stopped Mays hard shot and threw him out as Irvin was forced to hold second. Brown also scooped up Westrum's roller and threw to Collins for the putout.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING YANKEES—Woodling flied to Irvin. Brown bounced out. Collins lofted a towering home run into the lower right field stands to increase the Yankees' lead to 2-0. Lockman fielded Lopat's hopper and beat the pitcher to the bag.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING GIANTS — Thompson bounced out. Jansen raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. Stanky drew the game's first walk. Dark flied to Woodling.

THIRD INNING YANKEES — Mantle went down swinging. Rizzuto hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald sent a hot liner to Thomson who plucked the ball off his shoetops.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING GIANTS — Thomson raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. McDougald gathered in Irvin's pop fly. Lockman grounded and was retired.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING YANKEES—DiMaggio went down swinging. Berra tapped over the pitcher's mound, but Dark came in fast to retire the runner with a quick underhand throw to Lockman. Mays got under Woodling's long fly in center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING GIANTS—Mays flied to DiMaggio in right-center. Mantle, who also made a try for the ball, tripped and fell. The young rookie outfielder was borne back on a stretcher to the Yankee dugout. Hank Bauer replaced Mantle in right field for the Yankees. Westrum flied to Woodling. Lopat used only three pitches to make Thompson his first strikeout victim.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING YANKEES — Stanky moved in for Brown's hopper and tossed him out at first. Thomson leaned over into the field boxes behind third to make a nice catch of Collins' foul fly. Lopat looked at a wide sweeping curve for a third strike.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING GIANTS—Jansen popped to McDougald. Stanky tapped to Lopat who threw him out. Dark singled Thomson went out on a long drive to DiMaggio.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING YANKEES — Dark grabbed Bauer's hot shot past the mound and threw to Lockman for the out. Thomson made a fancy pickup of Rizzzuto's sharp grounder and threw him out. McDougald struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS—Irvin singled. Lockman lined a single over second and Irvin, who had headed for third, had to scamper back to second as DiMaggio came in fast to field the ball. Mays bunted down the third base line and Brown, with a fine throw to Rizzuto forced Lockman at second as Irvin moved to third. Westrum walked. Bill Rigney, a righthanded batter went in to hit for Thompson, a lefthanded swinger. Hank Schenz ran for Westrum. Rigney hit to Bauer in deep right-center, Irvin scoring after the catch, Mays raced to third and Schenz remained at first. Ray Noble was called in from the bullpen to bat for Jensen. Noble went out on a short pop foul to Berra.

One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING YANKEES—George Spencer, a righthander, went in to pitch; Clint Hartung went in to play right field, and Noble went behind the plate for the Giants. DiMaggio bounced to Thomson who threw him out. Berra grounded to Stanky who threw to Lockman for the putout. Dark fielded Woodling's high chopper and threw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS — Stanky popped to Collins. Dark raised a high fly to Woodling. Thomson tapped down to Brown whose throw to first was high but Collins made a gloved-hand catch to retire the batter.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING YANKEES—Brown singled. Billy Martin ran for Brown. Collins sent a high chopper to Thomson. When Stanky, who was expecting a bunt was late covering second, Thomson turned and threw to Lockman to retire Collins at first. Martin reached second. Lopat singled scoring Martin. Bauer flied to Irvin. Rizzuto lifted a high fly to Mays.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS—Gerry Coleman went in to play second base as McDougald switched from second to third. Irvin singled, his third hit of the game and seventh in two days. Lockman bounced to McDougald who threw to Rizzuto for the force-out. McDougald made a nice pickup of Mays' hot bouncer and whipped to Coleman forcing Lockman. Hartung dribbled to Collins who threw to Lopat who covered first for the final putout.

Violators Fined

Guy V. Price, of near Swanton, was fined $101.75 by Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland after being found guilty of possessing deer meat in closed season. He was apprehended by Theodore Thoerig, district game warden.

Robert G. Price, 55, of Ridgeley, also was arrested the same day by Thoerig near Swanton for having a loaded high powered rifle in a pickup truck. He was fined $26.75 following a hearing before Magistrate C. S. Zeller, Grantsville.

Fines totaling $585 for violation of game laws in region No. 1, which comprises Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, have been paid during the past month, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

One hunter was committed to Oakland jail for 60 days for default of $100 fine when charged with having deer meat in his possession during closed season.

Minke said illegal deer killing is still the greatest problem of game wardens.

Mirror Of Your Mind

By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist

Do most men dread the idea of marriage?

Answer: Very much so, especially young men. Only after a man has grown old enough to begin to be lonely will he deliberately "look for a wife." If a younger man gets married, it is from some such motive as the fear of losing a particular girl whom he feels he cannot live without, and at best he is likely to go to the altar with a heart full of misgivings. Most of his fears are unconscious relics of his childhood and will die out once he has experienced the joys of having a home of his own. But a young man's jitters at the thought of marriage do not prove that his love is unreal or that he cannot be a satisfactory husband.

Is art the refuge of the maladjusted?

Answer: It can be, to judge from a study of occupational interests made by Don B. Feather of Michigan State College. A larger percentage of students regarded as maladjusted showed their major interests to be in the fields of social service, art, music and literature than chose any other group of subjects. The arts provided both an outlet for repressed emotions and an "escape from reality" which is not found in practical or scientific studies that continually keep you facing "cold facts." As for social service, having troubles of your own not only makes you more aware of other people's but tempts you to try to "work out your salvation" through them.

May severe pain cause neurosis?

Answer: It may serve as the "precipitating cause" of neurotic anxiety, especially with a person who already has a latent sense of insecurity. The more your security has depended on the childish feeling, "Nothing really bad can happen to me," the more something like an operation without anesthesia will upset you—above all if you feel it is someone's fault you had to suffer so much. That is because the main cause of primitive anxiety is fear of someone's personal malevolence, or desire to punish you. Pain is most nearly endurable when it is seen as the impersonal effect of natural causes which can be understood and corrected.

Fire Prevention To Get Stress Of Keyser Clubs

Daily Programs Planned Next Week

KEYSER, W. Va. — The service clubs of Keyser-Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and others—are planning special programs for the coming week which has been set aside nationally as "Fire Prevention Week."

At the regular weekly sessions of these organizations, fire prevention will be the theme at luncheons and dinners.

H. Carl Peters, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce, in speaking of the week's observance, said: "To realize the objectives set by President Truman in his proclamation and appeal to the nation that loss of life and property from fires must be reduced, the local fire prevention committee has been named for a special over-all service made up of representatives of every business and civic organization in Keyser and other Mineral County communities.

Sunday will be for any stressing point on the subject in the churches. On Monday it is hoped that merchants will cooperate fully to the extent of placing window and store displays on the subject, and through use of banners and streamers, Tuesday will be clean-up day for homes, manufacturing plants and stores. Wednesday will be cleanup day for the city, with yards, alleys, vacant lots, gutters and streets being cleaned. In this work, the Health and police departments may be of assistance. Thursday will be inspection day. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will assist wherever possible. Friday will be school fire prevention day and fire prevention will be featured in schools. Saturday will be review day.

Fire Prevention To Get Stress Of Keyser Clubs

Daily Programs Planned Next Week

KEYSER, W. Va. — The service clubs of Keyser-Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and others—are planning special programs for the coming week which has been set aside nationally as "Fire Prevention Week."

At the regular weekly sessions of these organizations, fire prevention will be the theme at luncheons and dinners.

H. Carl Peters, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce, in speaking of the week's observance, said: "To realize the objectives set by President Truman in his proclamation and appeal to the nation that loss of life and property from fires must be reduced, the local fire prevention committee has been named for a special over-all service made up of representatives of every business and civic organization in Keyser and other Mineral County communities.

Sunday will be for any stressing point on the subject in the churches. On Monday it is hoped that merchants will cooperate fully to the extent of placing window and store displays on the subject, and through use of banners and streamers, Tuesday will be clean-up day for homes, manufacturing plants and stores. Wednesday will be cleanup day for the city, with yards, alleys, vacant lots, gutters and streets being cleaned. In this work, the Health and police departments may be of assistance. Thursday will be inspection day. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will assist wherever possible. Friday will be school fire prevention day and fire prevention will be featured in schools. Saturday will be review day.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 (INS)—I just love the idea of Charles Laughton playing the famous pirate, Captain Kidd, in "Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd." Charlie, who has wanted to do slapstick for a long time, will appear with Bud and Lou before he faces the camera as Henry VIII in "Young Bess" for MGM. What a contract!

Charles Laughton

The comics — Abbott and Costello — were jubilant today because Jack Warner had seen "Jack And The Beanstalk" and made a deal with them to release "Abbott And Costello Meet Captain Kidd," and probably some of their other comedies.

Eddie Sherman, who was with Bud and Lou so long, and from whom they parted once, made this deal, and now the boys know they should stick by Eddie always.

We're going to see Charleton Heston's wife, Lydia Clark, in "Los Alamos" at Paramount. Mrs. Heston, whose stage name is Lydia Clark, and whose last appearance on Broadway was in "Detective Story," made a test with her husband for "Come Back, Little Sheba."

She did it as a favor to Hal Wallis, and when Henry Hopper and other Paramount officials saw her they decided she should be in the movies—and she is.

Pierre La Mure, author of "Moulin Rouge," has taken off for New York to discuss the Broadway play adapted from this highly successful book.

Pierre's new book, "The Hand," will be brought out by Random House early next year, and it is very different from the life of Henri Toulouse Lautrec in "Moulin Rouge."

"The Hand" is very spiritual, and by "The Hand" Pierre means the hand of God. It is the life of Johann Sebastian Bach, and tells the story of finding Bach's famous composition based on the passion of our Lord, in a butcher shop after his death.

Pierre says he writes very slowly, but that the book is nearly finished now.

Vivian Kellems held court at Cobina Wright's house and everyone asked her questions. The valiant and gallant Vivian says she is not a tax authority. All she knows is that she does not believe in the withholding tax, and she is going to fight. She expects to get the names of ten million women enrolled in support of this cause.

She tells me the court returned the government fine levied against her for refusing to collect the withholding tax from her workers.

Congressman Donald Jackson and his wife were other interesting guests at Cobina's cocktail party. The congressman was here during the communism investigation.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Well, this is indeed a surprise: Elizabeth Taylor arrives in New York from London Sunday morning. Here everyone thought she was staying in England to be near Michael Wilding. She joins the "Movie Time, USA" expedition in Washington.

Bob Taylor gets into New York the 11th of this month via the Queen Elizabeth.

Leo Durocher promised Laraine Day if the Giants won the game on Wednesday he'd wear a toupee, at least for one day. (No pun intended.) Anyhow, a Hollywood hair stylist sent the hair piece to Mrs. Durocher.

The invitation from Nancy Valentine and Leslie Snyder for a bon voyage party tomorrow reads—the Maharani of Cooch-Behar. The girls are then off for India and the second wedding ceremony.

Jane Nigh again with Dan Dailey at Ciro's—and Elaine White with Bob Neal, CBS announcer and no relation to Tom.

Joe Pasternak wired Mert Wertheimer not to pass up Beverly Hudson as an entertainer. Said Joe, "She's terrif." So, Beverly is now a headliner at the Riverside Casino in Reno, and Eddie O'Dowd wires she is all Joe said.

Ella Logan, replete with a very short hair cut, dropped into see the Morrisons at the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you Monday.

North Branch Club Honors Maude Bean

The North Branch Homemakers Club held a farewell party in honor of Miss Maude A. Bean in conjunction with the monthly meeting, Thursday, at the North Branch Fire Hall.

During the business session a Nominating committee was named. It will select a president and treasurer. Members are Mrs. Clara Pollock, Mrs. Ethel Hymes and Mrs. Nellie Abbott. Mrs. Irene MacDonald told of her trip to the National Council of Homemakers Clubs in Lansing, Mich. Miss Bean gave suggestions for continuing club work after her resignation becomes effective the end of this month. A reading on the hymn, "Abide with Me," was given by Mrs. Asa Fresh.

A corsage of red rosebuds was presented to Miss Bean and refreshments were served, during a social hour. Fall flowers decorated the table, which was centered with a large white cake, with pink rosebuds decorating it.

Others attending were Mrs. Norman Monnett, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Zelda Valentine, Mrs. Clarence Whalen, Mrs. Carrie Johns, Mrs. Grace Tipton, Mrs. Marion Appel, Mrs. Irene Valentine, Mrs. Mildred Houck, Mrs. Chester Crabtree, Mrs. Lloyd Norris, Mrs. Rene Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Wilma Ginevan.

Down in the Valley...

Now I find out that gold hasn't been discovered in Cumberland . . . That's the flood control project . . . And I also hear that Valley St. will be paved and open for traffic next week . . . Oh, frabjous day! . . . Now you can sell your swampmobile and visit CAS TAYLOR'S by auto or shank's mare, on REAL streets . . . Well, it wasn't quite that bad, and we certainly have needed flood protection, but there are a lot of people who haven't come "Down in the Valley" to partake of our liquids and solids because of the battlefield appearance of this neck of the woods, and I want to let them know the "ALL CLEAR" has been sounded . . . HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 (INS)—I just love the idea of Charles Laughton playing the famous pirate, Captain Kidd, in "Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd." Charlie, who has wanted to do slapstick for a long time, will appear with Bud and Lou before he faces the camera as Henry VIII in "Young Bess" for MGM. What a contract!

Charles Laughton

The comics — Abbott and Costello — were jubilant today because Jack Warner had seen "Jack And The Beanstalk" and made a deal with them to release "Abbott And Costello Meet Captain Kidd," and probably some of their other comedies.

Eddie Sherman, who was with Bud and Lou so long, and from whom they parted once, made this deal, and now the boys know they should stick by Eddie always.

We're going to see Charleton Heston's wife, Lydia Clark, in "Los Alamos" at Paramount. Mrs. Heston, whose stage name is Lydia Clark, and whose last appearance on Broadway was in "Detective Story," made a test with her husband for "Come Back, Little Sheba."

She did it as a favor to Hal Wallis, and when Henry Hopper and other Paramount officials saw her they decided she should be in the movies—and she is.

Pierre La Mure, author of "Moulin Rouge," has taken off for New York to discuss the Broadway play adapted from this highly successful book.

Pierre's new book, "The Hand," will be brought out by Random House early next year, and it is very different from the life of Henri Toulouse Lautrec in "Moulin Rouge."

"The Hand" is very spiritual, and by "The Hand" Pierre means the hand of God. It is the life of Johann Sebastian Bach, and tells the story of finding Bach's famous composition based on the passion of our Lord, in a butcher shop after his death.

Pierre says he writes very slowly, but that the book is nearly finished now.

Vivian Kellems held court at Cobina Wright's house and everyone asked her questions. The valiant and gallant Vivian says she is not a tax authority. All she knows is that she does not believe in the withholding tax, and she is going to fight. She expects to get the names of ten million women enrolled in support of this cause.

She tells me the court returned the government fine levied against her for refusing to collect the withholding tax from her workers.

Congressman Donald Jackson and his wife were other interesting guests at Cobina's cocktail party. The congressman was here during the communism investigation.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Well, this is indeed a surprise: Elizabeth Taylor arrives in New York from London Sunday morning. Here everyone thought she was staying in England to be near Michael Wilding. She joins the "Movie Time, USA" expedition in Washington.

Bob Taylor gets into New York the 11th of this month via the Queen Elizabeth.

Leo Durocher promised Laraine Day if the Giants won the game on Wednesday he'd wear a toupee, at least for one day. (No pun intended.) Anyhow, a Hollywood hair stylist sent the hair piece to Mrs. Durocher.

The invitation from Nancy Valentine and Leslie Snyder for a bon voyage party tomorrow reads—the Maharani of Cooch-Behar. The girls are then off for India and the second wedding ceremony.

Jane Nigh again with Dan Dailey at Ciro's—and Elaine White with Bob Neal, CBS announcer and no relation to Tom.

Joe Pasternak wired Mert Wertheimer not to pass up Beverly Hudson as an entertainer. Said Joe, "She's terrif." So, Beverly is now a headliner at the Riverside Casino in Reno, and Eddie O'Dowd wires she is all Joe said.

Ella Logan, replete with a very short hair cut, dropped into see the Morrisons at the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you Monday.

North Branch Club Honors Maude Bean

The North Branch Homemakers Club held a farewell party in honor of Miss Maude A. Bean in conjunction with the monthly meeting, Thursday, at the North Branch Fire Hall.

During the business session a Nominating committee was named. It will select a president and treasurer. Members are Mrs. Clara Pollock, Mrs. Ethel Hymes and Mrs. Nellie Abbott. Mrs. Irene MacDonald told of her trip to the National Council of Homemakers Clubs in Lansing, Mich. Miss Bean gave suggestions for continuing club work after her resignation becomes effective the end of this month. A reading on the hymn, "Abide with Me," was given by Mrs. Asa Fresh.

A corsage of red rosebuds was presented to Miss Bean and refreshments were served, during a social hour. Fall flowers decorated the table, which was centered with a large white cake, with pink rosebuds decorating it.

Others attending were Mrs. Norman Monnett, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Zelda Valentine, Mrs. Clarence Whalen, Mrs. Carrie Johns, Mrs. Grace Tipton, Mrs. Marion Appel, Mrs. Irene Valentine, Mrs. Mildred Houck, Mrs. Chester Crabtree, Mrs. Lloyd Norris, Mrs. Rene Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Wilma Ginevan.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Crime Photographer, Meet Boston Blackie

There were a number of interesting lines in "Crime Photographer," the television version, the other night. One I cherish especially came from a reporter who, when queried as to why he wasn't on the scene of the crime, replied sheepishly: "Casey sent me back."

John Crosby

I never knew a photographer to order reporters around this way, but it doesn't surprise me about Casey. Casey isn't above ordering around cops, the district attorney and perhaps even the managing editor, though I've never seen him commit that act of lese majeste yet. Casey, in short, is quite a lot different from all the other photographers I ever heard of. As one cop remarked to him in the same: "You're a photographer — not a newspaperman." It's a remark that won't sit well with the rest of the newspaper photographers but it sums up Casey pretty accurately.

• — • — •

He isn't. Casey is the sort of roving avenger whose job on "The Morning Express" is a complete mystery to me. He carries a camera only occasionally and uses it almost never. "His appearance," it says here in a press release, "will be a departure from the slouch-matted, trench-coated lensman of the 'front page' school. He'll dress and, for the most part, behave like other people." Well, he dresses like other people—wears shoes and everything—but he hardly behaves like them, being required to be a lot more agile.

On this same program, a bullet intended for Judge Ferguson missed him by two inches. The would-be assassin escaped and when Casey got back to the office, the managing editor, who acts like a distraught Westbrook Pegler, exclaimed: "I'm disappointed in you, Casey." His disappointment, it appeared, stemmed from the fact that Casey had not captured the gunman. On "The Morning Express," it isn't enough to be on the score of the crime. You have to apprehend the criminal, manage the reporters and get pictures.

I don't think the Newspaper Guild would approve of this, unless the pay scales were rearranged substantially. "Crime Photographer" is the television version of a successful radio show which has roots in a couple of plays. In each new resurrection, the original idea gets watered down a little, corrupted a little more, and gradually pushed out of any resemblance to life around you, especially newspaper life.

• — • — •

To make up for some of its more blatant distortions, "Crime Photographer" likes to pull its stories out of the headlines as closely as possible. This one was concerned with crooked judges, crooked cops, crooked everybody. It sounded like the Staten Island waterfront at its worst. More than that, it resembled a domestic Iron Curtain wherein a man couldn't trust anyone in official position. As a dramatic device it's preposterous and, according to the Kefauver committee and the Gross testimony, only too true and more than a little disturbing.

Another succesful radio show that has been transformed recently to television, for reasons which escape he, is "Boston Blackie," a man whose occupation is even more puzzling than Casey's. "Enemy of those who make him an enemy! Fried of those who have no friends!" says the announcer in exclamatory prose at the outset of the show. Boston Blackie, in short, is just another Robin Hood, a man without visible means of support who gets the gunbutt on his noggin in defense of the litle girl the mob is after.

This enterprise is on film, and, while I have no exact information on the subject, it sounds like something that was made in Hollywood. It was brimful of such stirring dialogue as "Hey, what's going on in here?" or—and I prefer this—"It doesn't make sense—no fingerprints, everything locked up. How did the killer get out the door?" Its acting, direction and production were a series of over-powering cliches; its characters were stereotypes; and its general level of intelligence was about that of a grade B Charlie Chan.

PACIFY YOUR PARTNER

DID YOU ever make a very bad mistake in failing to play some ranking high card which should have been laid down when you were in the lead? Did you hope your partner wouldn't find out what a silly thing you had done? When the declarer finally claimed the last few remaining tricks, facing his cards, and you conceded them, your inattentive partner not objecting, did you then quickly throw yours in face-down, so he wouldn't notice your high card? If you got away with that, far be it from us to say you didn't deserve to.

George Alderton, one of Detroit's greatest players, who got into that grossly overbid contract, reported the result with great glee in the late evening after the close of the tournament session in which it developed. But he swore into silence the few to whom he confided.

West opened the Q of the diamonds which his double had obliged East to bid, the K winning. Already recipient of one gift trick, Mr. Alderton finessed the heart Q, felled the K with the A, then ran three more hearts, West discarding three spades and keeping only two. Noting that, the declarer scored the spade A and put West in with the K.

Thereupon West chose the club suit—not the A, but the 5, which the K won. The J and A of diamonds were scored, then finally the dummy's last two spades, which had been set up by West's discards. As those two spades were called from dummy, West tossed his two cards in face-down, so that East never noticed the club A.

"I guess six-odd was a lay-down, the way the cards lay," exclaimed East after the hand, and West, shamefacedly, but happily, remained silent.

Your Weekend Question

Have you ever played for a suit contract which required your protecting yourself against a 5-1 division of the missing six cards in a side suit? It not, can you construct one on which such play is absolutely necessary to make the contract?

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Crime Photographer, Meet Boston Blackie

There were a number of interesting lines in "Crime Photographer," the television version, the other night. One I cherish especially came from a reporter who, when queried as to why he wasn't on the scene of the crime, replied sheepishly: "Casey sent me back."

John Crosby

I never knew a photographer to order reporters around this way, but it doesn't surprise me about Casey. Casey isn't above ordering around cops, the district attorney and perhaps even the managing editor, though I've never seen him commit that act of lese majeste yet. Casey, in short, is quite a lot different from all the other photographers I ever heard of. As one cop remarked to him in the same: "You're a photographer — not a newspaperman." It's a remark that won't sit well with the rest of the newspaper photographers but it sums up Casey pretty accurately.

●—●—●

He isn't. Casey is the sort of roving avenger whose job on "The Morning Express" is a complete mystery to me. He carries a camera only occasionally and uses it almost never. "His appearance," it says here in a press release, "will be a departure from the slouch-matted, trench-coated lensman of the 'front page' school. He'll dress and, for the most part, behave like other people." Well, he dresses like other people—wears shoes and everything—but he hardly behaves like them, being required to be a lot more agile.

On this same program, a bullet intended for Judge Ferguson missed him by two inches. The would-be assassin escaped and when Casey got back to the office, the managing editor, who acts like a distraught Westbrook Pegler, exclaimed: "I'm disappointed in you, Casey." His disappointment, it appeared, stemmed from the fact that Casey had not captured the gunman. On "The Morning Express," it isn't enough to be on the score of the crime. You have to apprehend the criminal, manage the reporters and get pictures.

I don't think the Newspaper Guild would approve of this, unless the pay scales were rearranged substantially. "Crime Photographer" is the television version of a successful radio show which has roots in a couple of plays. In each new resurrection, the original idea gets watered down a little, corrupted a little more, and gradually pushed out of any resemblance to life around you, especially newspaper life.

To make up for some of its more blatant distortions, "Crime Photographer" likes to pull its stories out of the headlines as closely as possible. This one was concerned with crooked judges, crooked cops, crooked everybody. It sounded like the Staten Island waterfront at its worst. More than that, it resembled a domestic Iron Curtain wherein a man couldn't trust anyone in official position. As a dramatic device it's preposterous and, according to the Kefauver committee and the Gross testimony, only too true and more than a little disturbing.

Another succesful radio show that has been transformed recently to television, for reasons which escape he, is "Boston Blackie," a man whose occupation is even more puzzling than Casey's. "Enemy of those who make him an enemy! Fried of those who have no friends!" says the announcer in exclamatory prose at the outset of the show. Boston Blackie, in short, is just another Robin Hood, a man without visible means of support who gets the gunbutt on his noggin in defense of the litle girl the mob is after.

This enterprise is on film, and, while I have no exact information on the subject, it sounds like something that was made in Hollywood. It was brimful of such stirring dialogue as "Hey, what's going on in here?" or—and I prefer this—"It doesn't make sense—no fingerprints, everything locked up. How did the killer get out the door?" Its acting, direction and production were a series of over-powering cliches; its characters were stereotypes; and its general level of intelligence was about that of a grade B Charlie Chan.

PACIFY YOUR PARTNER

DID YOU ever make a very bad mistake in failing to play some ranking high card which should have been laid down when you were in the lead? Did you hope your partner wouldn't find out what a silly thing you had done? When the declarer finally claimed the last few remaining tricks, facing his cards, and you conceded them, your inattentive partner not objecting, did you then quickly throw yours in face-down, so he wouldn't notice your high card? If you got away with that, far be it from us to say you didn't deserve to.

George Alderton, one of Detroit's greatest players, who got into that grossly overbid contract, reported the result with great glee in the late evening after the close of the tournament session in which it developed. But he swore into silence the few to whom he confided.

West opened the Q of the diamonds which his double had obliged East to bid, the K winning. Already recipient of one gift trick, Mr. Alderton finessed the heart Q, felled the K with the A, then ran three more hearts, West discarding three spades and keeping only two. Noting that, the declarer scored the spade A and put West in with the K.

Thereupon West chose the club suit—not the A, but the 5, which the K won. The J and A of diamonds were scored, then finally the dummy's last two spades, which had been set up by West's discards. As those two spades were called from dummy, West tossed his two cards in face-down, so that East never noticed the club A.

"I guess six-odd was a lay-down, the way the cards lay," exclaimed East after the hand, and West, shamefacedly, but happily, remained silent.

Your Weekend Question

Have you ever played for a suit contract which required your protecting yourself against a 5-1 division of the missing six cards in a side suit? It not, can you construct one on which such play is absolutely necessary to make the contract?

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Robert Fleek, who passed away four years ago, October 7, 1947.

October brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
You never will be forgotten
By the ones who loved you best.

Some say time heals aching hearts
But, no, it isn't true.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Robert Fleek, who passed away four years ago, October 7, 1947.

October brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
You never will be forgotten
By the ones who loved you best.

Some say time heals aching hearts
But, no, it isn't true.

Badly missed by his wife and children.

Mine Bureau Director Praises Kitzmiller Team

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, expressed high praise yesterday for the Kitzmiller area mine rescue team which won top honors in a national contest at Columbus, Ohio, this week.

"I was more than pleased with the outcome," said Powers. "The residents of Kitzmiller are to be complimented for having such an organized group in their community."

Powers was unable to attend the event because of illness but the bureau was represented by Dr. J. J. Rutledge, former director.

The bureau head said much of the credit for the victory goes to the trainers—Harry Buckley, district mine inspector; L. C. Hutson of the University of Maryland, and Fred Baker of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

In addition to the men who made the trip to Columbus 50 others from Kitzmiller, Shallmar and Vindex are being trained in rescue work.

The team was sponsored by the bureau, Kitzmiller locals of the United Mine Workers of America, and the Garrett Coal Corporation. The winning team was composed of Carl Schell, captain, Chester Evans, and Carl Paugh, all of the Garrett firm; Mervin Sims, Pritt Brothers Coal Company; Richard Sherwood, Wolf Den Coal Corporation; and Lee Hartman, Sugar Coal Company.

The Kitzmiller team was in competition with 14 other units from 10 states.

Students Enter Kenyon

Two students from the Cumberland area have begun classes at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, marking the beginning of Kenyon's 128th year.

Edward T. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rhodes of 319 Frederick Street, has enrolled as a freshman. He was graduated last June from Dunbar High School and Dunbar faculty scholarship.

Louis Willard Everstine, son of Aden Everstine of Ridgeley, W. Va. has enrolled as a sophomore.

According to Childcraft books, "reading to a child is a good way to help him acquire the vocabulary he will need to enjoy a richer and better life, both at home and at school."

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Howard S. Rodeheaver v. Dorothy M. Rodeheaver. No. 22382 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant, and custody of the minor child of the parties.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married in the 24th day of February, 1946, in Cumberland, Md., and that one child was born of the said marriage, namely: Harry Leroy Rodeheaver, age 4 years; that although the plaintiff has always been kind, affectionate and his conduct above reproach, the defendant has been guilty of adultery and the plaintiff has not lived or cohabited with the defendant since he discovered her adulterous conduct; that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, and has been for more than one year prior to the filing of these proceedings, the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and her present whereabouts are unknown to the plaintiff.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 18th day of September, 1951, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Allegany County, Md., once in each of four successive weeks, before the 20th day of October, 1951, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 7th day of November, 1951, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Stock Market Moves Back Up To Best Levels Of Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The stock market today moved back up to its best levels of the year.

One of the biggest spots of excitement during the day was caused by three stocks on two exchanges.

Molybdenum Corp. of America announced it has acquired control of a small tract of land in Eastern California near the Nevada border containing the world's largest deposits of 14 rare minerals used in a wide assortment of products. The company announced discovery of the field March 8.

Molybdenum jumped ahead 6¼ at 79⅞ with sales of 17,400 shares on the New York Curb Exchange.

At about the same time demand became exceedingly heavy for New Mexico and Arizona Land on the curb, and it closed up 5½ at 23⅝ with 24,500 shares traded.

Back on the big board, St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, which owns a controlling interest in New Mexico and Arizona Land, was the day's most active issue up 1⅛ at 30¾ with 55,300 shares traded.

Following Frisco Railroad at the top of the most active list were Armour & Co. up ⅝ at 12, United Cigar-Whelan up ¼ at 4¾, Panhandle Producing and Refining up ½ at 9, National Power and Light up ⅛ at 2⅛, and Montana-Dakota Utilities up 3¼ at 25¾.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks with a 10-cent gain at $101.20 showed a 10-cent rise in each of its components, industrials, rails, and utilities.

There were 1,145 individual issues on the tape of which 508 were higher and 355 lower with 47 new highs and three new lows for the year.

The volume came to 2,070,000 shares as against 1,810,000 shares yesterday.

Saturday trading will be resumed tomorrow after a four-month summer recess. The market will be open from 10 a. m. to noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Strother Asks Better Tax Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners acted favorably yesterday on recommendation of W. A. Strother, tax collector who still has some accounts for 1950 to clear up.

The recommendations made by Strother pertain to a more satisfactory system of remitting collections and also in eliminating "dead accounts."

Strother noted he has always been prepared to turn over to the county collections on the first of each month but that before he could do so it has been necessary for the county to furnish him certification of charges.

The collector said that under the law remittances must be made to the state by the tenth of the month but that sometimes he has been unable to comply because certification did not reach him in time. He suggested that certification be made by the fifth of each month to allow the necessary time for preparing records.

Strother also called attention to assessments charged his account whereas property actually belongs to the state. He said that two years ago the State Forestry Department informed him it owned 30 properties on a list of 75 and that it has been necessary to obtain insolvencies.

He suggested that property belonging to the state should not be listed as being owned by individuals.

Water May Be Hauled To School

Efforts are being made by the Allegany County Board of Education to secure the use of a 500-gallon tank truck to haul water to Oldtown School.

Joseph T. Downey, superintendent of maintenance for the Board of Education, said the water will be taken from a source near Oldtown. It will then be placed into the well furnishing the school's water. The latter well is low due to the drought.

The County Health Department has analyzed the supplemental water and declared it safe for drinking. However, Downey said a drip chlorinating system will be installed at the school's well, thereby assuring a double check on safety.

The maintenance superintendent said he is hopeful of initiating the project Monday.

Rent Controls Are Back In Ridgeley

Rent controls are coming back to Ridgeley.

That's the official word from Rent Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods. The action, taken at the request of the town's council and Rent Advisory Board, means that rent levels return to those in effect August 29, 1949, Woods said. That was the day before he removed Ridgeley's controls.

Woods explained that the time of the removal of controls, the need for homes appeared to be satisfied. Since that time a shortage has returned because of the Korean War and demolition of some rental units to make way for the flood control project.

Paint Bid Accepted

The bid of Charles F. Whitman and Herbert W. Cessna, local painting contractors, to apply three coats of white paint to the exterior of the County Infirmary was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The Whitman and Cessna bid was $3,270 for the work. The only other bid was more than $6,000 and was submitted by a Cresaptown man.

Mine Bureau Director Praises Kitzmiller Team

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, expressed high praise yesterday for the Kitzmiller area mine rescue team which won top honors in a national contest at Columbus, Ohio, this week.

"I was more than pleased with the outcome," said Powers. "The residents of Kitzmiller are to be complimented for having such an organized group in their community."

Powers was unable to attend the event because of illness but the bureau was represented by Dr. J. J. Rutledge, former director.

The bureau head said much of the credit for the victory goes to the trainers—Harry Buckley, district mine inspector; L. C. Hutson of the University of Maryland, and Fred Baker of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

In addition to the men who made the trip to Columbus 50 others from Kitzmiller, Shallmar and Vindex are being trained in rescue work.

The team was sponsored by the bureau, Kitzmiller locals of the United Mine Workers of America, and the Garrett Coal Corporation. The winning team was composed of Carl Schell, captain, Chester Evans, and Carl Paugh, all of the Garrett firm; Mervin Sims, Pritt Brothers Coal Company; Richard Sherwood, Wolf Den Coal Corporation; and Lee Hartman, Sugar Coal Company.

The Kitzmiller team was in competition with 14 other units from 10 states.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Howard S. Rodeheaver v. Dorothy M. Rodeheaver. No. 22382 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant, and custody of the minor child of the parties.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married in the 24th day of February, 1946, in Cumberland, Md., and that one child was born of the said marriage, namely: Harry Leroy Rodeheaver, age 4 years; that although the plaintiff has always been kind, affectionate and his conduct above reproach, the defendant has been guilty of adultery and the plaintiff has not lived or cohabited with the defendant since he discovered her adulterous conduct; that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, and has been for more than one year prior to the filing of these proceedings, the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and her present whereabouts are unknown to the plaintiff.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 18th day of September, 1951, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Allegany County, Md., once in each of four successive weeks, before the 20th day of October, 1951, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 7th day of November, 1951, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Stock Market Moves Back Up To Best Levels Of Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The stock market today moved back up to its best levels of the year.

One of the biggest spots of excitement during the day was caused by three stocks on two exchanges.

Molybdenum Corp. of America announced it has acquired control of a small tract of land in Eastern California near the Nevada border containing the world's largest deposits of 14 rare minerals used in a wide assortment of products. The company announced discovery of the field March 8.

Molybdenum jumped ahead 6¼ at 79⅞ with sales of 17,400 shares on the New York Curb Exchange.

At about the same time demand became exceedingly heavy for New Mexico and Arizona Land on the curb, and it closed up 5½ at 23⅝ with 24,500 shares traded.

Back on the big board, St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, which owns a controlling interest in New Mexico and Arizona Land, was the day's most active issue up 1⅛ at 30¾ with 55,300 shares traded.

Following Frisco Railroad at the top of the most active list were Armour & Co. up ⅝ at 12, United Cigar-Whelan up ¼ at 4¾, Panhandle Producing and Refining up ½ at 9, National Power and Light up ⅛ at 2⅛, and Montana-Dakota Utilities up 3¼ at 25¾.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks with a 10-cent gain at $101.20 showed a 10-cent rise in each of its components, industrials, rails, and utilities.

There were 1,145 individual issues on the tape of which 508 were higher and 355 lower with 47 new highs and three new lows for the year.

The volume came to 2,070,000 shares as against 1,810,000 shares yesterday.

Saturday trading will be resumed tomorrow after a four-month summer recess. The market will be open from 10 a. m. to noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Students Enter Kenyon

Two students from the Cumberland area have begun classes at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, marking the beginning of Kenyon's 128th year.

Edward T. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rhodes of 319 Frederick Street, has enrolled as a freshman. He was graduated last June from Dunbar High School and Dunbar faculty scholarship.

Louis Willard Everstine, son of Aden Everstine of Ridgeley, W. Va. has enrolled as a sophomore.

According to Childcraft books, "reading to a child is a good way to help him acquire the vocabulary he will need to enjoy a richer and better life, both at home and at school."

Strother Asks Better Tax Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners acted favorably yesterday on recommendation of W. A. Strother, tax collector who still has some accounts for 1950 to clear up.

The recommendations made by Strother pertain to a more satisfactory system of remitting collections and also in eliminating "dead accounts."

Strother noted he has always been prepared to turn over to the county collections on the first of each month but that before he could do so it has been necessary for the county to furnish him certification of charges.

The collector said that under the law remittances must be made to the state by the tenth of the month but that sometimes he has been unable to comply because certification did not reach him in time. He suggested that certification be made by the fifth of each month to allow the necessary time for preparing records.

Strother also called attention to assessments charged his account whereas property actually belongs to the state. He said that two years ago the State Forestry Department informed him it owned 30 properties on a list of 75 and that it has been necessary to obtain insolvencies.

He suggested that property belonging to the state should not be listed as being owned by individuals.

Water May Be Hauled To School

Efforts are being made by the Allegany County Board of Education to secure the use of a 500-gallon tank truck to haul water to Oldtown School.

Joseph T. Downey, superintendent of maintenance for the Board of Education, said the water will be taken from a source near Oldtown. It will then be placed into the well furnishing the school's water. The latter well is low due to the drought.

The County Health Department has analyzed the supplemental water and declared it safe for drinking. However, Downey said a drip chlorinating system will be installed at the school's well, thereby assuring a double check on safety.

The maintenance superintendent said he is hopeful of initiating the project Monday.

Rent Controls Are Back In Ridgeley

Rent controls are coming back to Ridgeley.

That's the official word from Rent Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods. The action, taken at the request of the town's council and Rent Advisory Board, means that rent levels return to those in effect August 29, 1949, Woods said. That was the day before he removed Ridgeley's controls.

Woods explained that the time of the removal of controls, the need for homes appeared to be satisfied. Since that time a shortage has returned because of the Korean War and demolition of some rental units to make way for the flood control project.

Paint Bid Accepted

The bid of Charles F. Whitman and Herbert W. Cessna, local painting contractors, to apply three coats of white paint to the exterior of the County Infirmary was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The Whitman and Cessna bid was $3,270 for the work. The only other bid was more than $6,000 and was submitted by a Cresaptown man.

"Dope Cache" Proves To Be Plain Herbs

Experts Find 12 Pounds Was Weed

Narcotics agents told a Baltimore court yesterday the big seizure here September 21 of what was thought to be marijuana turned out to be herbs for cooking.

A 12-pound haul in Baltimore, according to an Associated Press dispatch, was real marijuana, however, and a Baltimore nephew of Robert B. Brant, 404 Pennsylvania Avenue, was sentenced to four years in the House of Correction for having it.

Brant, 52-year-old bottler at the Queen City Brewing Company here is under treatment at Spring Grove State Hospital. Prosecutors advised the court he has had a mental breakdown. The case against him was postponed.

Arrested During Sale

Baltimore detectives and narcotic agents arrested Brant and his nephew, 27-year-old John Nassrie, in the midst of selling the 12 pounds of marijuana to an undercover agent.

Brant and Nassrie drove up in a car to meet their customer at midnight on a street near Johns Hopkins Hospital.

They opened the trunk of their car to disclose a 50-pound lard can full of granulated marijuana. Detectives hiding nearby pounced on them.

Brant boasted, the officers said, that he knew where he could get another 100 pounds of the weed. A call to Cumberland sent police quickly to Brant's home in South End. Mrs. Brant directed the officers to a coal shed behind the house. She said she knew nothing of her husband's activities except that he was experimenting with herbs. The officers confiscated gallon jars, crocks, jelly glasses and a tobacco can full of dried plants in various phases of processing.

Retail Value $20,000

Officers testifying yesterday at the hearing for Nassrie said the marijuana seized in Baltimore would make enough cigarettes to retail for $20,000. Brant and Nassrie had offered to sell it for $2,500.

Nassrie, a cripple, told Judge Joseph Sherbow he expected to get $500 from the sale for an operation.

Nassrie pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and conspiracy to sell marijuana.

Prosecutors told the court Brant had gathered the weed from a stand that was found growing along the Potomac River near Cumberland this summer.

The other herbs seized at his home were taken to Baltimore for chemical tests, which showed they were not marijuana.

VICKY'S DREAM—These pupils of Mt. Royal School will present a demonstration lesson and recital in a play entitled "Vicky's Dream" as a feature of the afternoon session of the Piano Educators Conference today at West Side School. Vici Lynn Eackles, lying on the bed in the foreground, is dreaming. The other children represent fairies who appear in her dream. In the meantime other youngsters play piano selections which are woven into the story. In the group, left to right, are Sandy Feltner, Fayetta Kreger, Elizabeth Morrow, Vera McCullough, Judy Divine, at the piano; John Paul Hanna, Edith Ellen Storey, Gie Cobey and Beverly Bowie.

Father Jailed After Shooting Fracas At Home

George House, 64, Held In City Jail

A 64-year-old McCoole Hill man was in City Jail last night after police said he wounded his son and then shot it out with police who came to arrest him.

State Police listed him as George House, 64. They said he threatened his wife during an argument early last night.

Mrs. House ran to the home of a son, Leroy House, who lives about half a mile away. Mrs. House and her son drove back to her home.

When they arrived police said House let loose three blasts from a repeating 12-gauge shotgun. One of the pellets struck the younger House in the forehead.

Neighbors called State Police, and Trooper T. M. Gilmore, who went to the scene, radioed a hurried call for assistance.

Sgt. Harry A. Holsinger, and Trooper First Class William F. Baker and Raymond P. McGuire sped to the scene, and found the House home dark.

McGuire covered the front door while Holsinger and Baker crept to the rear and started to enter through an open window.

At the same time, House saw McGuire standing at the front door, shotgun in hand. He fired three rounds and dropped to the floor. His shots went wild.

McGuire returned his fire with two shots, but missed.

Bawer and Holsinger called to House to surrender. Five mintues later, he came out, hands in air.

Police said he would be questioned in the State's Attorney's Office today. His son is not believed to be seriously hurt.

SENIOR INSTRUCTOR—Shown above is Col. Donald M. McGrayne, senior Army instructor of Maryland Military District, as he attended the opening of the Army Administrative School here Wednesday. Teaching the administrative courses will be Sergeant First Class William A. Baker, assistant unit instructor, while the typing course will be taught by Lt. Thomas B. Cumiskey, commanding officer of the local postal unit. Major Grant E. Hoover, unit instructor, said the school which will continue for about six months is the first of its kind to be started in the area.

Chest Report Shows $30,000 In Donations

Campaign Realizes 29 Per Cent Of Goal

A total of $30,410.43 has been subscribed thus far in the current Cumberland Community Chest-United Defense (USO) Drive, according to the first report issued by campaign officials at a meeting yesterday at Central YMCA.

General Chairman George L. Buchanan said the amount is approximately 39 per cent of the set goal of $105,160 for this year.

In a breakdown of the various categories the following figures have been released: Advance Gifts, $23,500; Classified, $4,226.85; Residential, $1,684.88; Men's Sales Army, $646.50 and County, $352.20.

A breakdown of the Allegany County United Defense (USO) Drive is thus: Carlos-Midlothian, Blaine Willets, chairman, $37.70; Corriganville, Mrs. John Gaff, chairman, $15; Ellerslie, Mrs. William Powell, chairman, $49.50 and Frostburg, Ralph M. Race, chairman, $250.

The payroll deduction plan continuing at Eiler Chevrolet, Inc, shows a total of $624.80; First National Bank, $614.80 in payroll deduction plan instituted and Thompson Buick Corp., $395, deduction plan instituted.

Advance Gifts contributions show an amount of $10,000 from the Celanese Corporation of America, an increase of $2,000 over 1950; $4,500 from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, an increase of $1,000 and $9,000 from city contributions, the same as in 1950.

Partial reports from three of the larger companies of employes' contributions in the Classified Sections show $1,057.50 from the Celanese; $1,217 from Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; and $306 from the Western Maryland Railway.

The second report of the campaign, Chairman Buchanan announces, will be Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Busy Grand Jury Will Resume Action Monday

Murder Indictment Faces Gray Woman

After a two-day rest today and tomorrow, Allegany County's hard working grand jury will resume its investigations into county crime at 9:15 a. m. Monday.

Usually, the grand jury winds up its activities within a week. This term of Circuit Court, however, is so heavy that part of a second week will be needed.

Ends Fifth Day

The grand jury recessed about 4 p. m. yesterday after concluding its fifth day of probing into county lawlessness. Twenty-three of that body's indictments have been spread on the open court docket. There are others on which service has not been made by deputies in Sheriff Edward R. Muir's office.

No witnesses have been summoned beyond Monday, but because the grand jury is not keeping up to its schedule in hearing the evidence, the probing undoubtedly will continue past Monday, according to court attaches.

One of the latest indictments placed on the open docket was a murder charge docketed yesterday against Margaret Ellen Gray, 39, who allegedly shot and fatally wounded her common-law husband on August 2.

The grand jury also indicted Harry C. Jackson, this city, on a charge of statutory burglary. He is accused of stealing $15 from the G&W Lunch Room on Liberty Street.

Conference For Teachers Of Piano Set

Unusual Program Will Begin Today

Some 100 piano teachers, pupils, interested parents and college students will attend a novel Piano Educators Conference today and Monday in West Side School under auspices of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Consultant for the two-day conference will be Dr. Raymond Burrows of Teachers College of Columbia University and national chairman of the piano committee of the Music Educators National Conference.

During the morning session, beginning at 10 o'clock, Dr. Burrows will lecture on "General and Specific Objectives for the First Year of Piano Teaching." Another speaker this morning will be Dr. Glenn Gildersleeve, head of the Music Department, Madison College, Harrisburg, Va.

Jack Platt, supervisor of music education in county schools, will extend greetings to those attending the conference.

The afternoon session will get underway at 1:30 and will close around 4:30.

A morning session Monday will run from about 9:30 untfl noon. The final period will be from 1:30 until 3:30 Monday.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the conference will be the Music Faculty of Madison College and senior students of Bridgewater College in Virginia. A student delegation from Penn State College also is expected. Students from Frostburg State Teachers College and Potomac State School also will attend.

Firemen Outline Plans For Fire Prevention Week

Cumberland, Ridgeley Join In Observance

The fire departments of Cumberland and Ridgeley will combine their efforts in stressing fire prevention in this area next week.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, a program is being completed touching on every phase of prevention through education, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said yesterday that during the week all schools in the city will be visited and pupils will be shown how fires can result from carelessness.

The actual fire-fighting equipment will be used, Parker added, including the aerial ladder truck. Demonstrations with the life net are also planned.

Films are scheduled to be shown during the week at local theaters and safety films will be shown at schools. In South Cumberland a display is planned and pamphlets will be distributed throughout the city by local Boy Scout troops, Parker added.

Special talks will be given on fire prevention by local residents at various meetings of service clubs and other interested organizations. Ministers will also stress the program during services.

Cumberland and Ridgeley firemen hope to make residents fire-conscious during the week, Parker added.

An added feature this year will be a display in a storeroom on North Centre Street tagged "This is the grand prize for being careless."

A loudspeaker will be attached to one of the vehicles of the department, parked at Baltimore and Centre streets, and passersby will be asked if they are eligible for the prize.

Three New Draft Classifications Are Ordered

Lists Conscientious Objectors As 1-0

Local Selective Service officials received notification from Washington yesterday for three new types of classifications for registrants, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

Orders from Selective Service Headquarters listed the new classifications as 1-O, 1-W and 1-S. The new orders also eliminate the old classification of 4-E covering conscientious objectors.

Fahey explained that the new classification of 1-O is for conscientious objectors of draft age.

Under the new law a 1-O registrant will be processed for the Armed Forces physical examination when his order number is reached in sequence of birth date.

If physically fit, the 1-O registrant will be assigned to civilian work contributing to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest, Fahey said.

The classification of 1-W is for conscientious objectors who are married and have children.

The 1-S classification is for deferred students of draft age. This type is broken down into 1-S (H) and 1-S (C). The first classifies persons of draft age who are attending full-time courses of instruction in a high school while the latter is for college students.

Fahey also pointed out that registrants who are married and have children are obligated under the Selective Service Laws to notify their draft boards, since the boards are processing for induction married men without children.

It has been estimated that draft calls issued by the Defense Department for November and December will result in the induction of about 860 men from Maryland.

Westernport Man Gets One Year For Jail Walkout

Engineer Faces Hearing After Crossing Block

A Grafton, W. Va. railroader was taken into custody last night at 8:10 o'clock and will be given a hearing Tuesday morning in Police Court on charges of violating Section 32, Chapter 14, of the City Code.

L. H. Bragg, engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was arrested by City Detective Ernest M. Powell on a warrant issued by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick. Bragg is charged with blocking the Union Street Railroad Crossing yesterday morning while operating Engine No. 4476 of Train No. 29. He has been released on $10 bond pending the hearing.

A Westernport man's unscheduled leave from the Allegany County Jail ended up yesterday with a sentence of one year and six months in the Maryland House of Correction added to his unexpired two months in jail.

Patrick Stowell, who is the father of 17 children, was committed to jail September 12 to serve a 90-day sentence, 60 days for a drunken driving charge and 30 more for reckless driving.

After he was made a trusty at the jail, the sheriff's deputies learned he was not so trustworthy as a trusty. Stowell walked out Wednesday.

The next day he was picked up in his home town by Police Chief Burza Hanlin and Officer James Griffith of Westernport.

Police learned Stowell was at large when his wife, Mrs. Lottie Stowell, complained to Officer Griffith that he was breaking up the furniture at home.

At the time of his arrest, Stowell was driving a truck, and according to police was in no condition to operate a vehicle.

Magistrate Carl W. Schaffer yesterday afternoon sentenced Stowell to six months in the House of Correction on a drunken driving charge and to one year in the House of Correction for breaking out of jail.

City Traffic Report Given

The City Police Department is continuing its traffic enforcement program, with fines amounting to $253 collected for various driving violations, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long has announced.

Six motorists were taken into custody on charges of reckless driving for the period from September 1-27, while two drivers were arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. One motorist failed to stop after striking an unattended vehicle, Long reports, two were arrested for operating without licenses, and another was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to operate a vehicle.

Twelve motorists were charged with speeding by police in violation of City Ordinance 1530. Careless driving accounted for one arrest, and careless driving resulting in accidents brought two arrests.

Four motorists were fined for going through stop signs, one motorist on a traffic light violation and one for parking in a fire lane.

Oldtown Boys Will Attend FFA Convention

Will Leave Sunday For Kansas City

For the sixth consecutive year an outstanding Future Farmers of America member from Allegany County will attend the 24th annual National FFA Convention, James H. House, vocational agriculture supervisor for the county schools, disclosed yesterday.

The official delegate this year will be James Carder, a member of the Oldtown FFA chapter. Eldon Long, another member of the Oldtown chapter, also will attend, but not as an official delegate.

Carder and Long, accompanied by Supervisor House will leave Cumberland at 8:33 p. m. Sunday aboard the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Columbian for the week-long convention, which will be held in Kansas City.

A 30-member Maryland delegation will go to the convention on the same train. The county boys will arrive back in Keyser, W. Va., at 6:44 a. m. Saturday, October 13.

Teachers besides House who will go with the Maryland group are Palmer Hopkins of Harford County, who will take with him the three Harford County boys who won the state livestock judging contest; John Gee of Charles County, and Warren Smith of Frederick County.

Each year in selecting a county boy to attend the convention, officials consider leadership and participation in FFA activities, citizenship, farming program and ability to bring back to the other FFA boys a clear report of the convention proceedings. Other former delegates and the chapters they represented were 1946, Perry Shryock., Flintstone; 1947, James Bishop, Oldtown; 1948, John Miller, Fort Hill; 1949, Taylor Arnold, Beall, and 1950, James Smith, Flintstone.

Audit Shows Assets Of City Are At $17,045,322.85 Mark

The worth of this city as of June 30 was $17,045,322.85.

Liabilities were listed as $7,080,062.13, including outstanding bonds of $6,946,000 leaving reserves and surpluses totaling $9,965,260.72.

These figures were reported by Berman, Goldman, Leven and Company, CPA, who have submitted an audit of the books and records of the City of Cumberland for the fiscal year ending June 30, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The assets of the city include cash in banks and on hand, receivables, including liens and taxes, investments in the Sinking Fund and fixed assets, which include the value of streets, subways, bridges, sewer system, roads, dams, water lines, building and land, public building and land, flood protection work and other city-owned property.

The report shows that the city's surplus from taxation and general operation of the city on June 30 amounted to $85,174.89.

In the Water Department, the excess of income over expenditures totaled $9,100.57.

Gibson met with the Mayor and Council Thursday to present the report to the auditors.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said at that time that the books were in good shape and that the auditors made no recommendations on accounts or the method of keeping the records.

Formal adoption of the audit is slated at Monday morning's meeting of the Mayor and Council. The body is also slated to pass an order providing for payment of costs of the audit and to authorize printing of a number of copies of the financial report.

"Dope Cache" Proves To Be Plain Herbs

Experts Find 12 Pounds Was Weed

Narcotics agents told a Baltimore court yesterday the big seizure here September 21 of what was thought to be marijuana turned out to be herbs for cooking.

A 12-pound haul in Baltimore, according to an Associated Press dispatch, was real marijuana, however, and a Baltimore nephew of Robert B. Brant, 404 Pennsylvania Avenue, was sentenced to four years in the House of Correction for having it.

Brant, 52-year-old bottler at the Queen City Brewing Company here is under treatment at Spring Grove State Hospital. Prosecutors advised the court he has had a mental breakdown. The case against him was postponed.

Arrested During Sale

Baltimore detectives and narcotic agents arrested Brant and his nephew, 27-year-old John Nassrie, in the midst of selling the 12 pounds of marijuana to an undercover agent.

Brant and Nassrie drove up in a car to meet their customer at midnight on a street near Johns Hopkins Hospital.

They opened the trunk of their car to disclose a 50-pound lard can full of granulated marijuana. Detectives hiding nearby pounced on them.

Brant boasted, the officers said, that he knew where he could get another 100 pounds of the weed. A call to Cumberland sent police quickly to Brant's home in South End. Mrs. Brant directed the officers to a coal shed behind the house. She said she knew nothing of her husband's activities except that he was experimenting with herbs. The officers confiscated gallon jars, crocks, jelly glasses and a tobacco can full of dried plants in various phases of processing.

Retail Value $20,000

Officers testifying yesterday at the hearing for Nassrie said the marijuana seized in Baltimore would make enough cigarettes to retail for $20,000. Brant and Nassrie had offered to sell it for $2,500.

Nassrie, a cripple, told Judge Joseph Sherbow he expected to get $500 from the sale for an operation.

Nassrie pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and conspiracy to sell marijuana.

Prosecutors told the court Brant had gathered the weed from a stand that was found growing along the Potomac River near Cumberland this summer.

The other herbs seized at his home were taken to Baltimore for chemical tests, which showed they were not marijuana.

Murder Indictment Faces Gray Woman

After a two-day rest today and tomorrow, Allegany County's hard working grand jury will resume its investigations into county crime at 9:15 a. m. Monday.

Usually, the grand jury winds up its activities within a week. This term of Circuit Court, however, is so heavy that part of a second week will be needed.

Ends Fifth Day

The grand jury recessed about 4 p. m. yesterday after concluding its fifth day of probing into county lawlessness. Twenty-three of that body's indictments have been spread on the open court docket. There are others on which service has not been made by deputies in Sheriff Edward R. Muir's office.

No witnesses have been summoned beyond Monday, but because the grand jury is not keeping up to its schedule in hearing the evidence, the probing undoubtedly will continue past Monday, according to court attaches.

One of the latest indictments placed on the open docket was a murder charge docketed yesterday against Margaret Ellen Gray, 39, who allegedly shot and fatally wounded her common-law husband on August 2.

The grand jury also indicted Harry C. Jackson, this city, on a charge of statutory burglary. He is accused of stealing $15 from the G&W Lunch Room on Liberty Street.

Conference For Teachers Of Piano Set

Unusual Program Will Begin Today

Some 100 piano teachers, pupils, interested parents and college students will attend a novel Piano Educators Conference today and Monday in West Side School under auspices of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Consultant for the two-day conference will be Dr. Raymond Burrows of Teachers College of Columbia University and national chairman of the piano committee of the Music Educators National Conference.

During the morning session, beginning at 10 o'clock, Dr. Burrows will lecture on "General and Specific Objectives for the First Year of Piano Teaching." Another speaker this morning will be Dr. Glenn Gildersleeve, head of the Music Department, Madison College, Harrisburg, Va.

Jack Platt, supervisor of music education in county schools, will extend greetings to those attending the conference.

The afternoon session will get underway at 1:30 and will close around 4:30.

A morning session Monday will run from about 9:30 until noon. The final period will be from 1:30 until 3:30 Monday.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the conference will be the Music Faculty of Madison College and senior students of Bridgewater College in Virginia. A student delegation from Penn State College also is expected. Students from Frostburg State Teachers College and Potomac State School also will attend.

Firemen Outline Plans For Fire Prevention Week

Cumberland, Ridgeley Join In Observance

The fire departments of Cumberland and Ridgeley will combine their efforts in stressing fire prevention in this area next week.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, a program is being completed touching on every phase of prevention through education, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said yesterday that during the week all schools in the city will be visited and pupils will be shown how fires can result from carelessness.

The actual fire-fighting equipment will be used, Parker added, including the aerial ladder truck. Demonstrations with the life net are also planned.

Films are scheduled to be shown during the week at local theaters and safety films will be shown at schools. In South Cumberland a display is planned and pamphlets will be distributed throughout the city by local Boy Scout troops, Parker added.

Special talks will be given on fire prevention by local residents at various meetings of service clubs and other interested organizations. Ministers will also stress the program during services.

Cumberland and Ridgeley firemen hope to make residents fire-conscious during the week, Parker added.

An added feature this year will be a display in a storeroom on North Centre Street tagged "This is the grand prize for being careless."

A loudspeaker will be attached to one of the vehicles of the department, parked at Baltimore and Centre streets, and passersby will be asked if they are eligible for the prize.

Father Jailed After Shooting Fracas At Home

George House, 64, Held In City Jail

A 64-year-old McCoole Hill man was in City Jail last night after police said he wounded his son and then shot it out with police who came to arrest him.

State Police listed him as George House, 64. They said he threatened his wife during an argument early last night.

Mrs. House ran to the home of a son, Leroy House, who lives about half a mile away. Mrs. House and her son drove back to her home.

When they arrived, police said House let loose three blasts from a repeating 12-gauge shotgun. One of the pellets struck the younger House in the forehead.

Neighbors called State Police, and Trooper T. M. Gilmore, who went to the scene, radioed a hurried call for assistance.

Sgt. Harry A. Holsinger, and Trooper First Class William F. Baker and Raymond P. McGuire sped to the scene, and found the House home dark.

McGuire covered the front door while Holsinger and Baker crept to the rear and started to enter through an open window.

At the same time, House saw McGuire standing at the front door, shotgun in hand. He fired three rounds and dropped to the floor. His shots went wild.

McGuire returned his fire with two shots, but missed.

Bawer and Holsinger called to House to surrender. Five mintues later, he came out, hands in air.

Police said he would be questioned in the State's Attorney's Office today. His son is not believed to be seriously hurt.

SENIOR INSTRUCTOR—Shown above is Col. Donald M. McGrayne, senior Army instructor of Maryland Military District, as he attended the opening of the Army Administrative School here Wednesday. The school, which will be held on the third flood of the Footer Building every Wednesday night, includes 25 subjects and a typing course for non-typists. Teaching the administrative courses will be Sergeant First Class William A. Baker, assistant unit instructor, while the typing course will be taught by Lt. Thomas B. Cumiskey, commanding officer of the local postal unit. Major Grant E. Hoover, unit instructor, said the school which will continue for about six months is the first of its kind to be started in the area.

Chest Report Shows $30,000 In Donations

Campaign Realizes 29 Per Cent Of Goal

A total of $30,410.43 has been subscribed thus far in the current Cumberland Community Chest-United Defense (USO) Drive, according to the first report issued by campaign officials at a meeting yesterday at Central YMCA.

General Chairman George L. Buchanan said the amount is approximately 39 per cent of the set goal of $105,160 for this year.

In a breakdown of the various categories the following figures have been released: Advance Gifts, $23,500; Classified, $4,226.85; Residential, $1,684.88; Men's Sales Army, $646.50 and County, $352.20.

A breakdown of the Allegany County United Defense (USO) Drive is thus: Carlos-Midlothian, Blaine Willets, chairman, $37.70; Corriganville, Mrs. John Gaff, chairman, $15; Ellerslie, Mrs. William Powell, chairman, $49.50 and Frostburg, Ralph M. Race, chairman, $250.

The payroll deduction plan continuing at Eiler Chevrolet, Inc, shows a total of $624.80; First National Bank, $614.80 in payroll deduction plan instituted and Thompson Buick Corp., $395, deduction plan instituted.

Advance Gifts contributions show an amount of $10,000 from the Celanese Corporation of America, an increase of $2,000 over 1950; $4,500 from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, an increase of $1,000 and $9,000 from city contributions, the same as in 1950.

Partial reports from three of the larger companies of employes' contributions in the Classified Sections show $1,057.50 from the Celanese; $1,217 from Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; and $306 from the Western Maryland Railway.

The second report of the campaign, Chairman Buchanan announces, will be Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Three New Draft Classifications Are Ordered

Lists Conscientious Objectors As 1-0

Local Selective Service officials received notification from Washington yesterday for three new types of classifications for registrants, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

Orders from Selective Service Headquarters listed the new classifications as 1-O, 1-W and 1-S. The new orders also eliminate the old classification of 4-E covering conscientious objectors.

Fahey explained that the new classification of 1-O is for conscientious objectors of draft age.

Under the new law a 1-O registrant will be processed for the Armed Forces physical examination when his order number is reached in sequence of birth date.

If physically fit, the 1-O registrant will be assigned to civilian work contributing to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest, Fahey said.

The classification of 1-W is for conscientious objectors who are married and have children.

The 1-S classification is for deferred students of draft age. This type is broken down into 1-S (H) and 1-S (C). The first classifies persons of draft age who are attending full-time courses of instruction in a high school while the latter is for college students.

Fahey also pointed out that registrants who are married and have children are obligated under the Selective Service Laws to notify their draft boards, since the boards are processing for induction married men without children.

It has been estimated that draft calls issued by the Defense Department for November and December will result in the induction of about 860 men from Maryland.

Westernport Man Gets One Year For Jail Walkout

Engineer Faces Hearing After Crossing Block

A Grafton, W. Va. railroader was taken into custody last night at 8:10 o'clock and will be given a hearing Tuesday morning in Police Court on charges of violating Section 32, Chapter 14, of the City Code.

L. H. Bragg, engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was arrested by City Detective Ernest M. Powell on a warrant issued by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick. Bragg is charged with blocking the Union Street Railroad Crossing yesterday morning while operating Engine No. 4476 of Train No. 29. He has been released on $10 bond pending the hearing.

A Westernport man's unscheduled leave from the Allegany County Jail ended up yesterday with a sentence of one year and six months in the Maryland House of Correction added to his unexpired two months in jail.

Patrick Stowell, who is the father of 17 children, was committed to jail September 12 to serve a 90-day sentence, 60 days for a drunken driving charge and 30 more for reckless driving.

After he was made a trusty at the jail, the sheriff's deputies learned he was not so trustworthy as a trusty. Stowell walked out Wednesday.

The next day he was picked up in his home town by Police Chief Burza Hanlin and Officer James Griffith of Westernport.

Police learned Stowell was at large when his wife, Mrs. Lottie Stowell, complained to Officer Griffith that he was breaking up the furniture at home.

At the time of his arrest, Stowell was driving a truck, and according to police was in no condition to operate a vehicle.

Magistrate Carl W. Schaffer yesterday afternoon sentenced Stowell to six months in the House of Correction on a drunken driving charge and to one year in the House of Correction for breaking out of jail.

City Traffic Report Given

The City Police Department is continuing its traffic enforcement program, with fines amounting to $253 collected for various driving violations, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long has announced.

Six motorists were taken into custody on charges of reckless driving for the period from September 1-27, while two drivers were arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. One motorist failed to stop after striking an unattended vehicle, Long reports, two were arrested for operating without licenses, and another was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to operate a vehicle.

Twelve motorists were charged with speeding by police in violation of City Ordinance 1530. Careless driving accounted for one arrest, and careless driving resulting in accidents brought two arrests.

Four motorists were fined for going through stop signs, one motorist on a traffic light violation and one for parking in a fire lane.

Oldtown Boys Will Attend FFA Convention

Will Leave Sunday For Kansas City

For the sixth consecutive year an outstanding Future Farmers of America member from Allegany County will attend the 24th annual National FFA Convention, James H. House, vocational agriculture supervisor for the county schools, disclosed yesterday.

The official delegate this year will be James Carder, a member of the Oldtown FFA chapter. Eldon Long, another member of the Oldtown chapter, also will attend, but not as an official delegate.

Carder and Long, accompanied by Supervisor House will leave Cumberland at 8:33 p. m. Sunday aboard the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Columbian for the week-long convention, which will be held in Kansas City.

A 30-member Maryland delegation will go to the convention on the same train. The county boys will arrive back in Keyser, W. Va., at 6:44 a. m. Saturday, Actober 13.

Teachers besides House who will go with the Maryland group are Palmer Hopkins of Harford County, who will take with him the three Harford County boys who won the state livestock judging contest; John Gee of Charles County, and Warren Smith of Frederick County.

Each year in selecting a county boy to attend the convention, officials consider leadership and participation in FFA activities, citizenship, farming program and ability to bring back to the other FFA boys a clear report of the convention proceedings. Other former delegates and the chapters they represented were 1946, Perry Shryock., Flintstone; 1947, James Bishop, Oldtown; 1948, John Miller, Fort Hill; 1949, Taylor Arnold, Beall, and 1950, James Smith, Flintstone.

Audit Shows Assets Of City Are At $17,045,322.85 Mark

The worth of this city as of June 30 was $17,045,322.85.

Liabilities were listed as $7,080,062.13, including outstanding bonds of $6,946,000 leaving reserves and surpluses totaling $9,965,260.72.

These figures were reported by Berman, Goldman, Leven and Company, CPA, who have submitted an audit of the books and records of the City of Cumberland for the fiscal year ending June 30, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The assets of the city include cash in banks and on hand, receivables, including liens and taxes, investments in the Sinking Fund and fixed assets, which include the value of streets, subways, bridges, sewer system, roads, dams, water lines, building and land, public building and land, flood protection work and other city-owned property.

The report shows that the city's surplus from taxation and general operation of the city on June 30 amounted to $85,174.89.

In the Water Department, the excess of income over expenditures totaled $9,100.57.

Gibson met with the Mayor and Council Thursday to present the report to the auditors.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said at that time that the books were in good shape and that the auditors made no recommendations on accounts or the method of keeping the records.

Formal adoption of the audit is slated at Monday morning's meeting of the Mayor and Council. The body is also slated to pass an order providing for payment of costs of the audit and to authorize printing of a number of copies of the financial report.

ALLIES SHATTER REDS' MAIN LINE

Yankees Win, 3 To 1, To Even Series

Lefty Ed Lopat Allows Giants Only Five Hits

Irvin Gets Three Of Losers' Blows

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Casey Stengel's New York Yankees, gunning for a third straight World Series championship, got on the right track today behind the dependable pitching of Lefty Ed Lopat and turned back the Giants 3 to 1. This evened the series at one game each.

A crowd of 66,018 took in the game under clear skies and a summer-like temperature of 79 degrees at Yankee Stadium. They saw the American League champions score single runs in the first and second innings to lead all the way over the National Leaguers.

Lopat, who won 21 games while losing nine during the regular season, cooled off the Giant batsmen, allowing only five hits — three of them by the brilliant Monte Irvin. The losing pitcher was Larry Jansen, the Giants righthander star, who stacked up 23 victories against 11 defeats during the year.

Perfect Indian summer weather is forecast for tonight and tomorrow, when the third game is scheduled in the Giants' Polo Grounds lair, a couple of long stone throws Across the Harlem River from the stadium.

Hearn To Face Raschi

The weatherman said it would be even warmer tomorrow, with the high in the 80's. The next three games are at the Polo Grounds. The sixth and seventh, if necessary, return to the stadium.

Jim Hearn, who beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-1, in the first playoff game for the National League flag, Monday, is Manager Leo Durocher's choice for the third game. Stengel will go with Vic Raschi in the battle of righthanders. During the year, Hearn won 17 and lost nine while Raschi's record was 21-10.

A single by Gil McDougald in the first inning, preceded by two bunt singles and an error, gave the Yankees their first run today. In the second inning, Joe Collins hoisted a 310-foot homer into the lower right field stands to put the Yankees in front, 2-0. From that point until he was lifted in the top of the seventh for a pinch hitter, Jansen set 13 Yanks down in order.

Reliefer George Spencer came on in the last of the seventh and retired three more Yankees in a row after the Giants got their only tally in the top half of the inning.

Irvin Hitting At .778 Pace

Lopat singled home the third Yankee run himself to give the Yankees insurance in the bottom of the eighth. His blow came after a single by Bobby Brown and an infield out.

The Yankee pitcher was in serious trouble only once — in the seventh when Irvin led off with a single. Whitey Lockman lined a hit to center, but Irvin was held at second. Willie Mays bunted down the third base line, and Brown tossed to Phil Rizzuto for the force on Lockman at second.

After Westrum walked to load the bases, Billy Rigney came on to pinch-hit off Hank Thompson, and flied out to deep right field, Irvin scoring after the catch. Ray Noble batted for Jansen, and fouled to Catcher Yogi Berra for the third out.

Irvin, who has seven hits in nine trips to the plate in two games, is slugging at a sensational .778.

18 Feared Dead As Ship Breaks, Sinks In Atlantic

Seven Are Picked Up With One Dying Later

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Oct. 5 (AP)—A 3,325-ton freighter, carrying 24 crewmen, cracked in two and sank in the hurricane-churned Atlantic early today. By nightfall, seven survivors and five bodies had been picked up. One of the survivors died.

One Coast Guard officer said there was little possibility any more crew members would be found alive. The Coast Guard officer set the crew figure at 24. Earlier it had been established that at least 23 men were aboard.

Planes To Resume Search

Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force planes, aided by three merchant ships, combed a 60-mile circle for the missing crewmen. The planes were called in at dusk and will resume the search tomorrow. The merchant ships are staying in the area through the night.

One of the ships, the Florence Luckenbach, reported that it had picked up one body and part of another. The ship said several bodies were seen being eaten by sharks.

Late this afternoon a Coast Guard search plane reported it had sighted "four or five" bodies. A merchant ship, not identified, was instructed to take the bodies aboard.

So far, 12 of the 24 crewmen have been accounted for.

Men Believed Trapped

One merchant ship, the Charlotte Lykes, radioed that it was likely that many of the missing men had been trapped in their bunks when the ship went down at 5 a. m. (EST) about 200 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras. The 314-foot Southern Isles, a converted LST (landing ship, tank), was bound from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Chester, Pa., with a cargo of iron ore.

The Coast Guard said a heavy sea swell probably had snapped the Southern Isles amidships.

Stalin Says Soviet Atom Bomb Tested

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP) — Soviet Prime Minister Stalin said in an interview Russia recently exploded another atomic bomb and promised there will be more to come, the Moscow radio declared early today.

The radio broadcast the interview Stalin gave to Pravda, official newspaper of the Russian Communist Party. It quoted him as having said:

"Tests on atom bombs of various calibers will be made in the future under the plan of the defense of our country from attacks from the British-American aggressive bloc."

Stalin also was quoted as having said that although Russia want atomic bombs prohibited, the United States "will use the atom bomb" in "the event of a United States attack on our country." He added that is why Russia is building up its atomic defense.

Stalin's statement followed by only three days an announcement by President Truman in Washington that the United States had information the Soviet Union had recently exploded a second atomic bomb.

Armed Forces Pay Hike Asked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department asked Congress today for a flat 10 per cent pay raise for all the armed forces, from privates on up.

Secretary of Defense Lovett said there has been a steady rise in the cost of living since the last pay raise two years ago, and another increase is urgent.

He added that the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates living costs have gone up about 9.4 per cent for families of moderate incomes in large cities. The raise would be in base pay and in living allowances.

As a further argument Secretary Lovett told Congress a 10 per cent pay raise would place military salaries more in line with those of civilian government employes, who have had recent cost of living raises.

Lovett told House Speaker Sam Rayburn in a letter that the raises should date back to last July 1.

Army Enlisted Reservists Due Home By Dec. 20

500,000 Married Men Will Be Reclassified

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Defense Department disclosed today a plan for releasing most World War II enlisted reservists, now serving involuntarily, by next Christmas.

At the same time Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, announced draft boards will start reclassifying about 500,000 childless married men next week.

Hershey said possibly 200,000 of these men will be classified 1-A, eligible for service. President Truman issued new regulations last week making married men subject to draft if they are childless. Heretofore they have been in class 3-A, eligible for deferment.

Mrs. Rosenberg Reveals Plan

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, disclosed the Army plan to release involuntary reservists by next Dec. 20.

Only the enlisted reservists will be affected. Officers generally will serve the full 17 months allowed under present law.

She said in a letter to Congress that the Army previously had planned to release both inactive and volunteer reservists not later than next January 1. But unless the military situation changes she said it will be possible to get these enlisted men back home by Christmas.

The Air Force plans to release its enlisted, volunteer reservists after 12 months. Most officers will serve all, or almost all, of the 17 months permitted by law, Mrs. Rosenberg wrote.

The Navy is releasing enlisted men of the reserve after about 15 months duty, Mrs. Rosenberg said.

Marine Schedule Announced

The Marine Corps had announced a schedule for releasing its inactive and volunteer reserves, both enlisted men and officers. Mrs. Rosenberg said Marines assigned to active duty before last June 30 will be released by next June, in most cases. The average service will be about 14 months, she estimated.

A Marine Corps announcement said the release of its reservists from active duty will make the rebuilding of its organized reserve possible. This rebuilding will start immediately with revival of the Second Infantry Battalion in Boston. The second unit to be reactivated will be the First Engineer Field Maintenance Company in Baltimore, Md.

House Votes Defense Fund Of $56 Billion

New Weapons Talk Labeled "Fantastic"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The largest peacetime military appropriation bill in history was approved by the House today, making $94,000,000,000 available for preparedness this year.

The bill authorizes a defense budget of $56,937, 808,030. In addition about $37,000,000,000 carried over from previous years is available to the military. The House approved the bill by voice vote.

If the bill for the total available were shared equally, it would amount to about $600 for every man, woman and child in the country, or about $2,400 for every family of four persons.

Measure Goes To Senate

The measure now goes to the Senate where prompt approval seems assured. Both the House and Senate have approved the measure previously in different form, the present bill being a compromise.

Arguing for the bill, Chairman Mahon (D-Tex) of an Appropriations Defense subcommittee, told the House that recent statements about fantastic new weapons "are enirely too fantastic." He added that there is no easy and inexpensive road to victory in war.

President Truman has been among those officials who recently have talked of spectacular developments in military weapons.

And only today Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said in a speech at Los Angeles that the U. S. now has atomic weapons that can overcome any superiority an enemy may have in numbers of soldiers on the battlefield.

$20 Billion For Air Force

The bill would provide the Army $19,888,032,030; the Navy $15,877,-891,000; the Air Force $20,642,785,-000 an dth office of secretary of defense $529,100,000. Most of the money is for planes, tanks, guns and other weapons.

Mahon said that while the bill would make around $94,000,000,000 available to the military, only around $40,000,000,000 will be spent in the fiscal year ending next June. The explanation is that the Defense Department will be making some contracts heavy goods that won't be paid for in full until delivered after next June.

Survey Results Awaited By Taft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Sen. Taft of Ohio said today he will decide whether to run for the Republican presidential nomination only after he has studied a national "sentiment" survey being made by two associates.

He has asked for a final report on this study next Wednesday. How soon his decision will come after that is not known. The betting on Capitol Hill is that he will make his third bid for a nomination which went to others on his two tries in 1940 and 1948.

On the Democratic side, three officers of the 450,000-member Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union (AFL) visited President Truman and asked that he run again.

Union President Hugo Ernst and his associates reported that Mr. Truman told them he had one or two things he had to take care of before he could make any announcement.

Taft said today he has not wished to be a candidate unless he is convinced that "a majority of the Republicans really want me to run."

Probe Of Internal Revenue Service Spreads To Boston, New York And Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—A House investigation of alleged corruption and irregularities in the Internal Revenue Service fanned out today from St. Louis to Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

In a series of swift developments, a probing Ways and Means subcommittee:

1. Turned over to the Department of Justice, for "possible perjury prosecution," conflicting testimony about the relations of James P. Finnegan, resigned St. Louis revenue collector, with a St. Louis insurance broker.

TELLS OF TIEUP — Turney Gratz (above) tells a Senate investigations subcommittee that he was on the personal payroll of Democratic Chairman William Boyle, Jr., while he was employed by the RFC on a job "in no way or shape" related to loan activities. (AP Wirephoto)

2. Heard testimony from Hugh Finnegan that both he and James P. Finnegan, his brother, received money from a New York insurance firm in connection with transactions involving Denis W. Delaney, former collector of internaal revenue at Boston and now under indictment.

Deputy Commissioner Resigns

3. Received further testimony form Hugh Finnegan that Collector Francis R. Smith of Philadelphia was approached by the same New York firm on insurance matters but that he refused to have any part of the proposal.

The committee also received from Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap announcement of the immediate resignation of Deputy Commissioner Carroll E. Mealey, head of the alcohol tax unit, for reasons of health.

Before adjourning the hearings until next Tuesday, King discussed the testimony to date and said: "We have seen enough to indicate that we are dealing with a scheme that was intended to embrace more than just a single collector's office, and that had begun to spread across the nation when it was frustrated."

Insurance Agency Head Quizzed

King also made clear that the injection of Smith's name into the hearings was not to be taken as any indication the Philadelphia collector "has conducted himself improperly."

Throughout most of the day-long hearing, the committee quizzed John Martin Brodsky, head of the Dudmar insurance agency in St. Louis, who witnesses said paid Collector Finnigan $6,193 through 1949 and 1950 as attorney fees.

It was when Brodsky was excused, after characterizing previous testimony as "lies," that King announced he was sending the transcript of the hearings to the Justice Department for possible perjury action.

Gratz Worked For Boyle, RFC At Same Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Turney Gratz acknowledged to Senate investigators today that during four of the years he worked for the RFC he was also on the personal payroll of Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr.

Gratz, an old political friend of Boyle's, testified the party chief paid him a total of $11,000 from 1946 to 1949 for "looking after" Boyle's financial affairs in his spare time.

During all that period, Gratz said, he was employed full time in the rubber reserve division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Never at any time," Gratz declared, did he attempt to influence RFC loan decision or send any loan applicants to Boyle as clients.

Gabrielson Defended

The Senate's investigations subcommittee returned to Boyle's affairs after a two-day probe of the relations of Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson with the RFC.

This morning the investigators heard Harvey J. Gunderson swear that he did not allow Gabrielson to boom him for the presidency of the New York Stock Exchange until after he had given up his post as an RFC director.

Gabrielson was criticized before the committee yesterday for recommending Gunderson for the exchange post while the Gabrielson's gas refining company owed the RFC $18,500,000.

Final Scheduled Witness

Gratz was the final scheduled witness in the Boyle inquiry.

Chairman Hoey (D-NC) said he has no more witnesses on tap in either case and intends to call none unless there are new developments warranting it.

The subcommittee's next step would be an official report to the Senate, expressing its views on the relations of the two party chiefs with the big government loan agency.

Conferees Slash Tax On Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Congressional tax conferees agreed today to cut the tax on smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco and snuff from 18 to 10 cents a pound, and to end a previously agreed upon penny-a-pack increase in the cigaret tax Jan. 1, 1954.

Although the Senate-House conference committee adjusting differences in the multi-billion dollar revenue bill got together on 52 disputed provisions in the course of an all-day session, most of these were simply technical and little hope was held out for final agreement before the middle of next week.

Members were summoned to a Saturday session to speed the work.

These were among today's principal decisions:

To forgive the income taxes of members of the armed forces who are killed in combat zones or die of injuries received there. A similar provision was in effect during World War II.

To require state colleges and universities to pay regular corporation taxes on business enterprises unrelated to the regular work of the otherwise tax-exempt institutions.

Barbara Payton Summoned To Gangland Slaying Probe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—Barbara Payton, the blonde with a penchant for the limelight, has received a summons to tell a federal grand jury what she might know about the 1950 gangland slaying of Narcotics Informer Abe Davidian.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Ray H. Kinnison said today the actress was served with a subpoena ordering her to appear before the grand jury Oct. 18. She was in New York today and left for Raleigh, N. C.

The summons for Barbara came as she barely started housekeeping for Franchot Tone. She and Tone were married in Minnesota last week after the latter had recuperated from his beating at the hands of Tom Neal in the widely publicized battle on Barbara's patio.

Kinnison said an inquiry is being reopened into the million dollar narcotics ring operating in California up until the fatal shooting of Davidian in Fresno Feb. 28, 1950. Without his testimony the government's case collapsed and charges were dismissed against Adams and 14 others.

Among those questioned was another of the defendants, Stanley W. Adams of Inverness, Calif. Adams told officers he was at Miss Payton's apartment, with Actor Don Cougar, the day Davidian was slain. He added that he went to a Sunset Boulevard barber shop. Three barbers denied this, but Miss Payton and Cougar testified they had seen him that day. The jury convicted Adams of perjury, and he is serving time. Cougar is also in jail, serving a year for possessing marijuana.

United Nations Forces Chase Retreating Foe

Chinese Abandon Vital Hill Mass

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Saturday, Oct. 6 (AP)—U. S. Third Division infantrymen broke the main Communist line in West-Central Korea and advanced unopposed today against retreating Chinese Reds.

Maj. Gen. Robert Soule, division commander, said the four-day-old Allied offensive by 100,000 troops of nine nations had penetrated the main Red defenses northwest of Chorwon.

His troops credited with inflicting 1,205 Red casualties in the first two days, moved without opposition toward a vital hill mass from which the Chinese pulled out hastily last night, a pooled dispatch said.

The hill mass strengthens Allied control of the Seoul-Chrowon-Kumhwa rail line, a vital front line supply artery.

"Undoubtedly the division hit the main Communist line," Soule told correspondents.

"We penetrated it and broke it and forced the Reds to withdraw."

Five Key Points Seized

Eighth Army headquarters said five "key terrain features" fell Friday to the U. S. First Cavalry and Third Divisions and the British Commonwealth Division in West and West-Central Korea.

Two were seized by the First Cavarly northwest of Yonchon, a highway town 35 miles north of Seoul.

Two others were captured by the Third Division northwest of Chorwon, "iron triangle" town 47 miles northwest of Seoul.

The fifth high point, presumably taken by the British, was not specified in today's Eighth Army communique.

Elements of the British Commonwealth Division, opearting on the Third Division's left flank, met stiff opposition west of Yonchon. Last night two Red companies counterattacked and forced the Commonwealth units to make a slight withdrawal.

Several Red counterattacks were repulsed in Western Korea Friday.

Off Eastern Korea, Allied warships gave the seaport city of Hungnam its heaviest shelling since United Nations forces pulled out of that port last December.

Air War Flares Anew

On the bloody east-central front, Allied armored patrols swept beyond the forbidding crags of "Heartbreak Ridge" to a point 22 miles north of parallel 38. Censorship hitherto had prevented mention of how far into Red Korea U. N. forces had battled in that sector.

On "Heartbreak Ridge" itself, U. S. and French troops early today captured 3,000-foot peak in an assault employing flame-throwers and demolition charges.

The air war in far Northwest Korea flared anew Friday with three jet dogfights involving 220 planes--the largest number of jet fighters reported engaged in a day.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported one Russia-type MIG-15 jet shot down and two damaged. The Fifth said no U. S. jets were lost in the first two battles, but didn't report the outcome of the third.

U. S. Stands Pat On China Issues

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson today barred any dickering with Red China on three major diplomatic issues in connection with the Korean truce talks.

Setting forth a summary of American policy, Acheson said the United States is standing pat against—

1. Recognition of Red China.
2. Admission of the Peiping regime into the United Nations.
3. Turning over Formosa to Communist China.

Acheson said the United States is "firmly opposed to any linkage between an armistice in Korea" and those issues.

"We do not, for our part, consider that an armistice in Korea, if such should eventuate, would be cause for modification of these policies," he said.

Acheson presented his views in a letter to Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) in reply to Smith's recuest for the information.

Smith read the letter into the record as Ambassador - at - Large Philip C. Jessup concluded his two-day testimony before a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee.

The subcommittee is weighing President Truman's nomination of Jessup as a delegate to the United Nations.

Plans To Transfer Aluminum Plants East Are Dropped

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson today announced the abandonment, for the time being, of studies on the removal of aluminum production lines from the Pacific northwest.

Recent rainfall has so improved the power supply in the northwest as to make a shift of aluminum production "uneconomical at this time," Wilson said.

The decision was made public in a brief statement two weeks after the mobilization chief asked major aluminum producers to report on the cost and feasibility of moving part of the industry to the Ohio River area or elsewhere. Since then, heavy rains have broken a drought which began in April, and reduced water levels in the Columbia basin dangerously.

New Subs Authorized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—House approval sent to the White House today a bill authorizing the Navy to spend $49,000,000 on two experimental submarines now under construction.

"Children Preferred" Rent Ad Brings Out 160 Families

GEORGIAVILLE, R. I., Oct. 5 (AP)—All you have to do to start a stampede is advertise in a newspaper that you have a house for rent and add two words—"children preferred."

That's what Miss Agnes Ethier said today. "I could have sold hot dogs, I think."

In two days 160 families drove to this village to try to get the house for themselves and their children. At one time there were cars in the yard with number plates issued by New Hampshire, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

Said William Riley, who runs a gasoline station on the main road: "I was reciting directions all day long. At first I couldn't understand why. I was just nosey enough to ask a gentleman and he told me. That's Miss Ethier all right. Caused quite a sensation, I can tell you. She's a good lady, God bless her."

Miss Ethier loves children. She sees about 250 of them a day as teacher at Hope High School in Providence.

Her brother, teacher at Rhode Island College of Education, has four children.

"In the long run," he said, "it pays to have families with children. They tend to be more human, less selfish and, because of that, better tenants. That makes up for their being harder on the house."

Bradley Will Visit Greece And Turkey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley will leave for Greece and Turkey Sunday to explain the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to those two countries.

The trip by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff follows the recent recommendation by the NATO council that the two Eastern Mediterranean nations be admitted to membership.

Wholesale Prices Go Up As Food Leads Way

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Wholesale prices rose 0.3 per cent during the week ended October 2, largely because of advances in farm proudcts and foods.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the wholesale price index last Tuesday was 177.2 per cent of the 1926 average. That was 4.7 per cent above a year ago and 12.9 per cent above the pre-Korea index.

Farm products were up 0.3 per cent, with advances for most grains, cottons, eggs, apples, and milk.

Foods were up 0.5 per cent, lead by meat, butter, cocoa, beans and lard.

To sell yourself and hold others' interest, avoid trite and repetitive Words. Try these suggestions.

SECRETS OF CHARM

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

As Somerset Maugham pithily commented, "If nobody spoke unless he had something to say, the human race would very soon lose the use of speech." But even the dullest conversation would sound less vapid and repetitious if more people would take the trouble to vary the words in which they couch their vocalized expressions.

Your Unused Reserve

In the course of an ordinary schooling, the modern American is exposed to 25,000 words. Yet, an expert states that most people use no more than 1,000 of them in daily conversation. No wonder so many conversations sound like something you've heard over and over and over, again and again.

To sell your ideas and yourself, you must be able to hold the interest of others. People even doubt your own interest in what you are saying when your words and phrases are trite and recited like a refrain.

Almost everyone uses more words when writing than when talking. That's sufficient proof that the death of word sparkle in conversations is the result of laziness and carelessness. Anyone can reach into his personal pack of words and pick out dozens that have been lying there unuttered for years — good words, too.

Now, I'm not making any plea for "elegant variations" in words. That kind of self-consciousness saps the sincerity of what you say faster than anything else.

An Easy Start

Just start making an effort to state exactly what you mean or think. That will put more words to work for you than anything else you can do. It can't be done with generalities, and so you will feel the need of more and more words and constantly find yourself reaching for them. Vagueness will no longer satisfy you; any indefiniteness in your conversation will spur you on toward making new and more specific words part of your working vocabulary.

In your word-recruiting campaign and your eagerness to expand, be sure that you're never tempted to use any word unless you are sure of its precise meaning. Look it up before you claim it as one of your own. And never resort to strange, self-conscious or obsolete words that might confound others. Keep your words exact, colorful, and current and the power and persuasion of what you say will grow and grow!

First Offenders Won't Get Off, Harris Warns

Prior to passing sentence on two men yesterday in Circuit Court, notice was served by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris that in the future persons brought before him who are first offenders will not be dealt with lightly if the crimes they have committed are serious ones.

Judge Harris said it seems to be generally felt by many persons that first offenders will get off gently with either a parole or suspended sentence.

"This is not true," Judge Harris declared. "From now on any person who is convicted of a serious offense will be dealt with accordingly."

In the case of John B. Powell, this city, the court imposed a five-year suspended sentence in the House of Correction with more than a dozen strings attached.

Powell, who was convicted of stealing a diamond ring from his divorced first wife, and passing six bad checks, was told by Judge Harris that he must make restitution, pay the pawnbroker for money obtained on the ring; abstain from alcoholic beverages, be of good behavior, do not drive or own a car, assign his paycheck to pay off approximately $4,000 in debts, not purchase anything on credit, work regularly, report to the parole officer, not to remarry until the $4,000 is paid off, stay away from his first wife, and stay away from his present wife from whom he is estranged.

Judge Harris commented Powell had not committed any vicious or violent crime but has a bad record pertaining to paying his bills and also in passing bogus checks.

"The court believes he may be rehabilitated, and in view of this will take that chance," the court stated.

Any infraction will result in Powell being sent to the House of Correction, the court warned.

Fred M. Probst, of Bowman's Addition, was given a suspended sentence of three years in the House of Correction on his conviction for receiving stolen goods. He was involved in the case in which a number of men stole tires from the warehouse of a local transportation company.

Propst was warned to be of good behavior, attend church regularly and abstain from alcohol.

Garrett Board Suspends Eight Beer Permits

The eight holders of beer licenses in Garrett County who pleaded guilty to having liquor in their possession for the purpose of selling it were notified by mail yesterday of the suspencion of their permits, it was unofficially reported in Garrett County Circuit Court House circles at Oakland.

The Garrett County commissioners' office said letters informing eight tavern operators of the action of the board, which sat twice this week as a board of license commissioners, were placed in the mail Thursday night.

Those facing the board's action are C. G. and E. W. Railey, J. Phillips Thayer, C. M. Savage, Oswald and Gladys Vanucci, all of Deep Creek Lake; Lee and Hazel McRobie, of Vindex; Roy H. Zehner, Lloyd A. Wagner and William Wagner, all of Grantsville.

They all had pleaded guilty in Circuit Court last month and were fined by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

W. Va. Man Dies In Truck Crash

One man was killed and two others injured yesterday when a large truck loaded with empty chicken coops went out of control and crashed into a chicker house about four miles from Moorefield, W. Va., on Route 220.

Cpl. C. S. Hamrick of the State Police detachment at Moorefield, identified the dead man as John Ford, Negro, of Moorefield. Listed as very seriously injured is Solomon Gaither, of Petersburg, W. Va., driver of the truck, and Ellis "Dutch" Redman, of Moorefield, was also injured.

The two injured men were taken to a hospital in Harrisonburg, Va., by ambulance.

The truck is owned by David VanMeter, who operates the Cumberland Poultry Company. State Police believe the three men, all employes of Van Meter, were returning from delivering a cargo of chickens when the crash occurred.

Cpl. Hamrick said the truck went around a sharp curve, veered to the right of the road, sheared off a telephone pole and then crashed into a chicken house just off the highway. The chicken house is owned by Ward Lambert. The truck practically demolished the large chicken house. Ford was killed instantly.

The Newspaperboy

While today will be rather widely observed the significance of the day will be restricted to a great degree to a comparatively small group of people, those in the newspaper business.

Despite this, the recipient of today's honors is of the utmost importance to millions of Americans. He is your newspaperboy, the youngster who helps the newspapers of the United States light the way of freedom.

During this week, observed nationally as National Newspaper Week, the newspapers of America have adopted the theme, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

The newspaperboy makes sure that you get your daily copy of the light of freedom.

Perhaps the reader of a newspaper is not quite aware of the tremendous part the newspaperboy plays in the daily dissemination of information.

In a town the size of Cumberland, the newspaperboy, that youngster who lives just up the street, is responsible for delivering, in round numbers, 75 per cent of the daily copies of The Cumberland News.

His is a responsible job. He gets up early in the morning, winter or summer, despite weather conditions, to make sure that your newspaper is on your doorstep when you want it. He does his best to make sure your paper is not damaged by rain or snow by delivering it to a point protected from the elements.

One day a week, after school hours, when other youngsters are perhaps enjoying themselves playing baseball or football or taking in a movie, your newspaperboy has another job to do. That is his task of collecting from his customers.

To keep from disturbing you in the early hours of the day, your newspaperboy "knocks off" from childhood pleasures later on to collect his bill from you, the reader.

Your newspaperboy of today is truly the businessman of tomorrow. And he is getting excellent training for his future responsibilities.

He is, in fact, a young businessman. He, himself, buys his papers daily and pays for them with the profits he derives from selling them to his customers. He builds up his daily route and it is up to him to satisfy his customers so that they continue to buy from him and make his small venture possible.

That this business experience pays off is obvious from a quick glance at the successful businessmen in Cumberland today. Many of them started by carrying newspapers to your parents' homes.

This business of being a newspaperboy, however, should not be all one-sided.

While you are helping the newspaperboy, he likewise is helping you by seeing that you get the latest news of your town, state and country and the world as soon as the big presses print it on huge rolls of paper.

The newspaperboy, good businessman that he is, makes sacrifices of his own to see that you get your newspaper on time.

Newspaperboys are youngsters. Seldom do they get the credit due them because they are so regular and prompt in their service. That your newspaper is delivered on time every day is expected and not the exception.

On the other hand, there are some customers who apparently delight in "taking it out" on these youngsters, none of them out of their teens and who take special pride in climbing out of bed before dawn so that your paper is delivered on your doorstep on time.

It certainly should not be necessary for newspaperboys to take the abuse they are subjected to by some readers. We refer especially to a case of a few days ago when a teen age boy was cursed as a chiseler and a cheat when he rang a doorbell to collect the money due him.

In the past this youngster had "carried" the customer despite refusals to pay. In this particular case he had tried a number of times to collect his money but each time was rejected.

When he made his final effort, he was cursed and "bawled out" so severely "for ringing the doorbell" that tears of embarrassment streamed down his face.

Seldom is the newspaperboy rewarded for his conscientious, punctual service and he expects no reward other than the payment due him for the product he is selling.

But by the same token, neither should the newspaperboy be subjected to unjust criticism by people three and four times his age who should be happy to help a youngster with enough spirit to try to do something on his own.

The youngsters are to be commended for starting today to be the businessmen of tomorrow. The Cumberland News takes off its hat to every one of them.

Forrestal's Escalators

Aboard U. S. Navy aircraft carriers these days a prime subject of wardroom and mess-hall chatter is the super carrier on the ways of Newport News, Va. Its great length (one-fifth mile), great cost ($250,000,000, maybe) and great potential as a mobile airfield for jet planes—these and other aspects are good for endless discussion and argument.

But it's safe to say nothing has served oftener to open these sessions than the topic of the escalators.

Escalators in a fighting ship? What for? That's easy. For pilots of fighter planes, and for pilots and crews of the larger jet bombers which the Forrestal will be able to handle on both flight and hangar decks.

When the squack-boxes pass the command, "Pilots, man your planes!" they won't have to climb steep ladders with their heavy gear-like parachutes and belts of machinegun ammunition. They'll just hop on to a moving stairway and right on up to the flight deck. The minutes saved could be important in launching a fighter squadron.

Stairway? That word is unknown aboard a naval ship. It is hard to imagine naval lingo accepting the term escalator, either. Hasn't that word too much connotation of tired female shoppers on their way to the big sale of sheets and pillowcases? Free of charge we herewith offer the Navy a new word. It is escaladder.

How To Keep Well

The School Child With A Rheumatic Heart

Rheumatic fever attacks thousands of children each year. At least one-third suffer permanent scarring of the heart of such severity as to handicap the victim for life. In another third, the defect is so trivial there is no need to restrict activity. The remainder recover completely.

Children with rheumatic heart disease are not always easy to handle. Many have been overprotected at home or warned so often not to exert themselves that a feeling of anxiety and dependence is engendered. Furthermore, such youngsters listen intently when the parents discuss their condition with the family physician. The little ones know what is going on and frequently become further disturbed by what they hear about heart disease. The lesson to be learned is not to talk about the problem in front of the afflicted boy or girl.

These children also present a problem in school. School authorities realize that any one with moderate to severe cardiac disease is a responsibility and some are not willing to assume this additional obligation. They may be afraid that the youngster will have a heart attack in the classroom and that they will receive the blame. But this possibility is remote. There is a better chance that the principal will have a heart attack, especially if he is of the ateriosclerotic age.

If such an emergency arises, however, teachers should be prepared. With shortness of breath, the child has more difficulty breathing when lying flat. He should be permitted to sit up and tight clothing must be loosened. Plenty of air should be given and calmness is reassuring to the sufferer and to the other pupils. The same applies to fainting except that it is better to lie down with the head lower than the body. It should be remembered that fainting and heart disease seldom are related.

Most of these boys and girls can take part in the usual classroom activities. With minor cardiac defects, no restrictions are needed. The few times that overexertion occurs will do less harm than the anxiety created whenever they are reminded of their physical condition. Too much attention along this line encourages an unhealthy mental state so much so that the lad is afraid to life a finger lest he overtax the heart. On the other hand, the school program for those with more severe involvment requires adaptations. After all, these children need restricted activity during recess and must be granted permission to skip physical education. Rest periods will prove beneficial. In schools where stair climbing is essential, the youngster with rheumatic heart will benefit if given certain concessions.

This is conceivable but farfetched. However, any tumor that is irritated may become malignant. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on breast tumors.

FLUORESCENT LIGHT

Mrs. E. writes: The doctor put a special lamp on the scalps of my children and then told me they had ringworm. I can see no sign of this disorder except a few loose scales on the hair. What kind of lamp is this?

REPLY

This is the Wood light, which is capable of detecting ringworm of the scalp long before it can be seen with the naked eye. Take advantage of the situation by having the infection treated before it becomes extensive.

MOTIVATION NEEDED

Mrs. E. Writes: Can the sleeping drug habit be cured without hospitalization?

REPLY

Yes, but as with other habits of this type the desire to quit must be absolute and sincere if cure is to be successful.

ARMY LIFE

V. B. writes: I weighed 155 pounds when I entered the Army several years ago and came out 185 pounds. Since my discharge I've dropped back to 155 and cannot gain no matter how much I eat. How do you explain my Army experience?

REPLY

Good food, a quiet life, and practically no taxation.

DAYDREAMING

Mrs. B. writes: What does it mean when a teen-ager talks to himself?

REPLY

This may represent a form of daydreaming or a vivid imagination. It is not serious unless the youngster shuts himself in a shell and lives in a world of his own; or if he begins to converse with imaginary companions who in turn are talking back to him.

LENS REMOVAL

Soybeans Take Strange Nosedive; General Bradley Explains MacArthur Reversal; Tennessee Senatorial Feud Erupts On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON — The soybean market took a strange nose dive last month, which looks suspiciously as if someone is tampering in soybeans again. Previously, a group of Chinese speculators rigged the market, so the price of soybeans shot up $1 a bushel. This time, however, the price dropped from $3.14 to $2.70 a bushel, so that speculators betting on the short side of the market were able to make a killing. American farmers took the loss.

The Agriculture Department is required by law to investigate any suspicious activity on the commodity market.

If Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will look into the mysterious manipulations in both soybeans and rye, this column can provide him with sworn witnesses who will testify that certain high Chinese have been interested in both commodities.

These same Chinese are able to make a profit on the commodity market without paying U. S. taxes, then use the money to finance the smear campaigns against such men as Secretary of State Acheson and ex-Secretary of Defense Marshall.

MacArthur Reversed

Conscientious Gen. Omar Bradley was cross-examined by friends of General MacArthur in a closed-door session of the Armed Services Committee the other day as to why the Air Force reecntly bombed Rashin near the Siberian border—the same city which MacArthur was ordered not to bomb.

Bradley also warned senators during the same meeting that the big public hullabaloo about secret weapons might be dangerous, since development of these weapons was "four, five or six years away."

The chief quizzing of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was conducted by Sen. Harry Cain, Republican of Washington.

"This is where I came in," observed Cain, when Bradley explained that General Ridgway's orders were still the same about bombing Manchuria as those given to MacArthur.

Cain countered by reminding General Bradley that MacArthur had been forbidden to bomb Rashin, a transportation center on the Korean-Siberian border. Cain asked why these orders had now been reversed.

Bradley replied that the MacArthur hearings naturally had been read in the Kremlin, and as a result, Red Army leaders were convinced Rashin was absolutely safe. Therefore, they had built up huge supplies with no protection whatsoever.

The reason MacArthur had been ordered not to bomb Rashin still held, Bradley explained—namely, it was only 20 miles from the Russian border and we didn't want to take the risk of overshooting into Siberia. Therefore, the Air Force was ordered to bomb Rashin in clear weather at a low altitude, and by visual recognition, not instruments. The result was heavy enemy destruction.

Russian Air Superiority

Bradley also told senators that the biggest threat to UN forces was still the Russian air force. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon asked whether we could hold our air superiority if Russia got into the war. Bradley replied with a flat no, stressed that Russia has air superiority.

On the ground, Bradley predicted a winter stalemate with neither side strong enough to wage a successful offensive. He said our plan was to stay on the "active defense," harass the enemy and wipe out as many Chinese as possible. He seemed pessimistic about the truce talks.

Senator Russell of Georgia pointed out that the public has been encouraged to pin its faith on new, mighty weapons with the power to achieve "fantastic results."

Bradley replied that the Defense Department is working on such weapons, but warned that they are "four, five or six years away." Decrying the talk about secret weapons, he warned that such talk is a disservice to the public. The armed services aren't able to "perform miracles," said infantryman Bradley, and urged Chairman Russell to issue a statement, playing down the importance of secret weapons.

McKellar Rages

The public record has been toned down, but a Tennessee feud erupted on the Senate floor the other day in all its mountain fury. It brought creaky Senator Kenneth McKellar to his feet in a wild rage, thumping his can angrily and shaking a gnarled fist at his Tennessee colleague, soft-spoken Sen. Estes Kefauver.

McKellar has been carrying on a one-sided feud against Kefauver for months, but this is the first time it has broken out on the Senate floor. What provoked the aged Tennessean was an attempt by Kefauver to create a roving judge for both Middle and Western Tennessee, instead of confining him to the Middle district alone.

Disregarding rules of Senate courtesy, McKellar bitterly accused his colleague of "playing politics" and "violating his word."

"I believe in trying to settle these matters on the facts, and I am not going to get excited about it," broke in Kefauver calmly.

"The junior senator wouldn't know a fact if he saw one in the middle of the road," rasped McKellar, shaking with anger. Then the old man thumped down in his seat, scattering a sheaf of papers on the floor.

"I have another opinion about that," shot back Kefauver.

"Yes, the senator has, but no one else has," shouted McKellar from his seat.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, sitting in temporarily for Vice President Barkley, rapped for order. Then North Dakota's cigar-chewing Sen. Bill Langer jumped up and soothingly inquired: "I should like to know which senator from Tennessee represents the Hatfields and which one represents the McCoys."

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Truman was certainly right about one thing in his controversial conference with the press on the subject of censorship — it always has been and always will be the duty of the newspapers and periodicals to refrain from publishing data that would be useful to the enemy.

This is what is called "voluntary censorship." It operated successfully during World War I and World War II. But, unfortunately, that is not the real issue that has arisen over Mr. Truman's "iron curtain" order. What the President has failed to do is to set forth, through consultation with the representatives of the newspapers, periodicals and radio, the specific categories of tabooed news of a military nature so as to guide the press. This is very readily accomplished, but for some strange reason Mr. Truman and his staff spurned all idea of cooperation on the accustomed basis that has prevailed in the past.

Caught In Trap

The origin of the order which Mr. Truman has been persuaded to sign undoubtedly was in military quarters. If the military bureaucrats' viewpoint were always accepted, the American press would have to suppress 95 per cent of the news that normally comes out of the government, and the morale of the nation would suffer accordingly. It's not a new problem. Mr. Truman has simply been caught in one of the oldest traps that bureaucracy ever fashioned. President Wilson resisted it and so did President Franklin Roosevelt.

When Mr. Truman told his press conference that the reason all other bureaus and departments—including, of course, the civil agencies which haven't anything to do with defense—had to be covered by the executive order was that they sometimes were given copies of important data concerning military matters, he was using an official excuse that has been offered hereabouts for 40 years. It is not a justification for the blanketing of all agencies from the RFC to the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Stung by the criticism that has arisen, the President veers away from the use of the order on nonmilitary matters and applies his customary political demagoguery and sarcasm to the discussion. One would think from listening to him that the press wanted to aid the enemy and had less regard for the safety of the United States than he has. That's not the way to bring about cooperation between the press and the government.

So far as maps of various cities are concerned which the enemy can use for bombing, these can be bought or obtained free at the gasoline stations of the United States or in the souvenir booklets in tourist agencies and bazaars throughout the country. Also, if the Russians have not bought all the maps our own government has been selling for years, they are more stupid than anybody thinks.

It is nothing short of tragic that a President of the United States should stand up before a group of intelligent newspapermen and try to tell them, in effect, that what he wants is security for America and what they want is to give aid and comfort to the enemy.

Unless the President is ready to take advice from persons experienced in the field of voluntary censorship—there are many among his friends who served in wartime and who could give him the right information—the net result is going to be an increasing suspicion that the real secrets Mr. Truman is anxious to suppress are those which now are coming out of congressional committees revealing graft and corruption in some of the bureaus of his administration handling public funds.

The "iron curtain" order is wrong because it is European and not American. It centralizes the whole business of suppression in politically appointed officials. It makes no provision for a check or review by disinterested individuals of the information now to be officially suppressed. And, what is even more disturbing, it puts into effect a rule of fear and intimidation throughout all civil agencies and departments, so that objective-minded officials will not dare to issue information to which the public is entitled without clearing it with the headquarters of the administration to determine whether it is politically embarrassing.

The situation could be easily cleared up—and certainly Congress is asleep at the switch if it permits Naiz and Communist methods of news suppression to take hold inside the government of the United States under the guise of a military emergency.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP

Turning Point?

PARIS

On a recent visit to Paris, Mr. Winston Churchill had a number of conversions with French leaders. They described to him the plans now being worked out for a European army. Mr. Churchill's response, according to reliable reports, was one of intense surprise. "But that is not what I meant at all," he said repeatedly, "not what I meant at all."

This reaction on the part of the great English leader, who is himself the godfather of the European union idea, was natural enough. For it is a reasonable guess that what Mr. Churchill has had in mind all along is a sort of grand European coalition, with England at its head. And both the French leaders and the men in Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters here are now talking very seriously and with apparent conviction about something a great deal more far-reaching than this.

It is surprising, for example, to hear a man like Mr. Jean Monnet, the chief French planner, remark calmly, "Oh, yes, we shall have a United States of Europe by 1953." It is usually best to disregard such sweeping statement entirely. But Mr. Monnet is anything but a fool, and he has a way of seeing at least some of his plans—like the Schuman plan for pooling continental coal and steel, of which he was a principal author — come at least partially true.

Revolutionary Implications

In a way, it is even more surprising to hear American professional soldiers, including Gen. Eisenhower, talking with the earnestness of new converts about the need for a common European effort, in the military and other fields. Eisenhower and his most brilliant subordinates have become convinced that real European military strength simply cannot be built on the basis of individual national effort. The heart of the common European defense system, they believe, must be a French-German marriage, which the Schuman plan is to make possible, and the European army to make permanent.

The distinctly revolutionary implications of these ideas are accepted both in the French government and at SHAPE—rather blandly accepted, it sometimes seems to the newcomer. For what is involved is a profound change in the whole political and economic structure of Europe.

An end to national armies means an end to national foreign policies, since military strength is the essential instrument of national sovereignty. Moreover, the creation of a European army would mean that a third or more of the national budgets of each nation would be contributed to an army controlled by no nation. Thus a European foreign ministry and a European finance ministry are, as men like French Prime Minister Rene Pleven recognize, the logical next step to the European defense ministry already contemplated in the European army plan.

In fact, a European army simply will not work unless there exists a supra-national European authority empowered to make independent decisions. Thus, as both the French leaders and the planners in SHAPE readily agree, the European army plan can only function within the framework of a real European federation.

All this sounds suspiciously like wishful nonsense, like an attempt to substitute large, inexpensive ideas for large, expensive armies. And nonsense is precisely what it may turn out to be in the end. Although there is certainly growing strength behind the European union idea here in France, there are also powerful forces, including both the Communists and the de Gaullists, which will do everything possible to obstruct the reverse trend.

Practical Hurdles High

Moreover, it takes two to make a marriage. It remains to be seen just how politically practical the European army plan is in Germany, where this reporter goes next. And finally, all recent history clearly suggests that the practical hurdles are too high. Even such modest experiments as the Benelux union have ended in failure. It is very hard to believe that the European army proposal (which in fact started as a simple French tactic for delaying the creation of a German national army) can really lead on to a united Europe.

Yet Gen. Eisenhower and his chief planners believe that it can and that it must. Already, this conviction is having rather startling effects. Obstacles which seemed insurmountable before Eisenhower "bought" the European army idea have shown a tendency to melt away. The French, for example, are now ready to agree to operationally independent national units of 12,000 men in the European army, and thus a rational solution to a vexed question is in sight. Other vexed questions, like the identity of the commander in the transition period (it will probably be Eisenhower himself) and the national contributions in men and in money, are near to solution.

Certainly there is a great gulf between this sort of preliminary paper agreement and the giving up of huge chunks of national sovereignty. But it does begin to seem just barely possible that American leadership on the one hand, and the fear of Russia on the other, may supply the missing ingredient which will transform an ancient dream into reality. It may even be that Mr. Jean Monnet is right, at least in principle, and that Western Europe has reached, almost unnoticed, a great turning point in history.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Peron And Israel

I, like most Americans, know nothing about the Argentine, never having been there, and only gaining such information as is handed out. Maybe that makes me an expert like the great authorities on China who, having seen a city or two, write a book on the subject.

According to what I have read and been told, Peron is a Fascist and an anti-Semite. But then I meet his excellency, Dr. Pablo Manguel, Argentine envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Israel, who turns out to be a Jew, appointed by Peron to the new nation. And he tells me that the Argentine was second among nations to recognize Israel and the fifth to appoint a diplomatic representative.

I could not help being puzzled over whether what I have read about Peron and his government has any relationship to reality. Having for years been fighting off the fantastic story that Chinese Communists were "agrarian reformers," which is about as true as saying that a Kansas City Democrat is a political Puritan, I wondered how much of this sort of thing we are being handed by our so-called experts.

So Senor Pablo Manguel told me that there were about 500,000 Jews in the Argentine and that they are doing very nicely. In fact, Peron, according to his ambassador, has been very generous in permitting Jewish refugees to enter his country. At the time he ascended to the presidency, 32,000 of them were in the country illegally, having had no visas or other permits.

Peron legalized their status. Also, when a ship carrying Jewish refugees from Cyprus was not admitted to the United States or Cuba, the Argentine welcomed this shipload of homeless persons.

Then it turned out that the Argentine and Israel have a trade pact. Israel buys meat in the Argentine, paying not in dollars, which they do not have, but in Argentine currency. It also seems that 20 per cent of the money paid by Israel remains blocked in that country for industrial investment, the Israeli government having the right to decide in which industries this Argentine money is to be invested. In a word, Peron is not only building a trade with Israel but is making investments in the new country which gives his country an economic stake in the Middle East.

The reason for all this is, of course, that a rising country seeks markets where it can find them, which is what the United States ought to be doing. Instead, we seem to be quarrelling with buyers and potential buyers of American produce and commodities on the impossible postulate that we have a duty to preserve erstwhile British markets for Great Britain and erstwhile French markets for France.

We have antagonized the Argentine on general assumptions; we have frightened many Asiatic countries into the enveloping arms of Soviet Russia by our policy, now a proved failure, of coddling the Chinese Communists; we have put such pressure on Iran that that country has apparently come to look upon us as a sort of assistant enemy.

What does all this mean? I could not help wondering whether it is true that Peron and the Argentine are really anti-American or whether down there they wonder why we up here are anti-them. It is difficult to grasp precisely whether these enmities are fomented here or there.

Why do we have to be anti-anybody except a country that makes war on us or keeps us in a constant state of preparing for war?

The United States cannot decide whether Great Britain is to be governed by the Socialist Attlee or the Conservative Churchill, any more than the United States can decide whether Franco or La Pasionaria will govern Spain. Perhaps it would be better for mankind if such matters could be decided by our State Department, but such perfection will not come to pass. Our theory of government is that every people is entitled to a government of its choice, as the Declaration of Independence stipulates, but no country will permit us to send the Honest Ballot Association to their polls to determine whether the election is honestly conducted or whether the safe is blown up where the ballots are stored.

I should imagine that if the Argentinians want a substitute for Peron badly enough, they would find some way of achieving that end, and until they do it themselves, it is none of our business who runs their country. Perhaps if we looked to our knitting and stopped spreading tales, we should again find ourselves surprisingly popular.

Wallace Helped China Reds In '44, Budenz Testifies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—One-time Communist Louis Budenz testified today that Henry A. Wallace followed the Communist Party line in 1944 "whether he knew it or not" in cabled reports to the White House criticising Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Budenz said the Red line was to find fault with Chiang's Nationalist regime and thus pave the way for Communist conquest of China.

Testifying before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee, Budenz said Wallace's recommendations during his 1944 mission to China "helped the Communists."

The witness, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker, now a professor at Fordham University, also declared that American Communists were "encouraged" by the Communist International in Moscow to boost Wallace for reelection as vice president in 1944.

Wallace lost out on the nomination at the Democratic convention in Chicago in July, 1944, when President Roosevelt gave the nod to a senator from Missouri named Harry S. Truman.

Wallace is scheduled to testify in the next day or so at the Senate inquiry which is looking into possible subversive influences on American policy in the Far East.

Crete's Modern Romeo Wins His Freedom

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 5 (AP) — Crete's modern Romeo, Costa Kephaloyannis, won his freedom today. His Juliet, dark-eyed Tassoula Petracogeorgi, said this is the happiest day of my life.

Costa carried off Tassoula a year ago to the rugged Cretan mountains and married her. Their families have been feuding for years. Costa was sentenced to two years in prison for illegal possession of weapons last February.

In August, King Paul reduced the sentence permitting Costa to be freed Nov. 3. The court today permitted Costa to pay a fine instead of serving out the remaining days of his term.

Rep. Sutton Floors Would-Be Bandit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Rep. Pat Sutton (D-Tenn) ran into a gun-wielding bandit's "stick 'em up" early today, and countered with a hard right to the jaw.

The man went down. Sutton went for the police. Two hours later they picked up a suspect and held him for Sutton's identification.

A 21-year-old negro, Espey Thompson, Jr., Washington, was held for grand jury tonight on an armed assault charge in connection with the case. U. S. Commissioner Cyril S. Lawrence fixed bond at $15,000.

187 Employes Will Divide $100,000 Left Them By Boss

McGRAW, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP) — One hundred and 87 employes of three McGraw factories tomorrow will split $100,000 left them by their boss.

F. A. Purchas, who died Aug. 4, bequeathed the money to employes of the Central Paper Box Co., Inc., the McGraw Box Co., Inc., and the Higgins Supply Co., Inc. He held controlling interest in the three concerns.

The factories announced today that workers with a year and a half to five years of service would receive $250, those with five to 10 years, $500, and those with more than 10 years, $1,000.

S. C. Claims Demo Meeting Victory

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP) — The racial issue erupted behind closed doors at the national Young Democratic convention today and South Carolina, after a debate of two hours, claimed a major triumph.

The dispute arose at a meeting of the resolutions committee on a proposal submitted by California and strongly supported by Minnesota.

As originally offered by Minnesota, it praised President Truman for his stand on civil rights and urged that he be reelected. The last part was cut out on the ground that the organization was not authorized to endorse candidates on any level.

Still in the proposal was reference to fair employment legislation with strict enforcement, the anti-poll tax and anti-lynching. Heated debate started at this point with South Carolina spearheading the attack, and other southern states joining.

California finally agreed to withdraw the resolution and reword it so that it would be acceptable to the convention.

Burglar Returns War Heroes' Medals

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—A burglar, who signed himself "A Bad Egg," today returned by mail the medals he had stolen from a wartime secret agent and her husband.

The medals belong to French-born Odette and her British husband, Capt. Peter Churchill. The Churchills won them for bravery in occupied France. The awards include the George Cross, Britain's second highest award for valor; the French Legion D'Honneur; and other medals.

They were stolen along with some silver from the Churchills' London home Monday night.

Storm Beats Out To Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The hurricane named "How" appeared to be beating out to sea tonight.

At 4:30 p. m. (EST) it was centered about 150 miles south of Nantuckets, Mass., moving north northeastward.

State Appeals Use Tax Ruling

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 5 (AP) — Maryland asked today for permission to apply its use tax to building materials bought out of state.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes forced a $182 tax argument to the Court of Appeals. If he can't collect it, attorneys for the state contended, contractors will get a break denied everyone else under the two per cent retail sales tax act.

The use tax is a companion to the sales levy. It extends the same percentage charge to consumer goods bought elsewhere for use in Maryland. Without it, the tax would discriminate against persons who buy or sell exclusively within the state.

The Crofton company, Baltimore contractors, protested a sales and use tax bill of $17,194, but won exemption only for $182 spent on slate.

Judge John T. Tucker ruled in Baltimore City Court that the slate fell under a section of the tax law exempting "tangible personal property not readily obtainable in Maryland" and used in making another commodity.

The state appealed that decision.

Helicopter To Aid In Traffic Plans

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct.—(AP) —A traffic plan, replete with an air spotter, will be used to avoid jams at tomorrow's Maryland-George Washington football game.

A helicopter will scout the area to spot congestion. The word will be radioed to police cars for ironing out.

Traffic from all directions will be guided by 25 troopers along all routes.

Cars using Route 1 from Washington will be parked on the east side of the boulevard. They will not be allowed to turn left into the campus.

Western Maryland motorists approaching the campus on University Lane will be parked on lots west of Byrd Stadium. Drivers from Baltimore will enter the campus at the north gate and park on lots east of the stadium.

Eastern Shore fans are advised to take Route 50 to Lanham Speedway and turn right there. The road to the stadium will be marked from there to bypass Hyattsville and Bladensburg.

Harper Has Low Score Washed Out

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5 (AP) — Chandler Harper, golf's champion hard-luck pro of 1951, got his toughest break in the $15,000 Kansas City Open tournament today.

Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., who won the PGA title last year but has earned only $250 in tournament play since, had his leading score of 135 for 36 holes nullified by rain after more than two-thirds of the field was in.

Two deaths in his family and illness to himself had caused Harper to pick up in six of the 12 tournaments he has played in this year.

38% Of Slaughterers Violated Meat Controls

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The government's stabilization enforcement chief estimated today that 38 per cent of the nation's slaughterers are violating meat controls, and the OPS offered evidence that meat men are hacking away at the price program itself.

Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement director, told a news conference that the drive against illegal slaughtering practices has uncovered 532 violators among 1,445 plants visited by his agents.

Without giving details, he spoke of "affirmative efforts" by the meat industry "to sabotage the entire stabilization program."

Morgan was bitter over what he called the "most uncooperative" attitude of the American Meat Institute, Inc., a major trade association with headquarters in Chicago.

Series Quips By Bugs Baer

The Yanks won their ninety-ninth game of the season today with the industrious monotony of a woolen mill running off a mile of blue serge.

The superior mechanics of the American League moved like oiled gears. And demonstrated that this series is only going to be exciting when the Giants win.

• — • — •

Bob Considine wrote that I said the winner of the Brooklyn-Giants series would crawl into this contest on all-fours. And I still think the Giants are as played out as fishing-line with a tarpon on the far end.

Those three extra-curricular games with the Bums took more out of the Giants than Macy packs into his basement. Only Monte Irvin carried his punch all the way like a conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio.

• — • — •

Monte is now seven for nine in two games and going like a boy for a quart of ice cream. But unfortunately Willie Mays has tightened up like a hoss's teeth in a water trough.

Second-guessing baseball will win you second prize in the quiz contest. First prize is a coat-hanger. The Giants blew their only chance in the seventh when their clutchers went after rent-money and came back with an eviction notice.

• — • — •

Before that and after that Lopat held them down like a thumb on a buzzer.

Jansen pitched well until streeted for a pinch batter in the seventh. And that third run off Spencer didn't mean anymore than wheels on a lunch-wagon. Nobody was going anywhere. Especially the Giants.

Casey Stengel: "I told them to learn how to bunt so they wouldn't strike out so much. Now it makes a pretty good World Series."

Joe Collins: "I hit a low pitch for my homer."

Ed Lopat: "I mixed them up—but oh, that Irvin! He's rough."

Larry Jansen: "He hit a high pitch for his homer."

Joe DiMaggio: "This Jansen was tougher today than Koslo yesterday."

Leo Durocher: "He's a real good lefty, that Lopat—especially in the pinches."

Monte Irvin: "Those hits? I've just been swinging away."

UE Wins In Baltimore . .

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5 (AP) — The independent Union of Electrical Workers today defeated the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers in a National Labor Relations Board election at Baltimore's Westinghouse plant.

The vote was 883 for UE, 230 of IUE (CIO), three void and 19 for neither union.

McKeldin Says He'll Veto Tax-Hike Bills

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, in an address here today, promised to "veto every bill for new taxes that comes to my desk."

He told 200 Rotarians and their guests that "I am determined no new taxes will be imposed by my administration."

The governor said if there is to be any tax increases they will be raised over his veto "only by the General Assembly x x x."

McKeldin spoke at the Rotary Club's traditional fair week governors day luncheon.

Missing Child Found Trying To Sell Beer

GREENFIELD, Mass., Oct. 5 (AP) —Frantic mother reported three-year-old Andrea Roy missing from home today.

Police found the child trying to peddle six bottles of beer to a main street store for 20 cents.

A clerk offered 12 cents.

Andrea, too shrewd a trader for that, put the bottles back in her doll carriage and headed home.

THE PILLAR OF CLOUD and THE PILLAR OF FIRE

It happened three thousand years ago. A pillar of cloud and a pillar of fire were the symbols of Divine Guidance. By them, God led His chosen people through the wilderness.

Hardly the same thing as an atomic explosion . . . and yet, is it possible that this modern pillar of cloud and fire is leading men through a modern wilderness!

The fearful knowledge of the extent to which man has perfected the "art of destruction" is awakening the world to a new appreciation of the importance of spiritual guidance.

Next Sunday—World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

God again appears in a pillar of cloud and fire!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

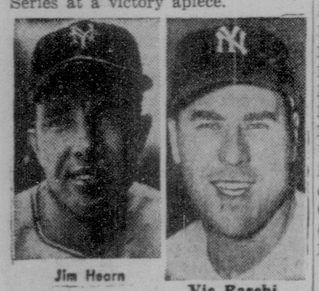
Lopat Fools Giants To Win Second Game

Monte Irvin Gets 3 Hits In 3-1 Game

Jim Hearn And Vic Raschi To Oppose Each Other Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The Yankees bounced back behind Easy Ed Lopat's superlative southpaw pitching today to cool the blazing Giants, 3 to 1, and square the World Series at a victory apiece.



Jim Hearn

Vic Raschi

The chunky lefthander, winner of 21 games during the season, dazzled the National League champions with them to five singles and keeping them far from home plate except in the seventh.

Casey Stengel's crew wrapped up the triumph with a pair of runs off Larry Jansen, Giants' righthander, in the first two chapters. The winning tally crossed on a solo blast into the right field stands by Joe Collins, Yanks first baseman, in the second. From there on the Giants were in a hopeless chase of Lopat's dipsy doodles.

Irvin Is Sizzling

Only Monte Irvin, the Giants' sizzling left fielder, found the bomber southpaw no puzzle. Monte rapped three clean singles into the outfield grass to go with the triple and three singles he blasted in yesterday's opener.

After the first two frames, Jansen fully matched Lopat's brilliance until he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh. From the time Collins connected for his 10th of the year with two out in the second, Jansen retired 13 straight batters. George Spencer, his relief, also sat the Bombers down in order in the seventh to run the string to 16 in a row before the American Leaguers added their final run in the eighth.

The game, for all the tight pitching, lacked some of the excitement of yesterday's tense battle and the crowd of 66,018 sat on its hands most of the warm, sunny afternoon.

Except for Irvin's long single to open the second inning, a two-out walk to Eddie Stanky in the third and a single into left field by Alvin Dark in the sixth, the southpaw had been impregnable going into the seventh.

Irvin led off with a smash past Lopat's glove into center field and Whitey Lockman followed with a shot into center off a 3 and 2 pitch.

May's Bunt Fails

Willie Mays, the young Negro centerfielder who has been in a sad batting slump, tried to advance the runners with a bunt, but Bobby Brown, Yank third sacker, pounced on Willie's effort and nailed Lockman at second. Irvin, however, reached third safely and the rally continued to flourish as Wes Westrum drew Lopat's second walk of the game.

Bill Rigney went up to hit for Hank Thompson. The bespectacled utility infielder came through with a long fly to right on which Irvin easily scored, but Ray Noble, husky Negro catcher batting for Jansen, fouled out to Larry Berra to close out the inning.

It looked as if the Yanks intended to bunt Jansen right out of the park when Mickey Mantle dragged his beauty down the first base line and Phil Rizzuto followed with another which he easily beat out.

Lockman tossed wildly to Eddie Stanky, who covered first on the play, and Mantle raced on to third.

Gil McDougald then blooped a single into short right to score Mantle.

Tomorrow the scene shifts to the nearby home of the Giants.

Leo Durocher will go with big Jim Hearn, the righthander who pitched such a great game against the Dodgers in the playoff opener at Ebbets Field on Monday. For the Yanks it will be Vic Raschi. Hearn has a season's record of 17-9, Raschi of 21-10.

Jansen Better Than Koslo, Yankees Say

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS)—Here is what the Yanks had to say after their 3-1 triumph over the Giants in the second game today.

Casey Stengel: "Well, that makes it a great series. We saw a great pitcher out there today. That feller Larry Jansen has everything — but Mickey Mantle and Phil Rizzuto caught him flatfooted at the start with those two drag bunts they beat out. They tried them on their own, too. I had nothing to do with it."

Phil Rizzuto: "Jansen is a thousand times better pitcher than that Koslo who beat us yesterday. Jansen was really rough. He had everything a great pitcher needs. I'd hate to see him very often but I'd like nothing better than to hit against Koslo every day of the year."

Ed Lopat, the winning pitcher: "I felt pretty sharp today. My control was real good so I fed them plenty of screw balls, high hard ones and change-ups."

According to the American Turf Register of 1830 there were 45 race courses in the United States at that time.

Steady Eddie

Durocher Backs Team's Players

Takes Blame Because Giant Rally Failed

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Leo Durocher shouldered the responsibility today for stopping Monte Irvin at second base on Whitey Lockman's hit in the Giants one threat in the second World Series game—while in another room Irvin said he stopped on his own initiative.

This is the new Durocher—a manager who said all along the Giants were "my kind of a team" and now at a critical point refused to blame any of his players.

"Let's say I held him up," said Durocher in response to questions after the game.

He didn't know that at almost the same moment Irvin was saying:

"I stopped because I was afraid Joe DiMaggio would throw me out."

Here was the setting. With the Giants trailing 2-0 in the top of the seventh, Irvin, first man up, singled through the center of the diamond. Lockman, the next batter, rapped a singel to left center. Irvin was away fast but after circling second, came back to the bag. He had already shown his speed in the series by stealing two bases in two games (including home), but he played it safe.

Had he gone on to third and been safe the stage would have been set for a Giant rally. Instead he advanced on Willie Mays' bunt and scored on Bill Rigney's fly, the only Giant run of the game.

Durocher came in for a thorough review of this inning in his private office but he took it all with a smile.

"How come Mays bunted?" he was asked.

"I ordered him to bunt. Yes, I was still playing for the big inning. I was guarding against the double play. No one was out. After all, I had a 20-year-old boy at the plate. He isn't a seasoned hitter."

Series Notes

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct5 (AP) — What happened to all the talk about the jackrabbit ball?

This could turn out to be a real pitchers' series at the rate it's going. Yesterday in the opener, Dave Koslo of the Giants gave up only seven hits. Today, Eddie Lopat yielded only five and the two Giants' hurlers, Larry Jansen and George Spencer were tapped for but six.

• — • — •

Possibly the fact that the screen usually in center field in the stadium was down and the batters had to face a background of white shirts had something to do with it.

• — • — •

Don't try to tell that to Monte Irvin of the Giants, though. The big Negro outfielder collected another three hits today to go with his four yesterday for a total of seven. The record is 12, set by several players.

• — • — •

At first, the Yanks thought Mickey Mantle might have fractured a bone in his right leg. But later, it was decided to treat the injured knee with ice packs instead of x-rays. He's probably out for good in this series, though. When he fell going after a fly ball, which Joe DiMaggio eventually caught, he didn't move a muscle on the ground. The alarmed DiMaggio immediately waved for the stretcher.

• — • — •

Bobby Thomson had a 16-game hitting streak going. But he couldn't do anything against Lopat's change-ups.

Beall, Barton Capture WMI League Openers

Braves Down Central 2-1; Flintstone Loses

Barton's Braves downed Central High's defending champions 2-1 and Beall blanked Flintstone 2-0 in the opening games of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League yesterday at Barton and Frostburg.

Central scored first in the Barton tilt when Thompson booted home a field goal in the initial quarter but Sonny Kyle's penalty boot knotted the count in the second stanza.

A pass from Harry Bly to Bob Kirk set up the winning counter in the final period and Kirk scored with about 8 minutes gone in the stanza.

Burner and Poland tallied Beall's singletons as the Frostburg team opened its WMI season with a victory after dropping a non-league tilt to Grantsville earlier in the week.

Outstanding players in the two tilts were McIntyre, Thompson and Kelly for Central, George Robertson, Sonny Kyle and Bob Kirk for Barton, Don Bell, Buddy Poland and G. Rafferty for Beall and Fletcher, T. Puffingerger and G. Mallow for Flintstone. The lineups:

RIDGELEY, W. Va., Oct. 5—Sparked by Sophomore Ernie Courrier who scored three touchdowns the Keyser High Golden Tornado scored its first victory in four starts this season by downing Ridgeley's Blackhawks 25-0 here today, in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

A fumble set up Keyser's first score in the initial quarter and Courrier took it over from the three. A 20-yard pass from Bill Raines to Joe Swisher highlighted a 31-yard march.

A pass from Raines to Jim Householder accounted for the winners' final score in the fourth period.

Neil Leary, substitute Keyser back was injured when clipped during the game and was admitted to Memorial Hospital, suffering from a back injury. The lineups:

LaSalle Seeks 2nd Victory In Altoona Game Tomorrow

Explorers To Play Second Sunday Tilt

Coach Phil Carolan's LaSalle High Explorers will be seeking their second victory of the current campaign when they travel to Altoona, Pa., tomorrow to do battle with powerful Altoona Catholic in an afternoon fray.

It will mark the secnd straight week the Explorers have been out of town and also the second Sunday contest for the Green Wave.

LaSalle dropped a 14-7 decision to St. Justin's of Pittsbburgh, Pa., last Sunday in a game in which the winning touchdown was made after the final whistle blew.

The Explorers also lost to another Pittsburgh eleven, St. Mary's of the Mount 13-6 here while their only victory is over St. Wendelin High, also of Pittsburgh.

Coach Carolan reports two of his gridders were injured in the St. Justin's game and will be out of this week's game. Earl McKenkie, quarterback, suffered a broken hand while tackle Charles Kienhofer pulled a ligament in his knee.

Mantle Suffered Sprained Knee

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (INS) — Mickey Mantle, fleet New York Yankee right fielder, suffered a badly sprained right knee today in the fifth inning of the second World Series game against the Giants.

Mantle, who was chasing a fly by Willie Mays, collapsed as Joe DiMaggio caught the ball. He was carried from the field.

By coincidence, Don Mueller, the Giants' right fielder also is out of the lineup with a sprained ankle, suffered a moment before the Giants won the National League pennant Wednesday.

ACCIDENT, Oct. 5—Coach Charley Strauss' Accident High booters captured their fourth straight Garrett County Soccer League game today by defeating Oakland 3-0 here.

Ray Ferguson, Dan Edgar and Harold Brant scored for the winners who piled up a 3-0 lead in the first half and then kept Oakland at bay the remainder of the game. Brant's tally came on a penalty kick.

Edgar and John Georg were outstanding for the winners, who have not lost a game in the circut, while Tasker was Oakland's best bet.

The loop leaders will play second place Grantsville in the top game Tuesday at Accident.

The Kitzmiller booters defeated Friendsville in another league game yesterday although the score was not reported. It was Friendsville's third straight loss. The lineups:

Irish Outclass Detroit, 40-6

DETROIT, Oct. 5 (AP) — Halfback John Petitbon streaked to three first period touchdowns on 85, 73 and 38-yard runs to lead the brash young men of Notre Dame to a 40 to 6 victory over outclassed Detroit tonight.

The 52,371 fans had their eyes on Notre Dame's promising freshmen and sophomores when Petitbon, a senior veteran, stole the show with an opening kickoff, 85-yard touchdown run.

Notre Dame Quarterback John Mazur pitched a 29-yard touchdown pass to End Jim Mutscheller in the second period. In the fourth, John Lattner intercepted a Detroit pass and skipped 32 yards for a score and Ralph Guglielmi bulled over from the one yard line for another.

Notre Dame tried its novel "I" formation a few times but otherwise kept its tricks under cover in the first night game in Irish history.

Lopat's Single Important Hit

Cinched Game, Yanks Lefthander Relates

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—"That was the big one," said Lefty Ed Lopat.

You mean the game, won today by the Yankees, 3-1, to tie the world series at one-one?

You mean the sparkling five-hit pitching performance that put a damper — temporarily, at least — on Leo Durocher's brash athletes from across the Harlem River?

"Naw, I mean that single of mine in the eighth inning that gave us our third run," said the sandy-haired southpaw from New York.

"I felt better about that hit than I did about my pitching. It was an insurance run. It kept the Giants from bunting on us in the ninth. It was a big one."

Lopat's slashing single scored pinch-runner Billy Martin from second base, and that plus a nice assortment of fast balls and curves gave Lopat his second world series victory.

The 21-game winner was the center of attention in the Yankee dressing room, where the baseball champions of the world took their victory in stride.

But out of the sweat and steam of the big room under the stadium arose a new and definite respect for the dashing, slashing New York Giants, champions of the National League.

"They're going to be rough," said Manager Casey Stengel, relaxing on a broad sofa in his office, half dressed, and puffing away on a cigarette.

"Those fellows play hard, good ball and we're going to have a whale of a series before we're through. They threw some mighty good pitching at us today. That fellow Jansen was hard to get along with."

Potomac State Is 12-0 Winner

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 5 (AP) —Despite a brilliant display of passing by Quarterback Boo Lincoln of the Newport News Apprentice School, Potomac State of Keyser, W. Va., rolled to a 12-0 victory here tonight, maintain its undefeated and unscored on record.

Both Potomac touchdowns came in the second quarter and the West Virginians spent most of the last half protecting the goal line from numerous Apprentice threats.

The visitors scored first on a 31-yard pass from Quarterback Dick Anderson to End Vern Wilson and scored again when Dick Roe intercepted a heave by Lincoln and ran it 34 yards. Score:

POTOMAC STATE ..... 0 12 0 0—12

Potomac Scoring: Touchdowns—Wilson, Poe.

Pep's License Revoked, Saddler Suspended By N. Y. Commissioner

Action Is Result Of Title Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Bob Christenberry, who was named boxing czar of New York ten days ago with orders to "clean up" the sport, showed he meant business today by revoking Willie Pep's license and indefinitely suspending Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler.

The new chairman of the state athletic commission handed out the drastic penalties for the roughhouse brawl the two staged in their fourth title meeting at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26. Both violated almost every rule in the book.

At the same time Christenberry suspended Charley Johnston, Saddler's manager, for 30 days and fined him $100 for yelling at Dr. Vincent Nardiello during the fight. Nardiello was the ringside physician. The commission took no action against Pep's manager, Lou Viscusi.

The 29-year old Pep, one of boxings' great little men and twice holder of the featherweight crown, appeared stunned when the penalty was announced by Christenberry.

"For how long? I expect to box again," he said.

"You can always come back to the commission," replied the chairman. "The door is not closed."

The action against both fighters is effective only in New York. The commission here is not affiliated with the National Boxing Association.

Oklahoma Meets Texas A & M In Top Grid Battle

Ohio State-Michigan State Also Headliner

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Oklahoma, the mythical national college football champion last year, has not been exactly overlooked this season but there are few experts who think the Sooners will repeat.

They could, though, and they make another stop in their quest for top honors before a crowd of about 40,000 at College Station, Tex. tomorrow night against Texas A and M.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners will be favored by 6½ points, but they will remember last year's game which they barely won in the closing seconds, 34-28. The Sooners currently are rated No. 4 in the country.

Tennessee Faces Duke

This is one of the several top games across the nation. In the Midwest, the big one is Ohio State-Michigan State; in the South, it's Tennessee-Duke; in the East, it's Navy-Princeton, and on the West Coast it's Washington - Southern California.

The Ohio State-Michigan State fracas could determine the national titlist for 1951. Both teams are loaded with talent, and both have had a close squeak. Ohio State just nosed out Southern Methodist last week 7-0. Michigan State started slowly, nipping Oregon State, 6-0 two weeks ago.

Tennessee, which according to the experts who voted in the Associated Press' pre-season poll, should be at the top of the heap at the close of the season, faces a toughie in Duke. The Blue Devils are shooting for the Southern Conference title which has been handed to Maryland.

If you were to go on the basis of what team has lost the most players, you'd have to pick Navy over Princeton. But the word is that Charlie Caldwell has another bunch of mighty men to throw at the opposition again this year, after being undefeated in '50.

Navy tied Yale, 7-all, last week, so if Princeton wins this one—at least on the basis of comparative scores—the Tigers ought to be capable of giving Cornell trouble for the Ivy League title. Cornell, the favorite, plays Syracuse in a non - league game.

Minnesota At California

Pappy Waldorf's mighty Bears of California will be watching the Washington - Southern California game with more than passing interest. The Huskies were rated the only team which might bean out the Bears for the Pacific Coast championship. The Southern California game will tell the story.

California will be playing host to Minnesota of the Big Ten. Northwestern, another Big Ten school, entertains Army, which in ordinary years probably would go back to the Plains with the Wildcats ears. Not this time, though.

The Big Ten race begins operations with Illinois playing Wisconsin and Purdue going against Iowa. In the Big Seven, Kansas State tangles with Nebraska and Kansas plays Colorado. Columbia meets Harvard and Yale tokes on Brown in the Ivy League.

Kentucky, beaten in its first two starts, tackles Georgia Tech and Southwest Conference champion Texas has a date with North Carolina.

Other games include: Pittsburgh at Indiana, Furman at South Carolina, VPI at Virginia, Richmond at Wake Forest, Washington & Lee at West Virginia, VMI at William and Mary, Citadel at Davidson.

Belmont Futurity Scheduled Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — The famed Belmont Futurity, world's richest race for two-year-olds, is on tap tomorrow at Belmont Park with the winner almost certain to be acclaimed the 1951 juvenile champion.

Fourteen speedy colts were entered for the $50,000-added classic, with the flashy quartet of Calumet Farm's Hill Gail, Greentree Stable's Tom Fool, Marlboro Stud's Jet Master, and Alfred Vanderbilt's Cousin heading the list.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 5—Moorefield's Yellowjackets scored game's only touchdown in the second period and then staved off several Romney threats to defeat the Pioneers 7-0 here today in a Potomac Valley Conefrence tilt.

Bob Myers plunged over from the one-yard line to cap a 55-yard drive in seven plays for the winners. Merle Barr returned a Romney punt to the Moorefield 45 to start the game-winning surge midway in the second stanza.

With Barr, Bob Wilson and Myers lugging the leather the Jackets rolled up four first downs. Myers made a 10-yard run to highlight the drive before going over from the one.

Romney threatened twice, once in the first quarter and again in the final canto but lost the ball both times deep in Yellowjacket territory.

In the first drive Hartman intercepted a Barr pass on the 50 and returned to Moorefield's 43. A pass from Payne to Hare for 19 yards sparked the resultant drive with the Pioneers making a first on the moorefield 2. The Jackets held and took over on downs on the seven.

The second march late in the fourth period again reached the Moorefield two but again the Jackets held. The two teams shared the PVC crown last year.

The victory was Moorefield's fourth of the year, against one loss. The loss was Romney's first. The lineups:

Westvaco Is Host To Moorefield Nine

Westvaco tossers will be host to Moorefield tomorrow at Memorial Baseball Park in Westernport in the second game of their playoff series. The Westernport nine won the opener from Moorefield last week and will seek a sweep of the series in tomorrow's tilt.

Game time will be 3:30 p. m. and Nichols or Raines is expected to hurl for the Pepermakers.

Shades of Ruth and Gehrig! Imagine the Yanks of old trying to score in the first inning with bunts. The '51 edition did, though, and until Casey Stengel's men scored their third run, it looked mighty big.

Sentinels Take Martinsburg By 28-7 Score

Fort Hill High's Sentinels registered another impressive victory last night at Fort Hill stadium with a 28-7 verdict over the Martinsburg High Bulldogs.

The first quarter was scoreless although the Sentinels threatened after the kickoff when Dick Beard broke loose for a 28-yard romp to the Martinsburg 27. But the Bulldogs held for downs and threatened themselves later, going to the Fort Hill 17, where a fourth down pass in the end zone was incomplete.

Fort Hill scored twice in the second period, driving 83 yards for the first six-pointer which Beard tallied on a 37-yard skirt of his right end.

Morris Recovers Fumble

The Sentinels then took a Martinsburg punt later in the stanza and drove 53 yards in seven plays for the second counter, Leonard White scoring from the 11.

Charles Morris recovered a Martinsburg fumble on the Fort Hill 27 to set up the third touchdown. Later Halfback Leonard White went over right tackle and dashed 35 yards to account for the six-pointer. Beard's kick gave the Sentinels a comfortable 21-0 lead.

In the waning minutes of the third quarter Fort Hill concluded its scoring. Quarterback Jim Farris, aided by a breakaway block by John Poling, ran the last 21 yards for the touchdown.

Martinsburg sandwiched a touchdown between the last two Sentinal scores. Don Netoskie ran 80 yards with the kickoff to score standing up and brought the 5,000 fans to their feet. Netoskie also added the point from placement.

At Frederick Beall High's Mountaineers went down to a thrilling 27-18 defeat at the hands of Coach Homer Brooks' Frederick High Cadets.

Frederick Scores First

Frederick scored first on a 19-yard pass but Beall went ahead 12-6 in the initial quarter. The Cadets added two more touchdowns in the second stanza to lead 20-12 at the close of three periods of play.

The Mounties tallied again on Miller's plunge from the two to make it 20-18 early in the final period but Frederick added the clinching touchdown moments later.

At Hagerstown Allegany High lost its second game of the season as a veteran Hub City eleven, which apparently has found itself after two bad games, downed the Campers 19-0. The lineups:

Bowling League To Open Sunday

Eight Teams Entered In City Dux Loop

An eight-team City Bowling League will open its 1951-52 season Sunday night.

Last season, the league had two six-team divisions but has been consolidated into a single unit for the coming campaign.

The first night schedule has Diamond at Eagles, Club vs. Pepsi-Cola at Gurley's, B&O at Savoy, and Savoy Juniors vs. Harbaugh's at Savoy.

After a 28-Sunday season, the Shaughnessy roll off and semi-finals will be contested April 20. The championship match has been set for April 27 and the season-concluding banquet will be held May 4.

Second Game Play-By-Play

FIRST INNING GIANTS—Stanky sent a slow roller to McDougald who threw him out. Rizzuto made a nice stop and throw to retire Dark. Woodling took Thomson's long fly. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIRST INNING YANKEES—Mantle bunted Jansen's first pitch past the mound and was credited with a single. Rizzuto beat out a bunt down the first base line and Mantle, who had stipped at second, continued to third when Lockman threw wildly past Stanky. McDougald singled scoring Mantle and sending Rizzuto to second. DiMaggio rapped sharply to Dark who started a double play, the shortstop to Stanky to Lockman with Rizzuto advancing to third. Berra struck out.
One run, three hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING GIANTS—Irvin drove a long single to left-center. Irvin stole second. It was his second stolen base of the series. Lockman hit back to Lopat who bluffed Irvin back to second, then threw to Collins to retire the batter. Brown stopped Mays hard shot and threw him out as Irvin was forced to hold second. Brown also scooped up Westrum's roller and threw to Collins for the putout.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING YANKEES—Woodling flied to Irvin. Brown bounced out. Collins lofted a towering home run into the lower right field stands to increase the Yankees' lead to 2-0. Lockman fielded Lopat's hopper and beat the pitcher to the bag.
One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING GIANTS—Thompson bounced out. Jansen raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. Stanky drew the game's first walk. Dark flied to Woodling.

THIRD INNING YANKEES—Mantle went down swinging. Rizzuto hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald hit to Irvin in short left. McDougald sent a hot liner to Thomson who plucked the ball off his shoetops.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING GIANTS—Thomson raised a soft fly to DiMaggio. McDougald gathered in Irvin's pop fly. Lockman grounded and was retired.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING YANKEES—DiMaggio went down swinging. Berra tapped over the pitcher's mound, but Dark came in fast to retire the runner with a quick underhand throw to Lockman. Mays got under Woodling's long fly in center.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING GIANTS—Mays flied to DiMaggio in right-center. Mantle, who also made a try for the ball, tripped and fell. The young rookie outfielder was borne back on a stretcher to the Yankee dugout. Hank Bauer replaced Mantle in right field for the Yankees. Westrum flied to Woodling. Lopat used only three pitches to make Thompson his first strikeout victim.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING YANKEES—Stanky moved in for Brown's hopper and tossed him out at first. Thomson leaned over into the field boxes behind third to make a nice catch of Collins' foul fly. Lopat looked at a wide sweeping curve for a third strike.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING GIANTS—Jansen popped to McDougald. Stanky tapped to Lopat who threw him out. Dark singled Thomson went out on a long drive to DiMaggio.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING YANKEES—Dark grabbed Bauer's hot shot past the mound and threw to Lockman for the out. Thomson made a fancy pickup of Rizzzuto's sharp grounder and threw him out. McDougald struck out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS—Irvin singled. Lockman lined a single over second and Irvin, who had headed for third, had to scamper back to second as DiMaggio came in fast to field the ball. Mays bunted down the third base line and Brown, with a fine throw to Rizzuto forced Lockman at second as Irvin moved to third. Westrum walked. Bill Rigney, a righthanded batter went in to hit for Thompson, a lefthanded swinger. Hank Schenz ran for Westrum. Rigney hit to Bauer in deep right-center, Irvin scoring after the catch, Mays raced to third and Schenz remained at first. Ray Noble was called in from the bullpen to bat for Jensen. Noble went out on a short pop foul to Berra.
One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING YANKEES—George Spencer, a righthander, went in to pitch; Clint Hartung went in to play right field, and Noble went behind the plate for the Giants. DiMaggio bounced to Thomson who threw him out. Berra grounded to Stanky who threw to Lockman for the putout. Dark fielded Woodling's high chopper and threw him out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS—Stanky popped to Collins. Dark raised a high fly to Woodling. Thomson tapped down to Brown whose throw to first was high but Collins made a gloved-hand catch to retire the batter.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING YANKEES—Brown ran for Brown. Collins sent a high chopper to Thomson. When Stanky, who was expecting a bunt was late covering second, Thomson turned and threw to Lockman to retire Collins at first. Martin reached second. Lopat singled scoring Martin. Bauer flied to Irvin. Rizzuto lifted a high fly to Mays.
One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS—Gerry Coleman went in to play second base as McDougald switched from second to third. Irvin singled, his third hit of the game and seventh in two days. Lockman bounced to McDougald who threw to Rizzuto for the force-out. McDougald made a nice pickup of Mays' hot bouncer and whipped to Coleman forcing Lockman. Hartung dribbled to Collins who threw to Lopat who covered first for the final putout.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Violators Fined

Guy V. Price, of near Swanton, was fined $101.75 by Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland after being found guilty of possessing deer meat in closed season. He was apprehended by Theodore Thoerig, district game warden.

Robert G. Price, 55, of Ridgeley, also was arrested the same day by Thoerig near Swanton for having a loaded high powered rifle in a pickup truck. He was fined $26.75 following a hearing before Magistrate C. S. Zeller, Grantsville.

Fines totaling $585 for violation of game laws in region No. 1, which comprises Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, have been paid during the past month, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

One hunter was committed to Oakland jail for 60 days for default of $100 fine when charged with having deer meat in his possession during closed season.

Minke said illegal deer killing is still the greatest problem of game wardens.

Mirror Of Your Mind

By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist

Do most men dread the idea of marriage?

Answer: Very much so, especially young men. Only after a man has grown old enough to begin to be lonely will he deliberately "look for a wife." If a younger man gets married, it is from some such motive as the fear of losing a particular girl whom he feels he cannot live without, and at best he is likely to go to the altar with a heart full of misgivings. Most of his fears are unconscious relics of his childhood and will die out once he has experienced the joys of having a home of his own. But a young man's jitters at the thought of marriage do not prove that his love is unreal or that he cannot be a satisfactory husband.

Is art the refuge of the maladjusted?

Answer: It can be, to judge from a study of occupational interests made by Don B. Feather of Michigan State College. A larger percentage of students regarded as maladjusted showed their major interests to be in the fields of social service, art, music and literature than chose any other group of subjects. The arts provided both an outlet for repressed emotions and an "escape from reality" which is not found in practical or scientific studies that continually keep you facing "cold facts." As for social service, having troubles of your own not only makes you more aware of other people's but tempts you to try to "work out your salvation" through them.

May severe pain cause neurosis?

Answer: It may serve as the "precipitating cause" of neurotic anxiety, especially with a person who already has a latent sense of insecurity. The more your security has depended on the childish feeling, "Nothing really bad can happen to me," the more something like an operation without anesthesia will upset you—above all if you feel it is someone's fault you had to suffer so much. That is because the main cause of primitive anxiety is fear of someone's personal malevolence, or desire to punish you. Pain is most nearly endurable when it is seen as the impersonal effect of natural causes which can be understood and corrected.

Fire Prevention To Get Stress Of Keyser Clubs

Daily Programs Planned Next Week

KEYSER, W. Va. — The service clubs of Keyser-Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and others—are planning special programs for the coming week which has been set aside nationally as "Fire Prevention Week."

At the regular weekly sessions of these organizations, fire prevention will be the theme at luncheons and dinners.

H. Carl Peters, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce, in speaking of the week's observance, said: "To realize the objectives set by President Truman in his proclamation and appeal to the nation that loss of life and property from fires must be reduced, the local fire prevention committee has been named for a special over-all service made up of representatives of every business and civic organization in Keyser and other Mineral County communities.

Sunday will be for any stressing point on the subject in the churches. On Monday it is hoped that merchants will cooperate fully to the extent of placing window and store displays on the subject, and through use of banners and streamers, Tuesday will be clean-up day for homes, manufacturing plants and stores. Wednesday will be cleanup day for the city, with yards, alleys, vacant lots, gutters and streets being cleaned. In this work, the Health and police departments may be of assistance. Thursday will be inspection day. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will assist wherever possible. Friday will be school fire prevention day and fire prevention will be featured in schools. Saturday will be review day.

WSCS Group Will Sponsor Bazaar In Piedmont Nov. 8

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — The annual bazaar sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be held in the recreation hall of Trinity Methodist Church, Thursday, November 8, according to Mrs. Eltin Gourley, president.

A turkey dinner, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond W. Reeves, will precede the bazaar.

Plans are now underway which are in charge of the following committees:

Mrs. Arthur Whitworth, Miss Ruth Michael and Mrs. James Wills, booths of fancy work, aprons, children clothing; Mrs. Harry F. Smith and Mrs. Rayl L. Wilt, flowers; Mrs. William Ravenscroft, Mrs. E. J. Roberts and Mrs. Lewis Harris, hankerchiefs.

Mrs. Louis G. Harley, food-cakes and pies; Mrs. George Nealis, Mrs. Herbert Dawson and Mrs. Lyman Beckner, candy; Mrs. John W. Fisher, Mrs. J. Norman Reeves and Mrs. George W. Daddysman, art and miscellaneous.

Legion Caravan Planned Sunday

KEYSER, W. Va.—American Legion posts of Eastern West Virginia will combine Sunday in forming a caravan that will travel from home post towns to Charles Town, where they will be guests of Jackson Perks Post, No. 17, at a gala afternoon gathering.

Joining with the others, will be Boyce-Houser Post, No. 41; Ladies Auxiliary of that post and Washington-Smith Post and that post's auxiliary, and the combined local group will, following assembly at 7:30 a. m., drive in cars along 220 to the junction of U. S. Route 50, where they will join other caravan groups headed eastward and continue on to Charles Town.

The Legionnaires of Boyce-Houser post will gather on the A & P parking lot on the Main Street Hill, and Washington-Smith post will group at the legion home in South Keyser, and from their different points move to the Junction of 220 and 50 route to join the main body.

"Freedom" Scrolls Are Signed At Lonaconing

LONACONING—"Join the Crusade for Freedom" scrolls were signed by over 600 pupils of the Central school in conjunction with the "Help Truth Fight Communism" crusade current in the country.

Contributions are sought by the parents mailing them to the "Crusade for Freedom" to help expand Radio Free Europe into a network of freedom stations.

Barton PTA Plans Fair

BARTON — Plans are nearing completion for the George's Creek Fair Friday evening, October 19, sponsored by the Barton High School Parent-Teachers Association.

Opening the entertainment will be a concert by the Citizens Band in front of the school building. Projects to be shown in the school auditorium by various rooms include an antique show; an exhibit of old pictures of championship basketball teams and classes of past years; a collection of pressed and mounted flowers; a display of handmade hooked and braided rugs; and a doll show.

An interesting scientific experiment is being planned by the science department. Other displays, exhibits and demonstrations are also scheduled. The fair is open to the public.

Frostburg College Recital Scheduled

FROSTBURG—Dr. Maurice Matteson, head of the music department of Frostburg State Teachers College, announces a two piano recital by Raymon Burrows and Anthony Landis Monday evening, October 8, 8:15 o'clock, in the college auditorium.

This is the first of a series of three musical events to be held at the college during the current scholastic year. The others will be a dance and vocal recital featuring Haydee Morini and Sarah Endich, to be held Tuesday evening, February 12, and the final event of the series will be held Friday evening, April 25, when the Virginia Orchestra will entertain. The first two attractions are free to the public.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 (INS)—I just love the idea of Charles Laughton playing the famous pirate, Captain Kidd, in "Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd." Charlie, who has wanted to do slapstick for a long time, will appear with Bud and Lou before he faces the camera as Henry VIII in "Young Bess" for MGM. What a contract!

Charles Laughton

The comics — Abbott and Costello — were jubilant today because Jack Warner had seen "Jack And The Beanstalk" and made a deal with them to release "Abbott And Costello Meet Captain Kidd," and probably some of their other comedies.

Eddie Sherman, who was with Bud and Lou so long, and from whom they parted once, made this deal, and now the boys know they should stick by Eddie always.

We're going to see Charleton Heston's wife, Lydia Clark, in "Los Alamos" at Paramount. Mrs. Heston, whose stage name is Lydia Clark, and whose last appearance on Broadway was in "Detective Story," made a test with her husband for "Come Back, Little Sheba."

She did it as a favor to Hal Wallis, and when Henry Hopper and other Paramount officials saw her they decided she should be in the movies—and she is.

Pierre La Mure, author of "Moulin Rouge," has taken off for New York to discuss the Broadway play adapted from this highly successful book.

Pierre's new book, "The Hand," will be brought out by Random House early next year, and it is very different from the life of Henri Toulouse Lautrec in "Moulin Rouge."

"The Hand" is very spiritual, and by "The Hand" Pierre means the hand of God. It is the life of Johann Sebastian Bach, and tells the story of finding Bach's famous composition based on the passion of our Lord, in a butcher shop after his death.

Pierre says he writes very slowly, but that the book is nearly finished now.

Vivian Kellems held court at Cobina Wright's house and everyone asked her questions. The valiant and gallant Vivian says she is not a tax authority. All she knows is that she does not believe in the withholding tax, and she is going to fight. She expects to get the names of ten million women enrolled in support of this cause.

She tells me the court returned the government fine levied against her for refusing to collect the withholding tax from her workers.

Congressman Donald Jackson and his wife were other interesting guests at Cobina's cocktail party. The congressman was here during the communism investigation.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Well, this is indeed a surprise: Elizabeth Taylor arrives in New York from London Sunday morning. Here everyone thought she was staying in England to be near Michael Wilding. She joins the "Movie Time, USA" expedition in Washington.

Bob Taylor gets into New York the 11th of this month via the Queen Elizabeth.

Leo Durocher promised Laraine Day if the Giants won the game on Wednesday he'd wear a toupee, at least for one day. (No pun intended.) Anyhow, a Hollywood hair stylist sent the hair piece to Mrs. Durocher.

The invitation from Nancy Valentine and Leslie Snyder for a bon voyage party tomorrow reads—the Maharani of Cooch-Behar. The girls are then off for India and the second wedding ceremony.

Jane Nigh again with Dan Dailey at Ciro's—and Elaine White with Bob Neal, CBS announcer and no relation to Tom.

Joe Pasternak wired Mert Wertheimer not to pass up Beverly Hudson as an entertainer. Said Joe, "She's terrif." So, Beverly is now a headliner at the Riverside Casino in Reno, and Eddie O'Dowd wires she is all Joe said.

Ella Logan, replete with a very short hair cut, dropped into see the Morrisons at the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you Monday.

North Branch Club Honors Maude Bean

The North Branch Homemakers Club held a farewell party in honor of Miss Maude A. Bean in conjunction with the monthly meeting, Thursday, at the North Branch Fire Hall.

During the business session a Nominating committee was named. It will select a president and treasurer. Members are Mrs. Clara Pollock, Mrs. Ethel Hymes and Mrs. Nellie Abbott. Mrs. Irene MacDonald told of her trip to the National Council of Homemakers Clubs in Lansing, Mich. Miss Bean gave suggestions for continuing club work after her resignation becomes effective the end of this month. A reading on the hymn, "Abide with Me," was given by Mrs. Asa Fresh.

A corsage of red rosebuds was presented to Miss Bean and refreshments were served, during a social hour. Fall flowers decorated the table, which was centered with a large white cake, with pink rosebuds decorating it.

Others attending were Mrs. Norman Monnett, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Zelda Valentine, Mrs. Clarence Whalen, Mrs. Carrie Johns, Mrs. Grace Tipton, Mrs. Marion Appel, Mrs. Irene Valentine, Mrs. Mildred Houck, Mrs. Chester Crabtree, Mrs. Lloyd Norris, Mrs. Rene Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Wilma Ginevan.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Crime Photographer, Meet Boston Blackie

There were a number of interesting lines in "Crime Photographer," the television version, the other night. One I cherish especially came from a reporter who, when queried as to why he wasn't on the scene of the crime, replied sheepishly: "Casey sent me back."

John Crosby

I never knew a photographer to order reporters around this way, but it doesn't surprise me about Casey. Casey isn't above ordering around cops, the district attorney and perhaps even the managing editor, though I've never seen him commit that act of lese majeste yet. Casey, in short, is quite a lot different from all the other photographers I ever heard of. As one cop remarked to him in the same: "You're a photographer — not a newspaperman." It's a remark that won't sit well with the rest of the newspaper photographers but it sums up Casey pretty accurately.

• — • — •

He isn't. Casey is the sort of roving avenger whose job on "The Morning Express" is a complete mystery to me. He carries a camera only occasionally and uses it almost never. "His appearance," it says here in a press release, "will be a departure from the slouch-matted, trench-coated lensman of the 'front page' school. He'll dress and, for the most part, behave like other people." Well, he dresses like other people—wears shoes and everything—but he hardly behaves like them, being required to be a lot more agile.

On this same program, a bullet intended for Judge Ferguson missed him by two inches. The would-be assassin escaped and when Casey got back to the office, the managing editor, who acts like a distraught Westbrook Pegler, exclaimed: "I'm disappointed in you, Casey." His disappointment, it appeared, stemmed from the fact that Casey had not captured the gunman. On "The Morning Express," it isn't enough to be on the score of the crime. You have to apprehend the criminal, manage the reporters and get pictures.

I don't think the Newspaper Guild would approve of this, unless the pay scales were rearranged substantially. "Crime Photographer" is the television version of a successful radio show which has roots in a couple of plays. In each new resurrection, the original idea gets watered down a little, corrupted a little more, and gradually pushed out of any resemblance to life around you, especially newspaper life.

• — • — •

To make up for some of its more blatant distortions, "Crime Photographer" likes to pull its stories out of the headlines as closely as possible. This one was concerned with crooked judges, crooked cops, crooked everybody. It sounded like the Staten Island waterfront at its worst. More than that, it resembled a domestic Iron Curtain wherein a man couldn't trust anyone in official position. As a dramatic device it's preposterous and, according to the Kefauver committee and the Gross testimony, only too true and more than a little disturbing.

Another succesful radio show that has been transformed recently to television, for reasons which escape he, is "Boston Blackie," a man whose occupation is even more puzzling than Casey's. "Enemy of those who make him an enemy! Fried of those who have no friends!" says the announcer in exclamatory prose at the outset of the show. Boston Blackie, in short, is just another Robin Hood, a man without visible means of support who gets the gunbutt on his noggin in defense of the litle girl the mob is after.

This enterprise is on film, and, while I have no exact information on the subject, it sounds like something that was made in Hollywood. It was brimful of such stirring dialogue as "Hey, what's going on in here?" or—and I prefer this—"It doesn't make sense—no fingerprints, everything locked up. How did the killer get out the door?" Its acting, direction and production were a series of over-powering cliches; its characters were stereotypes; and its general level of intelligence was about that of a grade B Charlie Chan.

PACIFY YOUR PARTNER

DID YOU ever make a very bad mistake in failing to play some ranking high card which should have been laid down when you were in the lead? Did you hope your partner wouldn't find out what a silly thing you had done? When the declarer finally claimed the last few remaining tricks, facing his cards, and you conceded them, your inattentive partner not objecting, did you then quickly throw yours in face-down, so he wouldn't notice your high card? If you got away with that, far be it from us to say you didn't deserve to.

George Alderton, one of Detroit's greatest players, who got into that grossly overbid contract, reported the result with great glee in the late evening after the close of the tournament session in which it developed. But he swore into silence the few to whom he confided.

West opened the Q of the diamonds which his double had obliged East to bid, the K winning. Already recipient of one gift trick, Mr. Alderton finessed the heart Q, felled the K with the A, then ran three more hearts, West discarding three spades and keeping only two. Noting that, the declarer scored the spade A and put West in with the K.

Thereupon West chose the club suit—not the A, but the 5, which the K won. The J and A of diamonds were scored, then finally the dummy's last two spades, which had been set up by West's discards. As those two spades were called from dummy, West tossed his two cards in face-down, so that East never noticed the club A.

"I guess six-odd was a lay-down, the way the cards lay," exclaimed East after the hand, and West, shamefacedly, but happily, remained silent.

Your Weekend Question

Have you ever played for a suit contract which required your protecting yourself against a 5-1 division of the missing six cards in a side suit? It not, can you construct one on which such play is absolutely necessary to make the contract?

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

B V F K F J Q P S B V J P U W S K F
A P N F D S W J P U L W L P S Z M A L C J B R
B V L P B S C L A U V — D S P U K F H F.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: FIRE AND PEOPLE DO IN THIS AGREE, THEY BOTH GOOD SERVANTS, BOTH ILL MASTERS BE.—GREVILLE.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Robert Fleek, who passed away four years ago, October 7, 1947.

October brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
You never will be forgotten
By the ones who loved you best.

Some say time heals aching hearts
But, no, it isn't true.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.

Mine Bureau Director Praises Kitzmiller Team

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, expressed high praise yesterday for the Kitzmiller area mine rescue team which won top honors in a national contest at Columbus, Ohio, this week.

"I was more than pleased with the outcome," said Powers. "The residents of Kitzmiller are to be complimented for having such an organized group in their community."

Powers was unable to attend the event because of illness but the bureau was represented by Dr. J. J. Rutledge, former director.

The bureau head said much of the credit for the victory goes to the trainers—Harry Buckley, district mine inspector; L. C. Hutson of the University of Maryland, and Fred Baker of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

In addition to the men who made the trip to Columbus 50 others from Kitzmiller, Shallmar and Vindex are being trained in rescue work.

The team was sponsored by the bureau, Kitzmiller locals of the United Mine Workers of America, and the Garrett Coal Corporation. The winning team was composed of Carl Schell, captain, Chester Evans, and Carl Paugh, all of the Garrett firm; Mervin Sims, Pritt Brothers Coal Company; Richard Sherwood, Wolf Den Coal Corporation; and Lee Hartman, Sugar Coal Company.

The Kitzmiller team was in competition with 14 other units from 10 states.

Stock Market Moves Back Up To Best Levels Of Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The stock market today moved back up to its best levels of the year.

One of the biggest spots of excitement during the day was caused by three stocks on two exchanges.

Molybdenum Corp. of America announced it has acquired control of a small tract of land in Eastern California near the Nevada border containing the world's largest deposits of 14 rare minerals used in a wide assortment of products. The company announced discovery of the field March 8.

Molybdenum jumped ahead 6¼ at 79⅞ with sales of 17,400 shares on the New York Curb Exchange.

At about the same time demand became exceedingly heavy for New Mexico and Arizona Land on the curb, and it closed up 5½ at 23⅝ with 24,500 shares traded.

Back on the big board, St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, which owns a controlling interest in New Mexico and Arizona Land, was the day's most active issue up 1⅛ at 30¾ with 55,300 shares traded.

Following Frisco Railroad at the top of the most active list were Armour & Co. up ⅝ at 12, United Cigar-Whelan up ¼ at 4⅜, Panhandle Producing and Refining up ½ at 9, National Power and Light up ⅛ at 2⅛, and Montana-Dakota Utilities up 3¼ at 25¾.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks with a 10-cent gain at $101.20 showed a 10-cent rise in each of its components, industrials, rails, and utilities.

There were 1,145 individual issues on the tape of which 508 were higher and 355 lower with 47 new highs and three new lows for the year.

The volume came to 2,070,000 shares as against 1,810,000 shares yesterday.

Saturday trading will be resumed tomorrow after a four-month summer recess. The market will be open from 10 a. m. to noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Strother Asks Better Tax Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners acted favorably yesterday on recommendation of W. A. Strother, tax collector who still has some accounts for 1950 to clear up.

The recommendations made by Strother pertain to a more satisfactory system of remitting collections and also in eliminating "dead accounts."

Strother noted he has always been prepared to turn over to the county collections on the first of each month but that before he could do so it has been necessary for the county to furnish him certification of charges.

The collector said that under the law remittances must be made to the state by the tenth of the month but that sometimes he has been unable to comply because certification did not reach him in time. He suggested that certification be made by the fifth of each month to allow the necessary time for preparing records.

Strother also called attention to assessments charged his account whereas property actually belongs to the state. He said that two years ago the State Forestry Department informed him it owned 30 properties on a list of 75 and that it has been necessary to obtain insolvencies.

He suggested that property belonging to the state should not be listed as being owned by individuals.

Students Enter Kenyon

Two students from the Cumberland area have begun classes at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, marking the beginning of Kenyon's 128th year.

Edward T. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rhodes of 319 Frederick Street, has enrolled as a freshman. He was graduated last June from Dunbar High School and Dunbar faculty scholarship.

Louis Willard Everstine, son of Aden Everstine of Ridgeley, W. Va. has enrolled as a sophomore.

According to Childcraft books, "reading to a child is a good way to help him acquire the vocabulary he will need to enjoy a richer and better life, both at home and at school."

Water May Be Hauled To School

Efforts are being made by the Allegany County Board of Education to secure the use of a 500-gallon tank truck to haul water to Oldtown School.

Joseph T. Downey, superintendent of maintenance for the Board of Education, said the water will be taken from a source near Oldtown. It will then be placed into the well furnishing the school's water. The latter well is low due to the drought.

The County Health Department has analyzed the supplemental water and declared it safe for drinking. However, Downey said a drip chlorinating system will be installed at the school's well, thereby assuring a double check on safety.

The maintenance superintendent said he is hopeful of initiating the project Monday.

Rent Controls Are Back In Ridgeley

Rent controls are coming back to Ridgeley.

That's the official word from Rent Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods. The action, taken at the request of the town's council and Rent Advisory Board, means that rent levels return to those in effect August 29, 1949, Woods said. That was the day before he removed Ridgeley's controls.

Woods explained that the time of the removal of controls, the need for homes appeared to be satisfied. Since that time a shortage has returned because of the Korean War and demolition of some rental units to make way for the flood control project.

Paint Bid Accepted

The bid of Charles F. Whitman and Herbert W. Cessna, local painting contractors, to apply three coats of white paint to the exterior of the County Infirmary was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The Whitman and Cessna bid was $3,270 for the work. The only other bid was more than $6,000 and was submitted by a Cresaptown man.

"Dope Cache" Proves To Be Plain Herbs

Experts Find 12 Pounds Was Weed

Narcotics agents told a Baltimore court yesterday the big seizure here September 21 of what was thought to be marijuana turned out to be herbs for cooking.

A 12-pound haul in Baltimore, according to an Associated Press dispatch, was real marijuana, however, and a Baltimore nephew of Robert B. Brant, 404 Pennsylvania Avenue, was sentenced to four years in the House of Correction for having it.

Brant, 52-year-old bottler at the Queen City Brewing Company here is under treatment at Spring Grove State Hospital. Prosecutors advised the court he has had a mental breakdown. The case against him was postponed.

Arrested During Sale

Baltimore detectives and narcotic agents arrested Brant and his nephew, 27-year-old John Nassrie, in the midst of selling the 12 pounds of marijuana to an undercover agent.

Brant and Nassrie drove up in a car to meet their customer at midnight on a street near Johns Hopkins Hospital.

They opened the trunk of their car to disclose a 50-pound lard can full of granulated marijuana. Detectives hiding nearby pounced on them.

Brant boasted, the officers said, that he knew where he could get another 100 pounds of the weed. A call to Cumberland sent police quickly to Brant's home in South End. Mrs. Brant directed the officers to a coal shed behind the house. She said she knew nothing of her husband's activities except that he was experimenting with herbs. The officers confiscated gallon jars, crocks, jelly glasses and a tobacco can full of dried plants in various phases of processing.

Retail Value $20,000

Officers testifying yesterday at the hearing for Nassrie said the marijuana seized in Baltimore would make enough cigarettes to retail for $20,000. Brant and Nassrie had offered to sell it for $2,500.

Nassrie, a cripple, told Judge Joseph Sherbow he expected to get $500 from the sale for an operation.

Nassrie pleaded guilty to charges of possessing and conspiracy to sell marijuana.

Prosecutors told the court Brant had gathered the weed from a stand that was found growing along the Potomac River near Cumberland this summer.

The other herbs seized at his home were taken to Baltimore for chemical tests, which showed they were not marijuana.

VICKY'S DREAM—These pupils of Mt. Royal School will present a demonstration lesson and recital in a play entitled "Vicky's Dream" as a feature of the afternoon session of the Piano Educators Conference today at West Side School. Vici Lynn Eackles, lying on the bed in the foreground, is dreaming. The other children represent fairies who appear in her dream. In the meantime other youngsters play piano selections which are woven into the story. In the group, left to right, are Sandy Feltner, Fayetta Kreger, Elizabeth Morrow, Vera McCullough, Judy Divine, at the piano; John Paul Hanna, Edith Ellen Storey, Gie Cobey and Beverly Bowie.

Father Jailed After Shooting Fracas At Home

George House, 64, Held In City Jail

A 64-year-old McCoole Hill man was in City Jail last night after police said he wounded his son and then shot it out with police who came to arrest him.

State Police listed him as George House, 64. They said he threatened his wife during an argument early last night.

Mrs. House ran to the home of a son, Leroy House, who lives about half a mile away. Mrs. House and her son drove back to her home.

When they arrived, police said House let loose three blasts from a repeating 12-gauge shotgun. One of the pellets struck the younger House in the forehead.

Neighbors called State Police, and Trooper T. M. Gilmore, who went to the scene, radioed a hurried call for assistance.

Sgt. Harry A. Holsinger, and Trooper First Class William F. Baker and Raymond P. McGuire sped to the scene, and found the House home dark.

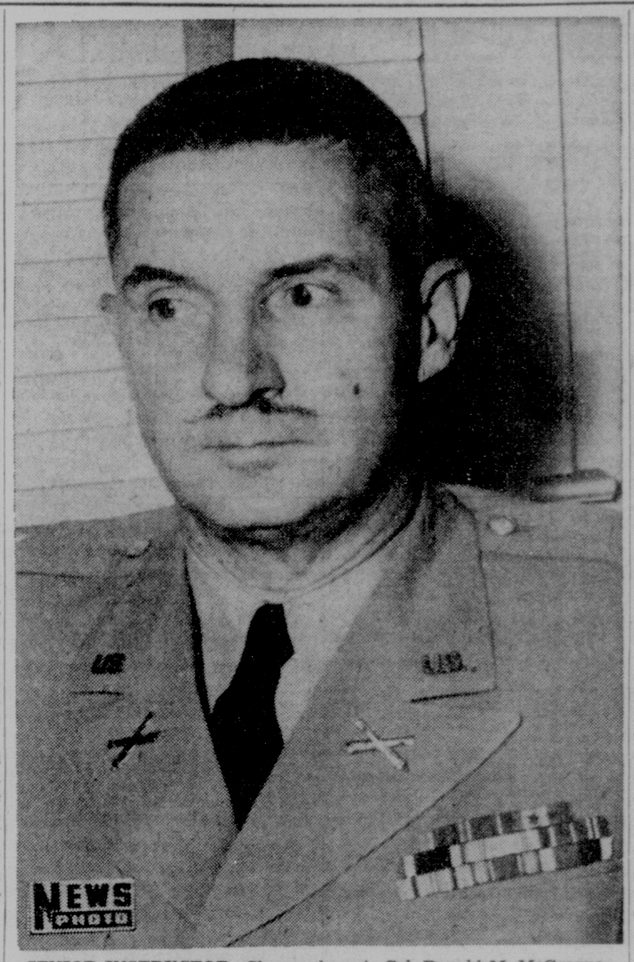
McGuire covered the front door while Holsinger and Baker crept to the rear and started to enter through an open window.

At the same time, House saw McGuire standing at the front door, shotgun in hand. He fired three rounds and dropped to the floor. His shots went wild.

McGuire returned his fire with two shots, but missed.

Bawer and Holsinger called to House to surrender. Five mintues later, he came out, hands in air.

Police said he would be questioned in the State's Attorney's Office today. His son is not believed to be seriously hurt.



SENIOR INSTRUCTOR—Shown above is Col. Donald M. McGrayne, senior Army instructor of Maryland Military District, as he attended the opening of the Army Administrative School here Wednesday. The school, which will be held on the third flood of the Footer Building every Wednesday night, includes 25 subjects and a typing course for non-typists. Teaching the administrative courses will be Sergeant First Class William A. Baker, assistant unit instructor, while the typing course will be taught by Lt. Thomas B. Cumiskey, commanding officer of the local postal unit. Major Grant E. Hoover, unit instructor, said the school which will continue for about six months is the first of its kind to be started in the area.

A total of $30,410.43 has been subscribed thus far in the current Cumberland Community Chest-United Defense (USO) Drive, according to the first report issued by campaign officials at a meeting yesterday at Central YMCA.

General Chairman George L. Buchanan said the amount is approximately 39 per cent of the set goal of $105,160 for this year.

In a breakdown of the various categories the following figures have been released: Advance Gifts, $23,500; Classified, $4,226.85; Residential, $1,684.88; Men's Sales Army, $646.50 and County, $352.20.

A breakdown of the Allegany County United Defense (USO) Drive is thus: Carlos-Midlothian, Blaine Willets, chairman, $37.70; Corriganville, Mrs. John Gaff, chairman, $15; Ellerslie, Mrs. William Powell, chairman, $49.50 and Frostburg, Ralph M. Race, chairman, $250.

The payroll deduction plan continuing at Eiler Chevrolet, Inc, shows a total of $624.80; First National Bank, $614.80 in payroll deduction plan instituted and Thompson Buick Corp., $395, deduction plan instituted.

Advance Gifts contributions show an amount of $10,000 from the Celanese Corporation of America, an increase of $2,000 over 1950; $4,500 from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, an increase of $1,000 and $9,000 from city contributions, the same as in 1950.

Partial reports from three of the larger companies of employes' contributions in the Classified Sections show $1,057.50 from the Celanese; $1,217 from Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; and $306 from the Western Maryland Railway.

The second report of the campaign, Chairman Buchanan announces, will be Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Busy Grand Jury Will Resume Action Monday

Murder Indictment Faces Gray Woman

After a two-day rest today and tomorrow, Allegany County's hard working grand jury will resume its investigations into county crime at 9:15 a. m. Monday.

Usually, the grand jury winds up its activities within a week. This term of Circuit Court, however, is so heavy that part of a second week will be needed.

Ends Fifth Day

The grand jury recessed about 4 p. m. yesterday after concluding its fifth day of probing into county lawlessness. Twenty-three of that body's indictments have been spread on the open court docket. There are others on which service has not been made by deputies in Sheriff Edward R. Muir's office.

No witnesses have been summoned beyond Monday, but because the grand jury is not keeping up to its schedule in hearing the evidence, the probing undoubtedly will continue past Monday, according to court attaches.

One of the latest indictments placed on the open docket was a murder charge docketed yesterday against Margaret Ellen Gray, 39, who allegedly shot and fatally wounded her common-law husband on August 2.

The grand jury also indicted Harry C. Jackson, this city, on a charge of statutory burglary. He is accused of stealing $15 from the G&W Lunch Room on Liberty Street.

Conference For Teachers Of Piano Set

Unusual Program Will Begin Today

Some 100 piano teachers, pupils, interested parents and college students will attend a novel Piano Educators Conference today and Monday in West Side School under auspices of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Consultant for the two-day conference will be Dr. Raymond Burrows of Teachers College of Columbia University and national chairman of the piano committee of the Music Educators National Conference.

During the morning session, beginning at 10 o'clock, Dr. Burrows will lecture on "General and Specific Objectives for the First Year of Piano Teaching." Another speaker this morning will be Dr. Glenn Gildersleeve, head of the Music Department, Madison College, Harrisburg, Va.

Jack Platt, supervisor of music education in county schools, will extend greetings to those attending the conference.

The afternoon session will get underway at 1:30 and will close around 4:30.

A morning session Monday will run from about 9:30 until noon. The final period will be from 1:30 until 3:30 Monday.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the conference will be the Music Faculty of Madison College and senior students of Bridgewater College in Virginia. A student delegation from Penn State College also is expected. Students from Frostburg State Teachers College and Potomac State School also will attend.

Firemen Outline Plans For Fire Prevention Week

Cumberland, Ridgeley Join In Observance

The fire departments of Cumberland and Ridgeley will combine their efforts in stressing fire prevention in this area next week.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, a program is being completed touching on every phase of prevention through education, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said yesterday that during the week all schools in the city will be visited and pupils will be shown how fires can result from carelessness.

The actual fire-fighting equipment will be used, Parker added, including the aerial ladder truck. Demonstrations with the life net are also planned.

Films are scheduled to be shown during the week at local theaters and safety films will be shown at schools. In South Cumberland a display is planned and pamphlets will be distributed throughout the city by local Boy Scout troops, Parker added.

Special talks will be given on fire prevention by local residents at various meetings of service clubs and other interested organizations. Ministers will also stress the program during services.

Cumberland and Ridgeley firemen hope to make residents fire-conscious during the week, Parker added.

An added feature this year will be a display in a storeroom on North Centre Street tagged "This is the grand prize for being careless."

A loudspeaker will be attached to one of the vehicles of the department, parked at Baltimore and Centre streets, and passersby will be asked if they are eligible for the prize.

Three New Draft Classifications Are Ordered

Lists Conscientious Objectors As 1-0

Local Selective Service officials received notification from Washington yesterday for three new types of classifications for registrants, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

Orders from Selective Service Headquarters listed the new classifications as 1-O, 1-W and 1-S. The new orders also eliminate the old classification of 4-E covering conscientious objectors.

Fahey explained that the new classification of 1-O is for conscientious objectors of draft age.

Under the new law a 1-O registrant will be processed for the Armed Forces physical examination when his order number is reached in sequence of birth date.

If physically fit, the 1-O registrant will be assigned to civilian work contributing to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest, Fahey said.

The classification of 1-W is for conscientious objectors who are married and have children.

The 1-S classification is for deferred students of draft age. This type is broken down into 1-S (H) and 1-S (C). The first classifies persons of draft age who are attending full-time courses of instruction in a high school while the latter is for college students.

Fahey also pointed out that registrants who are married and have children are obligated under the Selective Service Laws to notify their draft boards, since the boards are processing for induction married men without children.

It has been estimated that draft calls issued by the Defense Department for November and December will result in the induction of about 860 men from Maryland.

Westernport Man Gets One Year For Jail Walkout

Engineer Faces Hearing After Crossing Block

A Grafton, W. Va. railroader was taken into custody last night at 8:10 o'clock and will be given a hearing Tuesday morning in Police Court on charges of violating Section 32, Chapter 14, of the City Code.

L. H. Bragg, engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was arrested by City Detective Ernest M. Powell on a warrant issued by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick. Bragg is charged with blocking the Union Street Railroad Crossing yesterday morning while operating Engine No. 4476 of Train No. 29. He has been released on $10 bond pending the hearing.

A Westernport man's unscheduled leave from the Allegany County Jail ended up yesterday with a sentence of one year and six months in the Maryland House of Correction added to his unexpired two months in jail.

Patrick Stowell, who is the father of 17 children, was committed to jail September 12 to serve a 90-day sentence, 60 days for a drunken driving charge and 30 more for reckless driving.

After he was made a trusty at the jail, the sheriff's deputies learned he was not so trustworthy as a trusty. Stowell walked out Wednesday.

The next day he was picked up in his home town by Police Chief Burza Hanlin and Officer James Griffith of Westernport.

Police learned Stowell was at large when his wife, Mrs. Lottie Stowell, complained to Officer Griffith that he was breaking up the furniture at home.

At the time of his arrest, Stowell was driving a truck, and according to police was in no condition to operate a vehicle.

Magistrate Carl W. Schaffer yesterday afternoon sentenced Stowell to six months in the House of Correction on a drunken driving charge and to one year in the House of Correction for breaking out of jail.

City Traffic Report Given

The City Police Department is continuing its traffic enforcement program, with fines amounting to $253 collected for various driving violations, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long has announced.

Six motorists were taken into custody on charges of reckless driving for the period from September 1-27, while two drivers were arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. One motorist failed to stop after striking an unattended vehicle, Long reports, two were arrested for operating without licenses, and another was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to operate a vehicle.

Twelve motorists were charged with speeding by police in violation of City Ordinance 1530. Careless driving accounted for one arrest, and careless driving resulting in accidents brought two arrests.

Four motorists were fined for going through stop signs, one motorist on a traffic light violation and one for parking in a fire lane.

Oldtown Boys Will Attend FFA Convention

Will Leave Sunday For Kansas City

For the sixth consecutive year an outstanding Future Farmers of America member from Allegany County will attend the 24th annual National FFA Convention, James H. House, vocational agriculture supervisor for the county schools, disclosed yesterday.

The official delegate this year will be James Carder, a member of the Oldtown FFA chapter. Eldon Long, another member of the Oldtown chapter, also will attend, but not as an official delegate.

Carder and Long, accompanied by Supervisor House will leave Cumberland at 8:33 p. m. Sunday aboard the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Columbian for the week-long convention, which will be held in Kansas City.

A 30-member Maryland delegation will go to the convention on the same train. The county boys will arrive back in Keyser, W. Va., at 6:44 a. m. Saturday, October 13.

Teachers besides House who will go with the Maryland group are Palmer Hopkins of Harford County, who will take with him the three Harford County boys who won the state livestock judging contest; John Gee of Charles County, and Warren Smith of Frederick County.

Each year in selecting a county boy to attend the convention, officials consider leadership and participation in FFA activities, citizenship, farming program and ability to bring back to the other FFA boys a clear report of the convention proceedings. Other former delegates and the chapters they represented were 1946, Perry Shryock., Flintstone; 1947, James Bishop, Oldtown; 1948, John Miller, Fort Hill; 1949, Taylor Arnold, Beall, and 1950, James Smith, Flintstone.

Audit Shows Assets Of City Are At $17,045,322.85 Mark

The worth of this city as of June 30 was $17,045,322.85.

Liabilities were listed as $7,080,062.13, including outstanding bonds of $6,946,000 leaving reserves and surpluses totaling $9,965,260.72.

These figures were reported by Berman, Goldman, Leven and Company, CPA, who have submitted an audit of the books and records of the City of Cumberland for the fiscal year ending June 30, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The assets of the city include cash in banks and on hand, receivables, including liens and taxes, investments in the Sinking Fund and fixed assets, which include the value of streets, subways, bridges, sewer system, roads, dams, water lines, building and land, public building and land, flood protection work and other city-owned property.

The report shows that the city's surplus from taxation and general operation of the city on June 30 amounted to $85,174.89.

In the Water Department, the excess of income over expenditures totaled $9,100.57.

Gibson met with the Mayor and Council Thursday to present the report to the auditors.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said at that time that the books were in good shape and that the auditors made no recommendations on accounts or the method of keeping the records.

Formal adoption of the audit is slated at Monday morning's meeting of the Mayor and Council. The body is also slated to pass an order providing for payment of costs of the audit and to authorize printing of a number of copies of the financial report.
